(1) Any transportation development district may by resolution impose a transportation development district sales tax on all retail sales made in such transportation development district which are subject to taxation pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, except such transportation development district sales tax shall not apply to the sale or use of motor vehicles, trailers, boats or outboard motors nor to all sales of electricity or electrical current, water and gas, natural or artificial, nor to sales of service to telephone subscribers, either local or long distance. Such transportation development district sales tax may be imposed for any transportation development purpose designated by the transportation development district in its ballot of submission to its qualified voters, except that no resolution enacted pursuant to the authority granted by this section shall be effective unless:

(a) The board of directors of the transportation development district submits to the qualified voters of the transportation development district a proposal to authorize the board of directors of the transportation development district to impose or increase the levy of an existing tax pursuant to the provisions of this section; or

(b) The voters approved the question certified by the petition filed pursuant to subsection 5 of section 238.207 or subsection 6 of section 238.207.

If you are in favor of the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "YES". If you are opposed to the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "NO".

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the resolution and any amendments thereto shall be in effect. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the board of directors of the transportation development district shall have no power to impose the sales tax authorized by this section unless and until the board of directors of the transportation development district shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize it to impose the sales tax pursuant to the provisions of this section and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon.

(5) In order to permit sellers required to collect and report the sales tax authorized by this section to collect the amount required to be reported and remitted, but not to change the requirements of reporting or remitting tax or to serve as a levy of the tax, and in order to avoid fractions of pennies, the transportation development district may establish appropriate brackets which shall be used in the district imposing a tax pursuant to this section in lieu of those brackets provided in section 144.285, RSMo.

(6) All revenue received by a transportation development district from the tax authorized by this section which has been designated for a certain transportation development purpose shall be deposited in a special trust fund and shall be used solely for such designated purpose. Upon the expiration of the period of years approved by the qualified voters pursuant to subdivision (2) of this subsection or if the tax authorized by this section is repealed pursuant to subsection 6 of this section, all funds remaining in the special trust fund shall continue to be used solely for such designated transportation development purpose. Any funds in such special trust fund which are not needed for current expenditures may be invested by the board of directors in accordance with applicable laws relating to the investment of other transportation development district funds.

(7) The sales tax may be imposed in increments of one-eighth of one percent, up to a maximum of one percent on the receipts from the sale at retail of all tangible personal property or taxable services at retail within the transportation development district adopting such tax, if such property and services are subject to taxation by the state of Missouri pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, except such transportation development district sales tax shall not apply to the sale or use of motor vehicles, trailers, boats or outboard motors nor to public utilities. Any transportation development district sales tax imposed pursuant to this section shall be imposed at a rate that shall be uniform throughout the district.

2. The resolution imposing the sales tax pursuant to this section shall impose upon all sellers a tax for the privilege of engaging in the business of selling tangible personal property or rendering taxable services at retail to the extent and in the manner provided in sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, and the rules and regulations of the director of revenue issued pursuant thereto; except that the rate of the tax shall be the rate imposed by the resolution as the sales tax and the tax shall be reported and returned to and collected by the [transportation development district] department of revenue.

3. On and after the effective date of any tax imposed pursuant to this section, the [transportation development district] director of revenue shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement, and operation of the tax, and the director of revenue shall collect, in addition to all other sales taxes imposed by law, the additional tax authorized pursuant to this section. The tax imposed pursuant to this section and the sales taxes imposed pursuant to all other laws of the state of Missouri shall be collected together and reported upon such forms and [under] pursuant to such administrative rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the [transportation development district] director of revenue.

4. (2) All exemptions granted to agencies of government, organizations, persons and to the sale of certain articles and items of tangible personal property and taxable services pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, are hereby made applicable to the imposition and collection of the tax imposed by this section.

(3) The same sales tax permit, exemption certificate and retail certificate required by sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, for the administration and collection of the state sales tax shall satisfy the requirements of this section, and no additional permit or exemption certificate or retail certificate shall be required; except that the transportation development district may prescribe a form of exemption certificate for an exemption from the tax imposed by this section.

(4) All discounts allowed the retailer pursuant to the provisions of the state sales tax laws for the collection of and for payment of taxes pursuant to such laws are hereby allowed and made applicable to any taxes collected pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(5) The penalties provided in section 32.057, RSMo, and sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, for violation of those sections are hereby made applicable to violations of this section.

(6) For the purpose of a sales tax imposed by a resolution pursuant to this section, all retail sales except retail sales of motor vehicles shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business of the retailer unless the tangible personal property sold is delivered by the retailer or the retailer's agent to an out-of-state destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-state destination. In the event a retailer has more than one place of business in this state which participates in the sale, the sale shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business of the retailer where the initial order for the tangible personal property is taken, even though the order must be forwarded elsewhere for acceptance, approval of credit, shipment or billing. A sale by a retailer's employee shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business from which the employee works.

5. [All sales taxes collected by the transportation development district shall be deposited by the transportation development district in a special fund to be expended for the purposes authorized in this section. The transportation development district shall keep accurate records of the amount of money which was collected pursuant to this section, and the records shall be open to the inspection of officers of each transportation development district and the general public.] All sales taxes collected by the director of revenue pursuant to this section on behalf of any transportation development district, less one percent for the cost of collection, which shall be deposited in the state's general revenue fund after payment of premiums for surety bonds as provided in section 32.087, RSMo, shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the "Transportation Development District Sales Tax Fund". Moneys in the transportation development district sales tax fund shall not be deemed to be state funds and shall not be commingled with any funds of the state. All interest earned upon the balance in the transportation development district sales tax fund shall be deposited to the credit of the same fund. Any balance in the fund at the end of an appropriation period shall not be transferred to the general revenue fund and the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, shall not apply to the fund. The director of revenue shall keep accurate records of the amount of money which was collected in each transportation development district imposing a sales tax pursuant to this section, and the records shall be open to the inspection of officers of each transportation development district and the general public. Not later than the tenth day of each month, the director of revenue shall distribute all moneys deposited in such fund during the preceding month to the proper transportation development district.

6. The director of revenue may authorize the state treasurer to make refunds from the amounts credited to any transportation development district for erroneous payments and overpayments made, and may redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such districts. If any transportation development district repeals the tax authorized by this section, the transportation development district shall notify the director of revenue of the action at least ninety days prior to the effective date of the repeal and the director of revenue may order retention, for a period of one year, of two percent of the amount collected after receipt of such notice to cover possible refunds or overpayment of such tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of repeal of the tax authorized by this section in such transportation development district, the director of revenue shall remit the balance in the account to the transportation development district and close the account of that transportation development district. The director of revenue shall notify each transportation development district of each instance of any amount refunded or any check redeemed from receipts due the transportation development district.

[6.] 7. (1) No transportation development district imposing a sales tax pursuant to this section may repeal or amend such sales tax unless such repeal or amendment will not impair the district's ability to repay any liabilities which it has incurred, money which it has borrowed or revenue bonds, notes or other obligations which it has issued or which have been issued by the commission or any local transportation authority to finance any project or projects.

(2) Whenever the board of directors of any transportation development district in which a transportation development sales tax has been imposed in the manner provided by this section receives a petition, signed by ten percent of the qualified voters calling for an election to repeal such transportation development sales tax, the board of directors shall, if such repeal will not impair the district's ability to repay any liabilities which it has incurred, money which it has borrowed or revenue bonds, notes or other obligations which it has issued or which have been issued by the commission or any local transportation authority to finance any project or projects, submit to the qualified voters of such transportation development district a proposal to repeal the transportation development sales tax imposed pursuant to the provisions of this section. If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal to repeal the transportation development sales tax, then the resolution imposing the transportation development sales tax, along with any amendments thereto, is repealed. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting thereon are opposed to the proposal to repeal the transportation development sales tax, then the ordinance or resolution imposing the transportation development sales tax, along with any amendments thereto, shall remain in effect.

238.257. 1. At any time during the existence of a district, the board may submit to the voters of the district a proposition to increase [or decrease] the number of projects which it is authorized to complete.

2. If the board proposes to add one or more additional projects, the question shall be submitted in substantially the following form:

Shall the Transportation Development District fund or develop the following additional transportation project (or projects): (summarize the proposed project or projects), and have the power to fund the proposed project upon separate voter approval by any or all of the following methods: (here specifically describe the proposed funding methods and require each voter to approve or disapprove of each proposed funding method)?

3. If the board proposes to decrease the number of projects or discontinue a project, it may do so by majority vote of the board provided that it shall first obtain approval from the commission if the proposed project is intended to be merged into the state highways and transportation system under the commission's jurisdiction or approval from the local transportation authority if the proposed project is intended to be merged into a local transportation system under the local authority's jurisdiction. [If such approval is obtained, then the question shall be submitted to the district's voters in substantially the following form:

Shall the Transportation Development District discontinue development of the following transportation project: (summarize the transportation project), for the reason that (describe the reason why the transportation project cannot be completed as approved)?]

238.275. 1. Within six months after development and initial maintenance costs of its completed project have been paid, the district shall pursuant to contract transfer ownership and control of the project to the commission or a local transportation authority which shall be responsible for all future maintenance costs pursuant to contract. Such transfer may be made sooner with the consent of the recipient.

2. At such time as a district has completed its project and has transferred ownership of the project to the commission or other local transportation authority for maintenance, or the district has provided for the completion and funding of its project and has transferred ownership and control of the project to the commission or a local transportation authority under subsection 1 of this section, or at such time as the board determines that it is unable to complete its project due to lack of funding or for any other reason, the board shall submit for a vote in an election held throughout the district the question of whether the district should be abolished. The question shall be submitted in substantially the following form:

Shall the Transportation Development District be abolished?

5. The district board may not petition the circuit court for dissolution while there are outstanding claims or causes of action pending against the district, while the district liabilities exceed its assets, or while the district is insolvent, in receivership, or under the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court. Prior to petitioning the circuit court to abolish the district, the state auditor shall audit the district to determine the financial status of the district, and whether the district may be abolished under law.

6. While the district still exists, it shall continue to accrue all revenues to which it is entitled at law.

[5.] 7. Upon receipt of certification by the appropriate election authorities that the majority of those voting within the district have voted to abolish the district or upon receipt of an order of the circuit court that the district may be abolished, and if the state auditor has determined that the district's financial condition is such that it may be abolished pursuant to law, then the board shall:

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 539, Section 640.160, Page 6, Line 15, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“640.300. Nothing in sections 640.300 to 640.340 shall be interpreted to impede or excuse the disclosure of normal regulatory reporting requirements for environmental compliance.

640.305. As used in sections 640.300 to 640.340, the following terms shall mean:

(1) “Compliance management system” or “environmental management system”, a regulated entity’s documented systematic efforts, appropriate to the size and nature of its business, to prevent, detect, and correct noncompliance through all of the following:

(a) Compliance policies, standards, and procedures that identify how employees and agents are to meet the requirements of laws, regulations, permits, enforceable agreements, and other sources of authority for environmental requirements;

(b) Assignment of overall responsibility for overseeing compliance with policies, standards, and procedures, and assignment of specific responsibility for assuring compliance at each facility or operation;

(c) Mechanisms for systematically assuring that compliance policies, standards, and procedures are being carried out, including monitoring and auditing systems reasonably designed to detect and correct noncompliance, periodic evaluation of the overall performance of the compliance management system, or environmental management system, and a means for employees or agents to report noncompliance of environmental requirements without fear of retaliation;

(d) Efforts to communicate effectively the regulated entity’s standards and procedures to all employees and other agents;

(e) Appropriate incentives to managers and employees to perform in accordance with the compliance policies, standards, and procedures, including consistent enforcement through appropriate disciplinary mechanisms; and

(f) Procedures for the prompt and appropriate correction of any noncompliance, and any necessary modifications to the regulated entity’s compliance management system or environmental management system to prevent future noncompliance;

(2) “Department”, the department of natural resources;

(3) “Environmental audit”, a systematic, documented, periodic, and objective review by regulated entities of facility operations and practices related to meeting environmental requirements;

(4) “Environmental audit report”, the documented analysis, conclusions, and recommendations resulting from an environmental audit, but not including data obtained in or testimonial evidence concerning such audit;

(5) “Regulated entity”, any entity, including a federal, state, or municipal department or facility, which is regulated under federal or state environmental laws.

640.310. If a regulated entity satisfies all of the conditions of section 640.330, neither the department nor the attorney general may seek penalties, other than the recovery of the economic benefits gained through noncompliance with environmental requirements, for noncompliance of state, federal, or local laws, regulations, permits, or orders relating to environmental requirements discovered and disclosed by the entity. If a regulated entity satisfies all of the conditions of section 640.330, except for the periodic routine assessment through an environmental audit or compliance management system, the department may recover as penalties the economic benefits gained through noncompliance, and reduce any other penalties up to seventy-five percent for noncompliance of state or federal laws, regulations, permits, or orders relating to environmental requirements discovered and disclosed by the entity.

640.315. If a regulated entity establishes that it satisfies subdivisions (1) to (9) of section 640.330, the department shall not recommend to the attorney general or other prosecuting authority that criminal charges be brought against the disclosing entity, as long as the department determines that the noncompliance is not part of a pattern or practice that demonstrates or involves:

(1) A prevalent management philosophy or practice that conceals or condones environmental noncompliance; or

(2) High-level corporate officials’ or managers’ conscious involvement in, or willful blindness to, noncompliance of federal environmental law.

640.320. Regardless of whether the department recommends the regulated entity for criminal prosecution, the department may recommend for prosecution the criminal acts of individual managers or employees under existing policies guiding the exercise of enforcement discretion.

640.325. The department, the attorney general, and any prosecuting attorney shall not request or use an environmental audit report to initiate a civil or criminal investigation of an entity, including but not limited to the use of such report in routine inspections. If the department has an independent reason to believe that noncompliance has occurred, the department may seek any information relevant to identifying noncompliance or determining liability or extent of harm.

640.330. In order to receive the benefits of sections 640.310 to 640.325, owners and operators of facilities regulated under state, federal, regional, or local laws, ordinances, regulations, permits, or orders shall comply with the following:

(1) The noncompliance was discovered through:

(a) An environmental audit; or

(b) A compliance management system, reflecting the regulated entity’s due diligence in preventing, detecting, and correcting noncompliance. The regulated entity shall provide accurate and complete documentation to the department as to how its compliance management system meets the criteria or due diligence and how the regulated entity discovered the noncompliance through its compliance management system. The department may require the registered entity to make available to the public a description of its compliance management system;

(2) The noncompliance was discovered voluntarily and not through a legally mandated monitoring or sampling requirement prescribed by statute, regulation, permit, judicial, or administrative order, or consent agreement. For example, sections 640.310 to 640.325, do not apply to:

(a) Emissions noncompliance detected through a continuous emissions monitor, or alternative monitor established in a permit, regulation, order, or other instrument, in which any such monitoring is required;

(b) Noncompliance of National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System discharge limits detected through required sampling or monitoring; and

(c) Noncompliance discovered through a compliance audit required to be performed by the terms of a consent order or settlement agreement, unless the audit is a component of agreement terms to implement a comprehensive environmental management system;

(3) The regulated entity fully discloses the specific noncompliance in writing to the department within twenty-one days, or such shorter time period as may be required by law, after the entity discovers that the noncompliance has, or may have, occurred. The time at which the entity discovers that a noncompliance has, or may have, occurred begins when any officer, director, employee, or agent of the facility has an objectively reasonable basis for believing that a noncompliance has, or may have, occurred;

(4) The regulated entity discovers and discloses the potential noncompliance to the department prior to:

(a) The commencement of a federal, state, or local department inspection or investigation, or the issuance by such department of an information request to the registered entity, in which the department determines that the facility did not know that it was under civil investigation, and the department determines that the entity is otherwise acting in good faith, in which case the department is authorized to reduce or waive civil penalties in accordance with section 640.310;

(b) Notice of a citizen suit;

(c) The filing of a complaint by a third party;

(d) The reporting of the noncompliance to the department or other governmental agency by a whistle-blower employee and not be authorized to speak on behalf of the regulated entity; or

(e) Imminent discovery of the noncompliance by a regulatory department or agency;

(5) The regulated entity shall correct the noncompliance within sixty calendar days from the date of discovery, or such shorter time period as may be required by law, certifying in writing that the noncompliance has occurred and taking appropriate measures as determined by the department to remedy any environmental or human harm due to the noncompliance. The department retains the authority to order an entity to correct a noncompliance within a specific time period shorter than sixty days whenever correction in such shorter time period is necessary to protect public health and the environment. If more than sixty days is needed to correct the noncompliance, the regulated entity shall so request additional time from the department in writing prior to the expiration of the sixty-day period. The Missouri department of natural resources will approve or deny the request before the expiration of the sixty-day period. If the department approves additional time, the department may require a regulated entity to enter into a publicly available written agreement, administrative consent order, or judicial consent decree as a condition for obtaining relief under sections 640.310 to 640.325, in particular where compliance or remedial measures are complex or a lengthy schedule for attaining and maintaining compliance or remediating harm is required;

(6) The regulated entity shall agree in writing or other appropriate order to take steps acceptable to the director to prevent a recurrence of the noncompliance, including improvements to its environmental auditing or compliance management system;

(7) The specific noncompliance, or a closely related noncompliance, has not occurred within the previous three years at the same facility and has not occurred within the past five years as part of a pattern at multiple facilities owned or operated by the same entity. For the purposes of this section, noncompliance includes:

(a) Failure to comply with any federal, state, or local environmental law identified in a judicial or administrative order, consent agreement or order, complaint, or notice of noncompliance, conviction, or plea agreement; or

(b) Any act or omission for which the regulated entity has previously received penalty mitigation from the department or another state or local department;

(8) The noncompliance is not one which:

(a) Resulted in actual harm, or may have presented an imminent and substantial endangerment, to human health or the environment; or

(b) Violates the specific terms of any judicial or administrative order or consent agreement; and

(9) The regulated entity cooperates as requested by the department and provides such information as is necessary and requested by the department to determine applicability of sections 640.310 to 640.325.

640.335. The department shall make available to the public the terms and conditions of and supporting documentation demonstrating any compliance agreement reached under sections 640.310 to 640.325, including the nature of the noncompliance, the remedy, and the schedule for returning to compliance.

640.340. Nothing in sections 640.300 to 640.335 shall prevent a private party from bringing a cause of action, where otherwise permitted under the law, against an entity whose noncompliance with any relevant environmental law has caused damage to such private party.

640.345. The department shall not disclose from any audit report information relating to scientific and technological innovations in which the owner has a proprietary interest of any information which is otherwise protected from disclosure by law.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 6

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 539, Section 644.036, Page 8, Line 64 by inserting immediately after all of said section and line the following:

“644.051. 1. It is unlawful for any person:

(1) To cause pollution of any waters of the state or to place or cause or permit to be placed any water contaminant in a location where it is reasonably certain to cause pollution of any waters of the state;

(2) To discharge any water contaminants into any waters of the state which reduce the quality of such waters below the water quality standards established by the commission;

(3) To violate any pretreatment and toxic material control regulations, or to discharge any water contaminants into any waters of the state which exceed effluent regulations or permit provisions as established by the commission or required by any federal water pollution control act;

(4) To discharge any radiological, chemical, or biological warfare agent or high-level radioactive waste into the waters of the state.

2. It shall be unlawful for any person to build, erect, alter, replace, operate, use or maintain any water contaminant or point source, including but not limited to the land application of any water contaminant from an industrial process, in this state that is subject to standards, rules or regulations promulgated pursuant to the provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141 unless such person holds a permit from the commission, subject to such exceptions as the commission may prescribe by rule or regulation. A permit issued pursuant to this chapter is required for any land application of any water contaminant from an industrial process unless exempted by the commission by rule prior to August 28, 2009. If the department determines a previously exempted person may violate subpart 1 above, the department may, upon notice to such person, rescind such exemption. However, no permit shall be required of any person for any emission into publicly owned treatment facilities or into publicly owned sewer systems tributary to publicly owned treatment works, unless the department determines such a permit is necessary to protect human health, public welfare or the environment. As used in this subsection, the term “industrial process” does not include concentrated animal feeding operations.

3. Every proposed water contaminant or point source which, when constructed or installed or established, will be subject to any federal water pollution control act or sections 644.006 to 644.141 or regulations promulgated pursuant to the provisions of such act shall make application to the director for a permit at least thirty days prior to the initiation of construction or installation or establishment. Every water contaminant or point source in existence when regulations or sections 644.006 to 644.141 become effective shall make application to the director for a permit within sixty days after the regulations or sections 644.006 to 644.141 become effective, whichever shall be earlier. The director shall promptly investigate each application, which investigation shall include such hearings and notice, and consideration of such comments and recommendations as required by sections 644.006 to 644.141 and any federal water pollution control act. If the director determines that the source meets or will meet the requirements of sections 644.006 to 644.141 and the regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, the director shall issue a permit with such conditions as he or she deems necessary to ensure that the source will meet the requirements of sections 644.006 to 644.141 and any federal water pollution control act as it applies to sources in this state. If the director determines that the source does not meet or will not meet the requirements of either act and the regulations pursuant thereto, the director shall deny the permit pursuant to the applicable act and issue any notices required by sections 644.006 to 644.141 and any federal water pollution control act.

4. Before issuing a permit to build or enlarge a water contaminant or point source or reissuing any permit, the director shall issue such notices, conduct such hearings, and consider such factors, comments and recommendations as required by sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any federal water pollution control act. The director shall determine if any state or any provisions of any federal water pollution control act the state is required to enforce, any state or federal effluent limitations or regulations, water quality-related effluent limitations, national standards of performance, toxic and pretreatment standards, or water quality standards which apply to the source, or any such standards in the vicinity of the source, are being exceeded, and shall determine the impact on such water quality standards from the source. The director, in order to effectuate the purposes of sections 644.006 to 644.141, shall deny a permit if the source will violate any such acts, regulations, limitations or standards or will appreciably affect the water quality standards or the water quality standards are being substantially exceeded, unless the permit is issued with such conditions as to make the source comply with such requirements within an acceptable time schedule. Prior to the development or renewal of a general permit or permit by rule, for aquaculture, the director shall convene a meeting or meetings of permit holders and applicants to evaluate the impacts of permits and to discuss any terms and conditions that may be necessary to protect waters of the state. Following the discussions, the director shall finalize a draft permit that considers the comments of the meeting participants and post the draft permit on notice for public comment. The director shall concurrently post with the draft permit an explanation of the draft permit and shall identify types of facilities which are subject to the permit conditions. Affected public or applicants for new general permits, renewed general permits or permits by rule may request a hearing with respect to the new requirements in accordance with this section. If a request for a hearing is received, the commission shall hold a hearing to receive comments on issues of significant technical merit and concerns related to the responsibilities of the Missouri clean water law. The commission shall conduct such hearings in accordance with this section. After consideration of such comments, a final action on the permit shall be rendered. The time between the date of the hearing request and the hearing itself shall not be counted as time elapsed pursuant to subdivision (1) of subsection 13 of this section.

5. The director shall grant or deny the permit within sixty days after all requirements of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act concerning issuance of permits have been satisfied unless the application does not require any permit pursuant to any federal water pollution control act. The director or the commission may require the applicant to provide and maintain such facilities or to conduct such tests and monitor effluents as necessary to determine the nature, extent, quantity or degree of water contaminant discharged or released from the source, establish and maintain records and make reports regarding such determination.

6. The director shall promptly notify the applicant in writing of his or her action and if the permit is denied state the reasons therefor. The applicant may appeal to the commission from the denial of a permit or from any condition in any permit by filing notice of appeal with the commission within thirty days of the notice of denial or issuance of the permit. The commission shall set the matter for hearing not less than thirty days after the notice of appeal is filed. In no event shall a permit constitute permission to violate the law or any standard, rule or regulation promulgated pursuant thereto.

7. In any hearing held pursuant to this section the burden of proof is on the applicant for a permit. Any decision of the commission made pursuant to a hearing held pursuant to this section is subject to judicial review as provided in section 644.071.

8. In any event, no permit issued pursuant to this section shall be issued if properly objected to by the federal government or any agency authorized to object pursuant to any federal water pollution control act unless the application does not require any permit pursuant to any federal water pollution control act.

9. Unless a site-specific permit is requested by the applicant, aquaculture facilities shall be governed by a general permit issued pursuant to this section with a fee not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars pursuant to subdivision (5) of subsection 6 of section 644.052. However, any aquaculture facility which materially violates the conditions and requirements of such permit may be required to obtain a site-specific permit.

10. No manufacturing or processing plant or operating location shall be required to pay more than one operating fee. Operating permits shall be issued for a period not to exceed five years after date of issuance, except that general permits shall be issued for a five-year period, and also except that neither a construction nor an annual permit shall be required for a single residence's waste treatment facilities. Applications for renewal of an operating permit shall be filed at least one hundred eighty days prior to the expiration of the existing permit.

11. Every permit issued to municipal or any publicly owned treatment works or facility shall require the permittee to provide the clean water commission with adequate notice of any substantial new introductions of water contaminants or pollutants into such works or facility from any source for which such notice is required by sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any federal water pollution control act. Such permit shall also require the permittee to notify the clean water commission of any substantial change in volume or character of water contaminants or pollutants being introduced into its treatment works or facility by a source which was introducing water contaminants or pollutants into its works at the time of issuance of the permit. Notice must describe the quality and quantity of effluent being introduced or to be introduced into such works or facility by a source which was introducing water contaminants or pollutants into its works at the time of issuance of the permit. Notice must describe the quality and quantity of effluent being introduced or to be introduced into such works or facility and the anticipated impact of such introduction on the quality or quantity of effluent to be released from such works or facility into waters of the state.

12. The director or the commission may require the filing or posting of a bond as a condition for the issuance of permits for construction of temporary or future water treatment facilities or facilities that utilize innovative technology for wastewater treatment in an amount determined by the commission to be sufficient to ensure compliance with all provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141, and any rules or regulations of the commission and any condition as to such construction in the permit. For the purposes of this section, "innovative technology for wastewater treatment" shall mean a completely new and generally unproven technology in the type or method of its application that bench testing or theory suggest has environmental, efficiency, and cost benefits beyond the standard technologies. No bond shall be required for designs approved by any federal agency or environmental regulatory agency of another state. The bond shall be signed by the applicant as principal, and by a corporate surety licensed to do business in the state of Missouri and approved by the commission. The bond shall remain in effect until the terms and conditions of the permit are met and the provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141 and rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto are complied with.

13. (1) The department shall issue or deny applications for construction and site-specific operating permits received after January 1, 2001, within one hundred eighty days of the department's receipt of an application. For general construction and operating permit applications received after January 1, 2001, that do not require a public participation process, the department shall issue or deny the requested permits within sixty days of the department's receipt of an application.

(2) If the department fails to issue or deny with good cause a construction or operating permit application within the time frames established in subdivision (1) of this subsection, the department shall refund the full amount of the initial application fee within forty-five days of failure to meet the established time frame. If the department fails to refund the application fee within forty-five days, the refund amount shall accrue interest at a rate established pursuant to section 32.065, RSMo.

(3) Permit fee disputes may be appealed to the commission within thirty days of the date established in subdivision (2) of this subsection. If the applicant prevails in a permit fee dispute appealed to the commission, the commission may order the director to refund the applicant's permit fee plus interest and reasonable attorney's fees as provided in sections 536.085 and 536.087, RSMo. A refund of the initial application or annual fee does not waive the applicant's responsibility to pay any annual fees due each year following issuance of a permit.

(4) No later than December 31, 2001, the commission shall promulgate regulations defining shorter review time periods than the time frames established in subdivision (1) of this subsection, when appropriate, for different classes of construction and operating permits. In no case shall commission regulations adopt permit review times that exceed the time frames established in subdivision (1) of this subsection. The department's failure to comply with the commission's permit review time periods shall result in a refund of said permit fees as set forth in subdivision (2) of this subsection. On a semiannual basis, the department shall submit to the commission a report which describes the different classes of permits and reports on the number of days it took the department to issue each permit from the date of receipt of the application and show averages for each different class of permits.

(5) During the department's technical review of the application, the department may request the applicant submit supplemental or additional information necessary for adequate permit review. The department's technical review letter shall contain a sufficient description of the type of additional information needed to comply with the application requirements.

(6) Nothing in this subsection shall be interpreted to mean that inaction on a permit application shall be grounds to violate any provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any rules promulgated pursuant to sections 644.006 to 644.141.

14. The department shall respond to all requests for individual certification under Section 401 of the Federal Clean Water Act within the lesser of sixty days or the allowed response period established pursuant to applicable federal regulations without request for an extension period unless such extension is determined by the commission to be necessary to evaluate significant impacts on water quality standards and the commission establishes a timetable for completion of such evaluation in a period of no more than one hundred eighty days.

15. All permit fees generated pursuant to this chapter shall not be used for the development or expansion of total maximum daily loads studies on either the Missouri or Mississippi rivers.”; and

4. The eligible financial institution shall forward to the state treasurer a linked deposit loan package, in the form and manner as prescribed by the state treasurer. The package shall include such information as required by the state treasurer, including the amount of each loan requested. The institution shall certify that each applicant is an eligible multitenant development enterprise, eligible farming operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system, and shall, for each eligible multitenant development enterprise, eligible farming operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system, certify the present borrowing rate applicable.

5. The eligible lending institution shall be responsible for determining if a student borrower is an eligible student borrower. A student borrower shall be eligible for an initial or renewal reduced-rate loan only if, at the time of the application for the loan, the student is a citizen or permanent resident of the United States, a resident of the state of Missouri as defined by the coordinating board for higher education, is enrolled or has been accepted for enrollment in an eligible higher education institution, and establishes that the student has financial need. In considering which eligible student borrowers may receive reduced-rate loans, the eligible lending institution may give priority to those eligible student borrowers whose income, or whose family income, if the eligible student borrower is a dependent, is such that the eligible student borrower does not qualify for need-based student financial aid pursuant to 20 U.S.C. 1078, as amended (the Higher Education Amendments of 1986). The eligible lending institution shall require the eligible student borrower to document that the student has applied for and has obtained all need-based student financial aid for which the student is eligible prior to application for a reduced-rate loan pursuant to this section. In no case shall the combination of all financial aid awarded to any student in any particular enrollment period exceed the total cost of attendance at the institution in which the student is enrolled. No eligible lending institution shall charge any additional fees, including but not limited to an origination, service or insurance fee on any loan agreement under the provisions of sections 30.750 to 30.765.

6. The eligible lending institution making an initial loan to an eligible student borrower may make a renewal loan or loans to the student. The total of such reduced-rate loans from eligible lending institutions made pursuant to this section to any individual student shall not exceed the cumulative totals established by 20 U.S.C. 1078, as amended. An eligible student borrower shall certify on his or her loan application that the reduced rate loan shall be used exclusively to pay the costs of tuition, incidental fees, books and academic supplies, room and board and other fees directly related to enrollment in an eligible higher education institution. The eligible lending institution shall make the loan payable to the eligible student borrower and the eligible higher education institution as co-payees. The method of repayment of the loan shall be the same as for repayment of loans made pursuant to sections 173.095 to 173.186, RSMo.

7. Beginning August 28, 2005, in considering which eligible multitenant development enterprise, eligible farming operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system should receive reduced-rate loans, the eligible lending institution shall give priority to an eligible multitenant enterprise, eligible farming operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system that has not previously received a reduced-rate loan through the linked deposit program. However, nothing shall prohibit an eligible lending institution from making a reduced-rate loan to any entity that previously has received such a loan, if such entity otherwise qualifies for such a reduced-rate loan.

30.758. 1. The state treasurer may accept or reject a linked deposit loan package or any portion thereof.

2. The state treasurer shall make a good faith effort to ensure that the linked deposits are placed with eligible lending institutions to make linked deposit loans to minority- or female-owned eligible multitenant enterprises, eligible farming operations, eligible alternative energy operations, eligible alternative energy consumers, eligible locally owned businesses, eligible small businesses, eligible job enhancement businesses, eligible marketing enterprises, eligible residential property developers, eligible residential property owners, eligible governmental entities, eligible agribusinesses, eligible beginning farmers, eligible livestock operations, eligible student borrowers, eligible facility borrowers, or eligible water supply systems. Results of such effort shall be included in the linked deposit review committee's annual report to the governor.

3. Upon acceptance of the linked deposit loan package or any portion thereof, the state treasurer may place linked deposits with the eligible lending institution as follows: when market rates are five percent or above, the state treasurer shall reduce the market rate by up to three percentage points to obtain the linked deposit rate; when market rates are less than five percent, the state treasurer shall reduce the market rate by up to sixty percent to obtain the linked deposit rate, provided that the linked deposit rate is not below one percent. All linked deposit rates are determined and calculated by the state treasurer. When necessary, the treasurer may place linked deposits prior to acceptance of a linked deposit loan package.

4. The eligible lending institution shall enter into a deposit agreement with the state treasurer, which shall include requirements necessary to carry out the purposes of sections 30.750 to 30.767. The deposit agreement shall specify the length of time for which the lending institution will lend funds upon receiving a linked deposit, and the original deposit plus renewals shall not exceed five years, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. The agreement shall also include provisions for the linked deposit of a linked deposit for an eligible facility borrower, eligible multitenant enterprise, eligible farming operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower or job enhancement business. Interest shall be paid at the times determined by the state treasurer.

5. The period of time for which such linked deposit is placed with an eligible lending institution shall be neither longer nor shorter than the period of time for which the linked deposit is used to provide loans at reduced interest rates. The agreement shall further provide that the state shall receive market interest rates on any linked deposit or any portion thereof for any period of time for which there is no corresponding linked deposit loan outstanding to an eligible multitenant enterprise, eligible farming operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system, except as otherwise provided in this subsection. Within thirty days after the annual anniversary date of the linked deposit, the eligible lending institution shall repay the state treasurer any linked deposit principal received from borrowers in the previous yearly period and thereafter repay such principal within thirty days of the yearly anniversary date calculated separately for each linked deposit loan, and repaid at the linked deposit rate. Such principal payment shall be accelerated when more than thirty percent of the linked deposit loan is repaid within a single monthly period. Any principal received and not repaid, up to the point of the thirty percent or more payment, shall be repaid within thirty days of that payment at the linked deposit rate. Finally, when the linked deposit is tied to a revolving line of credit agreement between the banking institution and its borrower, the full amount of the line of credit shall be excluded from the repayment provisions of this subsection.

30.760. 1. Upon the placement of a linked deposit with an eligible lending institution, such institution is required to lend such funds to each approved eligible multitenant enterprise, eligible farm operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system listed in the linked deposit loan package required by section 30.756 and in accordance with the deposit agreement required by section 30.758. The loan shall be at a fixed rate of interest reduced by the amount established under subsection 3 of section 30.758 to each eligible multitenant enterprise, eligible farming operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system as determined pursuant to rules and regulations promulgated by the state treasurer under the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, including emergency rules issued pursuant to section 536.025, RSMo. In addition, the loan agreement shall specify that the eligible multitenant enterprise, eligible farming operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system shall use the proceeds as required by sections 30.750 to 30.765, and that in the event the loan recipient does not use the proceeds in the manner prescribed by sections 30.750 to 30.765, the remaining proceeds shall be immediately returned to the lending institution and that any proceeds used by the loan recipient shall be repaid to the lending institution as soon as practicable. All records and documents pertaining to the programs established by sections 30.750 to 30.765 shall be segregated by the lending institution for ease of identification and examination. A certification of compliance with this section in the form and manner as prescribed by the state treasurer shall be required of the eligible lending institution. Any lender or lending officer of an eligible lending institution who knowingly violates the provisions of sections 30.750 to 30.765 is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

2. The state treasurer shall take any and all steps necessary to implement the linked deposit program and monitor compliance of eligible multitenant enterprises, eligible lending institutions, eligible farming operations, eligible alternative energy operations, eligible alternative energy consumers, eligible locally owned businesses, eligible small businesses, eligible job enhancement businesses, eligible marketing enterprises, eligible residential property developers, eligible residential property owners, eligible governmental entities, eligible agribusinesses, eligible beginning farmers, eligible livestock operations, eligible facility borrowers, or eligible water supply systems.

30.765. The state and the state treasurer are not liable to any eligible lending institution in any manner for payment of the principal or interest on the loan to an eligible multitenant enterprise, eligible farm operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system. Any delay in payments or default on the part of an eligible multitenant enterprise, eligible farming operation, eligible alternative energy operation, eligible alternative energy consumer, eligible locally owned business, eligible small business, eligible job enhancement business, eligible marketing enterprise, eligible residential property developer, eligible residential property owner, eligible governmental entity, eligible agribusiness, eligible beginning farmer, eligible livestock operation, eligible student borrower, eligible facility borrower, or eligible water supply system does not in any manner affect the deposit agreement between the eligible lending institution and the state treasurer.

When the qualified small business is in a distressed community, as defined in section 135.530, the tax credit may also be used to satisfy the state tax liability of the owner of the certificate that was due during each of the previous three years in addition to the year in which the investment is made and any of the ten years thereafter. No investor may receive a tax credit pursuant to sections 135.400 to 135.430 unless that person presents a tax credit certificate to the department of revenue for payment of such state tax liability. The department of revenue shall grant tax credits in the same order as established by subsection 1 of section 32.115, RSMo. Subject to the provisions of sections 135.400 to 135.430, certificates of tax credit issued in accordance with these sections may be transferred, sold or assigned by notarized endorsement thereof which names the transferee.

If the question is approved by the majority of qualified voters within the proposed limits of the district, the board of directors shall extend the district's boundaries by resolution.

(3) Any resolution passed by the board of directors of a district under this subsection shall include a specific description of the district's new boundary and the funding mechanisms currently in effect within the district.

(4) Upon passage of a resolution under this subsection, the district shall file a certified copy of the resolution and the verified petition with the circuit court of the county in which the petition creating the district was filed and request that the court enter its judgment that the district's boundaries be amended. The court shall hear the case without a jury. If the resolution is not defective, the proposed amendment to the district's boundary is not illegal, unconstitutional, unjust, or unreasonable and the district is not an undue burden on any owner of property within the district, the court shall enter its judgment to that effect.

(5) The district shall also cause a certified copy of the resolution to be filed with the county clerk of each county in which a portion of the proposed district lies, who shall cause the same to be spread upon the records of the county commission.

3. 4. The owners of all of the property located in a transportation development district formed under this chapter may, by unanimous petition filed with the board of directors of the district, remove any property from the district, so long as such removal will not materially affect any obligations of the district.

238.210. 1. Within thirty days after the petition is filed, the circuit court clerk shall serve a copy of the petition on the respondents who shall have thirty days after receipt of service to file an answer stating agreement with or opposition to the creation of the district. If any respondent files its answer opposing the creation of the district, it shall recite legal reasons why the petition is defective, why the proposed district is illegal or unconstitutional, or why the proposed method for funding the district is illegal or unconstitutional. The respondent shall ask the court for a declaratory judgment respecting these issues. The answer of each respondent shall be served on each petitioner and every other respondent named in the petition. Any resident, taxpayer, any other entity, or any local transportation authority within the proposed district may join in or file a petition supporting or answer opposing the creation of the district and seeking a declaratory judgment respecting these same issues within thirty days after the date notice is last published by the circuit clerk.

2. The court shall hear the case without a jury. If the court shall thereafter determine the petition is defective or the proposed district is illegal or unconstitutional, or shall be an undue burden on any owner of property within the district or is unjust and unreasonable, it shall enter its declaratory judgment to that effect and shall refuse to make the certifications requested in the pleadings. If the court determines that any proposed funding method is illegal or unconstitutional, it shall enter its judgment striking that funding method in whole or part. If the court determines the petition is not legally defective and the proposed district and method of funding are neither illegal nor unconstitutional, the court shall enter its judgment to that effect. If the petition was filed by registered voters or by a governing body, the court shall then certify the questions regarding district creation, project development, and proposed funding for voter approval. If the petition was filed by a governing body, or by no less than fifty registered voters of two or more counties, pursuant to subsection 5 of section 238.207 or pursuant to subsection 6 of section 238.207, the court shall then certify the single question regarding district creation, project development, and proposed funding for voter approval. If the petition was filed by the owners of record of all of the real property located within the proposed district, the court shall declare the district organized and certify the funding methods stated in the petition for qualified voter approval; provided, however, the funding method of special assessments may also be approved as provided in subsection 1 of section 238.230. In either case, if no objections to the petition are timely filed, the court may make such certifications based upon the pleadings before it without any hearing.

3. Any party having filed an answer or petition may appeal the circuit court's order or declaratory judgment in the same manner provided for other appeals. The circuit court shall have continuing jurisdiction to enter such orders as are required for the administration of the district after its formation.

238.212. 1. If the petition was filed by registered voters, [or] by a governing body or pursuant to subsection 6 of section 238.207, the circuit clerk in whose office the petition was filed shall give notice to the public by causing one or more newspapers of general circulation serving the counties or portions thereof contained in the proposed district to publish once a week for four consecutive weeks a notice substantially in the following form:

(1) Any transportation development district may by resolution impose a transportation development district sales tax on all retail sales made in such transportation development district which are subject to taxation pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, except such transportation development district sales tax shall not apply to the sale or use of motor vehicles, trailers, boats or outboard motors nor to all sales of electricity or electrical current, water and gas, natural or artificial, nor to sales of service to telephone subscribers, either local or long distance. Such transportation development district sales tax may be imposed for any transportation development purpose designated by the transportation development district in its ballot of submission to its qualified voters, except that no resolution enacted pursuant to the authority granted by this section shall be effective unless:

(a) The board of directors of the transportation development district submits to the qualified voters of the transportation development district a proposal to authorize the board of directors of the transportation development district to impose or increase the levy of an existing tax pursuant to the provisions of this section; or

(b) The voters approved the question certified by the petition filed pursuant to subsection 5 of section

☐ YES

☐ NO

If you are in favor of the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "YES". If you are opposed to the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "NO".

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the resolution and any amendments thereto shall be in effect. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the board of directors of the transportation development district shall have no power to impose the sales tax authorized by this section unless and until the board of directors of the transportation development district shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize it to impose the sales tax pursuant to the provisions of this section and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon.

(3) The sales tax authorized by this section shall become effective on the first day of the month designated by the board of directors of the transportation development district following adoption of the tax by the qualified voters.

(4) In each transportation development district in which a sales tax has been imposed in the manner provided by this section, every retailer shall add the tax imposed by the transportation development district pursuant to this section to the retailer's sale price, and when so added such tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price.

(5) In order to permit sellers required to collect and report the sales tax authorized by this section to collect the amount required to be reported and remitted, but not to change the requirements of reporting or remitting tax or to serve as a levy of the tax, and in order to avoid fractions of pennies, the transportation development district may establish appropriate brackets which shall be used in the district imposing a tax pursuant to this section in lieu of those brackets provided in section 144.285, RSMo.

(6) All revenue received by a transportation development district from the tax authorized by this section which has been designated for a certain transportation development purpose shall be deposited in a special trust fund and shall be used solely for such designated purpose. Upon the expiration of the period of years approved by the qualified voters pursuant to subdivision (2) of this subsection or if the tax authorized by this section is repealed pursuant to subsection 6 of this section, all funds remaining in the special trust fund shall continue to be used solely for such designated transportation development purpose. Any funds in such special trust fund which are not needed for current expenditures may be invested by the board of directors in accordance with applicable laws relating to the investment of other transportation development district funds.

(7) The sales tax may be imposed in increments of one-eighth of one percent, up to a maximum of one percent on the receipts from the sale at retail of all tangible personal property or taxable services at retail within the transportation development district adopting such tax, if such property and services are subject to taxation by the state of Missouri pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, except such transportation development district sales tax shall not apply to the sale or use of motor vehicles, trailers, boats or outboard motors nor to public utilities. Any transportation development district sales tax imposed pursuant to this section shall be imposed at a rate that shall be uniform throughout the district.

2. The resolution imposing the sales tax pursuant to this section shall impose upon all sellers a tax for the privilege of engaging in the business of selling tangible personal property or rendering taxable services at retail to the extent and in the manner provided in sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, and the rules and regulations of the director of revenue issued pursuant thereto; except that the rate of the tax shall be the rate imposed by the resolution as the sales tax and the tax shall be reported and returned to and collected by the [transportation development district] department of revenue.

3. On and after the effective date of any tax imposed pursuant to this section, the [transportation development district] director of revenue shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement, and operation of the tax, and the director of revenue shall collect, in addition to all other sales taxes imposed by law, the additional tax authorized pursuant to this section. The tax imposed pursuant to this section and the sales taxes imposed pursuant to all other laws of the state of Missouri shall be collected together and reported upon such forms and [under] pursuant to such administrative rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the [transportation development district] director of revenue.

4. (1) All applicable provisions contained in sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, governing the state sales tax, sections 32.085 and 32.087, RSMo, and section 32.057, RSMo, the uniform confidentiality provision, shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this section, except as modified in this section.

(2) All exemptions granted to agencies of government, organizations, persons and to the sale of certain articles and items of tangible personal property and taxable services pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, are hereby made applicable to the imposition and collection of the tax imposed by this section.

(3) The same sales tax permit, exemption certificate and retail certificate required by sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, for the administration and collection of the state sales tax shall satisfy the requirements of this section, and no additional permit or exemption certificate or retail certificate shall be required; except that the transportation development district may prescribe a form of exemption certificate for an exemption from the tax imposed by this section.

(4) All discounts allowed the retailer pursuant to the provisions of the state sales tax laws for the collection of and for payment of taxes pursuant to such laws are hereby allowed and made applicable to any taxes collected pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(5) The penalties provided in section 32.057, RSMo, and sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, for violation of those sections are hereby made applicable to violations of this section.

(6) For the purpose of a sales tax imposed by a resolution pursuant to this section, all retail sales except retail sales of motor vehicles shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business of the retailer unless the tangible personal property sold is delivered by the retailer or the retailer's agent to an out-of-state destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-state destination. In the event a retailer has more than one place of business in this state which participates in the sale, the sale shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business of the retailer where the initial order for the tangible personal property is taken, even though the order must be forwarded elsewhere for acceptance, approval of credit, shipment or billing. A sale by a retailer's employee shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business from which the employee works.

5. [All sales taxes collected by the transportation development district shall be deposited by the transportation development district in a special fund to be expended for the purposes authorized in this section. The transportation development district shall keep accurate records of the amount of money which was collected pursuant to this section, and the records shall be open to the inspection of officers of each transportation development district and the general public.] All sales taxes collected by the director of revenue pursuant to this section on behalf of any transportation development district, less one percent for the cost of collection, which shall be deposited in the state's general revenue fund after payment of premiums for surety bonds as provided in section 32.087, RSMo, shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the "Transportation Development District Sales Tax Fund". Moneys in the transportation development district sales tax fund shall not be deemed to be state funds and shall not be commingled with any funds of the state. All interest earned upon the balance in the transportation development district sales tax fund shall be deposited to the credit of the same fund. Any balance in the fund at the end of an appropriation period shall not be transferred to the general revenue fund and the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, shall not apply to the fund. The director of revenue shall keep accurate records of the amount of money which was collected in each transportation development district imposing a sales tax pursuant to this section, and the records shall be open to the inspection of officers of each transportation development district and the general public. Not later than the tenth day of each month, the director of revenue shall distribute all moneys deposited in such fund during the preceding month to the proper transportation development district.

6. The director of revenue may authorize the state treasurer to make refunds from the amounts credited to any transportation development district for erroneous payments and overpayments made, and may redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such districts. If any transportation development district repeals the tax authorized by this section, the transportation development district shall notify the director of revenue of the action at least ninety days prior to the effective date of the repeal and the director of revenue may order retention, for a period of one year, of two percent of the amount collected after receipt of such notice to cover possible refunds or overpayment of such tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of repeal of the tax authorized by this section in such transportation development district, the director of revenue shall remit the balance in the account to the transportation development district and close the account of that transportation development district. The director of revenue shall notify each transportation development district of each instance of any amount refunded or any check redeemed from receipts due the transportation development district.

[6.] 7. (1) No transportation development district imposing a sales tax pursuant to this section may repeal or amend such sales tax unless such repeal or amendment will not impair the district's ability to repay any liabilities which it has incurred, money which it has borrowed or revenue bonds, notes or other obligations which it has issued or which have been issued by the commission or any local transportation authority to finance any project or projects.

(2) Whenever the board of directors of any transportation development district in which a transportation development sales tax has been imposed in the manner provided by this section receives a petition, signed by ten percent of the qualified voters calling for an election to repeal such transportation development sales tax, the board of directors shall, if such repeal will not impair the district's ability to repay any liabilities which it has incurred, money which it has borrowed or revenue bonds, notes or other obligations which it has issued or which have been issued by the commission or any local transportation authority to finance any project or projects, submit to the qualified voters of such transportation development district a proposal to repeal the transportation development sales tax imposed pursuant to the provisions of this section. If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal to repeal the transportation development sales tax, then the resolution imposing the transportation development sales tax, along with any amendments thereto, is repealed. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting thereon are opposed to the proposal to repeal the transportation development sales tax, then the ordinance or resolution imposing the transportation development sales tax, along with any amendments thereto, shall remain in effect.

238.257. 1. At any time during the existence of a district, the board may submit to the voters of the district a proposition to increase [or decrease] the number of projects which it is authorized to complete.

2. If the board proposes to add one or more additional projects, the question shall be submitted in substantially the following form:

Shall the Transportation Development District fund or develop the following additional transportation project (or projects): (summarize the proposed project or projects), and have the power to fund the proposed project upon separate voter approval by any or all of the following methods: (here specifically describe the proposed funding methods and require each voter to approve or disapprove of each proposed funding method)?

3. If the board proposes to decrease the number of projects or discontinue a project, it may do so by majority vote of the board provided that it shall first obtain approval from the commission if the proposed project is intended to be merged into the state highways and transportation system under the commission's jurisdiction or approval from the local transportation authority if the proposed project is intended to be merged into a local transportation system under the local authority's jurisdiction. [If such approval is obtained, then the question shall be submitted to the district's voters in substantially the following form:

Shall the Transportation Development District discontinue development of the following transportation project: (summarize the transportation project), for the reason that (describe the reason why the transportation project cannot be completed as approved)?]

238.275. 1. Within six months after development and initial maintenance costs of its completed project have been paid, the district shall pursuant to contract transfer ownership and control of the project to the commission or a local transportation authority which shall be responsible for all future maintenance costs pursuant to contract. Such transfer may be made sooner with the consent of the recipient.

2. At such time as a district has completed its project and has transferred ownership of the project to the commission or other local transportation authority for maintenance, or the district has provided for the completion and funding of its project and has transferred ownership and control of the project to the commission or a local transportation authority under subsection 1 of this section, or at such time as the board determines that it is unable to complete its project due to lack of funding or for any other reason, the board shall submit for a vote in an election held throughout the district the question of whether the district should be abolished. The question shall be submitted in substantially the following form:

Shall the Transportation Development District be abolished?

3. The district board shall not propose the question to abolish the district while there are outstanding claims or causes of action pending against the district, while the district liabilities exceed its assets, or while the district is insolvent, in receivership or under the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court. Prior to submitting the question to abolish the district to a vote, the state auditor shall audit the district to determine the financial status of the district, and whether the district may be abolished pursuant to law.

4. As an alternative to the method described in subsections 2 and 3 of this section, if at such time as a district has completed its project and has transferred ownership of the project to the commission or other local transportation authority for maintenance, or the district has provided for the completion and funding of its project and has transferred ownership and control of the project to the commission or a local transportation authority under subsection 1 of this section, or at such time as the board determines that it is unable to complete its project due to lack of funding or for any other reason, the board may petition the circuit court to dissolve the district.

5. The district board may not petition the circuit court for dissolution while there are outstanding claims or causes of action pending against the district, while the district liabilities exceed its assets, or while the district is insolvent, in receivership, or under the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court. Prior to petitioning the circuit court to abolish the district, the state auditor shall audit the district to determine the financial status of the district, and whether the district may be abolished under law.

6. While the district still exists, it shall continue to accrue all revenues to which it is entitled at law.

[5.] 7. Upon receipt of certification by the appropriate election authorities that the majority of those voting within the district have voted to abolish the district or upon receipt of an order of the circuit court that the district may be abolished, and if the state auditor has determined that the district's financial condition is such that it may be abolished pursuant to law, then the board shall:

(1) Sell any remaining district real or personal property it wishes, and then transfer the proceeds and any other real or personal property owned by the district, including revenues due and owing the district, to the commission or any appropriate local transportation authority assuming maintenance and control of the project, for its further use and disposition;

(2) Terminate the employment of any remaining district employees, and otherwise conclude its affairs;

(3) At a public meeting of the district, declare by a majority vote that the district has been abolished effective that date; and

When provision is made in a county charter for the appointment of a court administrator to perform the duties of a circuit clerk or for the appointment of a circuit clerk, such provisions shall prevail over the provisions of this chapter providing for a circuit clerk to be elected. The persons appointed to fill any such appointive positions shall be paid by the counties as provided by the county charter or ordinance; provided, however, that if provision is now or hereafter made by law for the salaries of circuit clerks to be paid by the state, the state shall pay over to the county a sum which is equivalent to the salary that would be payable by law by the state to an elected circuit clerk in such county if such charter provision was not in effect. The sum shall be paid in semimonthly or monthly installments, as designated by the commissioner of administration.

4. The circuit clerk in the sixth judicial circuit and in the seventh judicial circuit shall be appointed by a majority of the circuit judges and associate circuit judges of the circuit court, en banc. The circuit clerk in those circuits shall be removable for cause by a majority of the circuit judges and associate circuit judges of such circuit, en banc, in accordance with supreme court administrative rules governing court personnel. This subsection shall become effective on January 1, 2004, and the elected circuit clerks in those circuits in office at that time shall continue to hold such office for the remainder of their elected terms as if they had been appointed pursuant to the terms of this subsection.”; and

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

SEVENTY-FIRST DAY—THURSDAY, MAY 14, 2009

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“A man who governs his passions is master of the world. We must either command them, or be enslaved by them. It is better to be a hammer than an anvil.” (St. Dominic)

Merciful Father, You know we are tired and at this time of the year our patience gets thin and our frustrations increase. So help us govern our passions so what we say is kind and conveys the meaning of what we are attempting to do here. May we deal fairly and openly with one another and work the work You would have us complete. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 1075, Page 7,

Section 288.330, Line 226, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“288.501. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary:

(1) If a claimant does not have sufficient wages in the base period to be an insured worker, as those terms are defined in section 288.030, the individual's base period shall be the four most recently completed calendar quarters preceding the first day of the individual's benefit year. Such base period shall be known as the “alternate base period”. If information as to wages for the most recent quarter of the alternate base period is not available to the deputy from the regular quarterly reports of wage information, which are systematically accessible, the deputy may base the determination of eligibility for benefits on the affidavit of the claimant with respect to wages for that calendar quarter. The claimant shall furnish payroll documentation, where available, in support of the affidavit. The determination based upon the alternate base period as it relates to the claimant's benefit rights shall be amended if the quarterly report of wage information from the employer is timely received and that information causes a change in the determination. No calendar quarter in a base period or alternate base period for a claimant's current benefit year shall be used to establish a subsequent benefit year.

(2) The claimant shall not be disqualified from unemployment compensation for separating from employment if that separation is for any compelling family reason. For the purposes of this section, the term “compelling family reason” shall mean:

(a) The illness or disability of a member of the claimant's immediate family, which shall include the claimant's spouse, parent, or minor child under the age of eighteen;

(b) The need for the claimant to accompany such claimant's spouse to a location from which it is impractical for the claimant to commute and due to a change in location of the spouse's employment;

(c) Domestic violence, verified by reasonable and confidential documentation, which causes the claimant reasonably to believe that the claimant's continued employment would jeopardize the safety of the claimant or of any member of the claimant's family, as defined by the United States Secretary of Labor.

(3) A claimant who has commenced training under the Workforce Investment Act of 1998, or director-approved training under section 288.055, and has exhausted the claimant's regular unemployment benefits shall be eligible for additional unemployment benefits, not to exceed twenty-six times the claimant's weekly benefit amount. The weekly benefit amount shall be the same as the claimant's regular weekly benefit amount and shall be paid under the same terms and conditions as regular benefits. These training benefits shall be paid after any extended benefits or any similar benefits paid by a federally funded program.

(4) Priority for training funds provided under subdivision (3) of this section shall be given to claimants laid off through no fault of their own from Missouri automobile manufacturing facilities.

(5) No charges shall be made against an employer's account in respect to benefits paid to a claimant under this section.

(6) The director shall separately track payments that were made under this section. Once the amount of payments exceeds the amount of federal incentive funds made available because of the enactment of this section, the unemployment compensation fund shall be reimbursed from general revenue for all subsequent payments to the claimants.

(7) The provisions of this section shall be subject to renewal in the second regular session of the ninety-fifth general assembly. If not renewed, the provisions of this section shall expire once the funds provided under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 are expended as provided in this section.

(8) The provisions of this section shall not take effect, and no benefits paid under this section, unless first certified by the United States Secretary of Labor under 42 U.S.C.1103, as amended by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.”; and Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Callahan moved that the above amendment be adopted, which motion prevailed.

Senator Green offered SA 2:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 1075, Page 1, Section A, Line 2, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

“288.130. 1. Each employing unit shall keep true and accurate payroll and other related records, containing such information as the division may by regulation prescribe for a period of at least three calendar years after the record was made. Such records shall be open to inspection and be subject to being copied by authorized representatives of the division at any reasonable time and as often as may be necessary. Any authorized person engaged in administering this law may require from any employing unit any sworn or unsworn reports, with respect to individuals performing services for it, which are deemed necessary for the effective administration of this law.

2. All employers [required to report W-2 copy A information on magnetic media tape to the Social Security Administration pursuant to 26 CFR Section 301.6011-2, or successor regulations,] with fifty or more workers are [likewise] required to report quarterly wage information due pursuant to section 288.090 to the division [on magnetic tape or diskette in a format prescribed by the division] and to the director of revenue in an electronic format prescribed by the division.

3. Each employer shall post and maintain in places readily accessible to the employer's workers printed statements concerning benefit rights, claims for benefits and such other matters related to the administration of this law as the division may by regulation prescribe. Each employer shall supply to workers copies of any printed statements relating to claims for benefits when and as the division may by regulation prescribe. Such printed statements and other materials shall be supplied by the division without cost.

4. A deputy shall make an ex parte determination after investigation but without hearing with respect to any matter pertaining to the liability of an employing unit which does not involve a claimant. The deputy shall promptly notify any interested employing units of each such determination and the reason for it. The division shall grant a hearing before an appeals tribunal to any employing unit appealing from any such ex parte determination provided an appeal is filed in writing within thirty days following the date of notification or the mailing of such determination to the party's last known address. In the absence of an appeal any such determination shall become final at the expiration of a thirty-day period. The deputy may, however, at any time within a year from the date of the deputy's determination, for good cause, reconsider the determination and shall promptly notify all interested employing units of his amended determination and the reason for it.

5. The thirty-day period provided in subsection 4 of this section may, for good cause, be extended.”; and “620.1039. 1. As used in this section, the term “taxpayer” means an individual, a partnership, or any charitable organization which is exempt from federal income tax and whose Missouri unrelated business taxable income, if any, would be subject to the state income tax imposed under chapter 143, RSMo, or a corporation as described in section 143.441 or 143.471, RSMo, or section 148.370, RSMo, and the term “qualified research expenses” has the same meaning as prescribed in 26 U.S.C. 41. The term “taxpayer” shall not include any individual, partnership, or charitable organization which receives tax credits under the provisions of section 620.1041.

2. For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, the director of the department of economic development may, subject to appropriation, authorize a taxpayer to receive a tax credit against the tax otherwise due pursuant to chapter 143, RSMo, or chapter 148, RSMo, other than the taxes withheld pursuant to sections 143.191 to 143.265, RSMo, in an amount up to [six and one-half] ten percent of the [excess] amount of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses, as certified by the director of the department of economic development, within this state during the taxable year [over the average of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses within this state over the immediately preceding three taxable years; except that, no tax credit shall be allowed on that portion of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses incurred within this state during the taxable year in which the credit is being claimed, to the extent such expenses exceed two hundred percent of the taxpayer's average qualified research expenses incurred during the immediately preceding three taxable years], or in the case of qualified research expenses incurred in a distressed community as defined under section 135.530, RSMo, in an amount equal to twenty-five percent of the amount of the qualified research expenses. In order to receive tax credits provided under this section, a taxpayer shall:

(1) Employ no more than two hundred twenty-five employees, with at least seventy-five percent of such employees based within the state; and

(2) Be engaged on a for-profit basis in the development of medical instruments and devices, medical diagnostics or therapeutics, plant science products, pharmaceutical, or veterinary products with agricultural applications.

3. The director of economic development shall prescribe the manner in which the tax credit may be applied for. The tax credit authorized by this section may be claimed by the taxpayer to offset the tax liability imposed by chapter 143, RSMo, or chapter 148, RSMo, that becomes due in the tax year during which such qualified research expenses were incurred. Where the amount of the credit exceeds the tax liability, the difference between the credit and the tax liability may only be carried forward for the next five succeeding taxable years or until the full credit has been claimed, whichever first occurs. The application for tax credits authorized by the director pursuant to subsection 2 of this section shall be made no later than the end of the taxpayer's tax period immediately following the tax period for which the credits are being claimed.

4. Certificates of tax credit issued pursuant to this section may be transferred, sold or assigned by filing a notarized endorsement thereof with the department which names the transferee and the amount of tax credit transferred. The director of economic development may allow a taxpayer to transfer, sell or assign up to forty percent of the amount of the certificates of tax credit issued to and not claimed by such taxpayer pursuant to this section during any tax year commencing on or after January 1, [1996] 2010, and ending not later than December 31, [1999] 2016. Such taxpayer shall file, by December 31, [2001] 2018, an application with the department which names the transferee, the amount of tax credit desired to be transferred, and a certification that the funds received by the applicant as a result of the transfer, sale or assignment of the tax credit shall be expended within three years at the state university for the sole purpose of conducting research activities agreed upon by the department, the taxpayer and the state university. Failure to expend such funds in the manner prescribed pursuant to this section shall cause the applicant to be subject to the provisions of section 620.017.

5. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo. All rulemaking authority delegated prior to June 27, 1997, is of no force and effect and repealed; however, nothing in this section shall be interpreted to repeal or affect the validity of any rule filed or adopted prior to June 27, 1997, if such rule complied with the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo. The provisions of this section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including the ability to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule, are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

6. [The aggregate of all tax credits authorized pursuant to this section shall not exceed nine million seven hundred thousand dollars in any year

7. For all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2005, no tax credits shall be approved, awarded, or issued to any person or entity claiming any tax credit under this section.] The total amount of tax credits provided under this section, which may be authorized in fiscal year 2010 and each fiscal year thereafter, shall not exceed the lesser of the amount appropriated by the general assembly or three million dollars. No tax credits provided under the provisions of this section shall be authorized after June 30, 2015. The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed to limit or in any way impair the department's ability to issue tax credits authorized prior to June 30, 2015, or a taxpayer's ability to redeem such tax credits.

7. For fiscal year 2010 and each fiscal year thereafter, no more than one million dollars in tax credits shall be made available for qualified research expenses incurred outside a distressed community. No more than five hundred thousand dollars in tax credits shall be issued annually under this section to any taxpayer for qualified research expenses, unless such research expenses are incurred by a taxpayer in a distressed area, in which case no more than one million dollars in tax credits may be issued to such taxpayer annually. No taxpayer shall simultaneously receive tax credits under the provisions of this section and section 620.1041.

8. Authorization for all or a part of the tax credits reserved for expenses incurred in a distressed community, under the provisions of subsection 7 of this section, shall not restrict eligibility of a taxpayer to receive remaining credits for other qualified research expenses incurred in a distressed community.

620.1041. 1. As used in this section, the term “taxpayer” means an individual, a partnership, or any charitable organization which is exempt from federal income tax and whose Missouri unrelated business taxable income, if any, would be subject to the state income tax imposed under chapter 143, RSMo, or a corporation as described in section 143.441 or 143.471, RSMo, or section 148.370, RSMo, and the term “qualified research expenses” has the same meaning as prescribed in 26 U.S.C. 41, except that such qualified research expenses shall be limited to those incurred in the research and development of agricultural biotechnology, plant genomics products, diagnostic and therapeutic medical devices, prescription pharmaceuticals consumed by humans or animals, electronic patient health record technology, or qualified research expenses incurred in the research, development or manufacture of power system technology for aerospace, space, defense, alternative energy, alternative energy vehicles, or implantable or wearable medical devices. The term “taxpayer” shall not include any individual, partnership, or charitable organization which receives tax credits under the provisions of section 620.1039.

2. For tax years ending after January 1, 2009, the director of the department of economic development may, subject to appropriation, authorize a taxpayer to receive a tax credit against the tax otherwise due pursuant to chapter 143, RSMo, or chapter 148, RSMo, other than the taxes withheld pursuant to sections 143.191 to 143.265, RSMo, based upon the amount by which the taxpayer's qualified research expenses exceed the average, as certified by the director of the department of economic development, of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses within this state over the immediately preceding three taxable years, as follows:

(1) Three percent of the amount of increase in qualified research expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year which does not exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars;

(2) Five percent of the amount of increase in qualified research expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year which exceeds two million five hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed five million dollars; and

(3) Seven and one-half percent of the amount of increase in qualified research expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year which exceeds five million dollars.

Provisions of this subsection to the contrary notwithstanding, no tax credit shall be allowed on that portion of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses incurred within this state during the taxable year in which the credit is being claimed, to the extent such expenses exceed two hundred percent of the taxpayer's average qualified research expenses incurred during the immediately preceding three taxable years.

3. The director of economic development shall prescribe the manner in which the taxpayer may apply for the tax credit. The tax credit authorized by this section may be claimed by the taxpayer to offset the tax liability imposed by chapter 143, RSMo, or chapter 148, RSMo, that becomes due in the tax year during which such qualified research expenses were incurred; provided that if the return required to be filed pursuant to section 143.511, RSMo, or section 148.050, RSMo, for such tax year has already been filed, the taxpayer may claim the tax credit authorized by this section by claiming the tax credit against the tax liability imposed by chapter 143, RSMo, or chapter 148, RSMo, in the tax year following the tax year in which such qualified research expenses were incurred. Where the amount of the credit exceeds the tax liability, the difference between the credit and the tax liability may only be carried forward for the next five succeeding taxable years after the tax year in which the credit was first claimed or until the full credit has been claimed, whichever first occurs. The application for tax credits authorized by the director pursuant to subsection 2 of this section shall be made no earlier than January first and no later than July first of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the taxpayer's tax period for which the credits are being claimed ended. The director shall act on any such application for tax credits no sooner than August first but no later than August fifteenth of each year for applications filed in that calendar year.

4. Certificates of tax credit issued pursuant to this section may be transferred, sold, or assigned by filing a notarized endorsement thereof with the department which names the transferee and the amount of tax credit transferred. The director of economic development may allow a taxpayer to transfer, sell, or assign up to forty percent of the amount of the certificates of tax credit issued to and not claimed by such taxpayer pursuant to this section during any tax year commencing on or after January 1, 2010, and ending not later than December 31, 2016. Such taxpayer shall file, by December 31, 2018, an application with the department which names the transferee, the amount of tax credit desired to be transferred, and a certification that the funds received by the applicant as a result of the transfer, sale, or assignment of the tax credit shall be expended within three years at the state university for the sole purpose of conducting research activities agreed upon by the department, the taxpayer, and the state university. Failure to expend such funds in the manner prescribed pursuant to this section shall cause the applicant to be subject to the provisions of section 620.017.

5. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo. All rulemaking authority delegated prior to August 28, 2009, is of no force and effect and repealed; however, nothing in this section shall be interpreted to repeal or affect the validity of any rule filed or adopted prior to August 28, 2009, if such rule complied with the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo. The provisions of this section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including the ability to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule, are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

6. The total amount of tax credits provided under this section, which may be authorized in fiscal year 2010 and each fiscal year thereafter, shall not exceed the lesser of the amount appropriated by the general assembly or seven million dollars. No tax credits provided under this section shall be authorized after June 30, 2015. The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed to limit or in any way impair the department's ability to issue tax credits authorized prior to June 30, 2015, or a taxpayer's ability to redeem such tax credits. In the event that total eligible claims for credits received in a fiscal year exceed the amount of tax credits available for authorization in such fiscal year, as provided under the provisions of this section, each eligible claimant shall be issued credits based upon the following formula: the eligible credits if the amount allocated had not been exceeded multiplied by the ratio of the allocation divided by the total of all eligible claims for credits filed in that fiscal year.

7. No one taxpayer shall be issued more than thirty percent of the aggregate of all tax credits authorized under this section in any calendar year. No taxpayer shall simultaneously receive tax credits under the provisions of this section and section 620.1039.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Crowell moved that the above amendment be adopted and requested a roll call vote be taken. He was joined in his request by Senators Bray, McKenna, Nodler and Smith.

“348.273. As used in sections 348.273 and 348.274, the following terms shall mean:

(1) “Department”, the Missouri department of economic development;

(2) “Distressed community”, as defined in section 135.530, RSMo;

(3) “Equity investment”, money or money equivalent in consideration for qualified securities. An equity investment shall be deemed to have been made on the date of acquisition of the qualified security, as such date is determined in accordance with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code;

(4) “Investor”:

(a) An individual who is an accredited investor, as defined in 17 CFR 230.501(a) as in effect on August 28, 2009; or

(b) Any partnership, corporation, trust, limited liability company, or not-for-profit entity that was established and is operated for the purpose of making preseed and seed stage investments in start-up companies, and is approved by the department;

(5) “Qualified Missouri business”, an independently owned and operated business which is headquartered and located in this state and which is in need of venture capital. Such business shall have no more than two hundred employees, eighty percent of which are employed in this state. Such business shall be involved in commerce for the purpose of manufacturing, processing, or assembling products, conducting research and development, or providing services in interstate commerce but excluding retail, real estate, real estate development, insurance, and professional services provided by accountants, lawyers, or physicians. At the time approval is sought, such business shall be a small business concern that meets the requirements of the United States Small Business Administration's qualification size standards for its venture capital program, as defined in the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, as amended, and rules promulgated in 13 CFR 121.301(c), as amended;

(6) “Qualified securities”, securities that are not redeemable or repayable within seven years of issuance and that have been approved in form and substance by the department. Forms of such equity securities include:

(a) A general or limited partnership interest;

(c) Preferred stock, with or without voting rights, without regard to seniority position, and whether or not convertible into common stock; or

(d) Convertible debt;

(7) “Rural area”, any city, town, or village with fewer than fifteen thousand inhabitants and located in any county that is not part of a standard metropolitan statistical area as defined by the United States Department of Commerce or its successor agency. However, any such city, town, or village located in any county so defined as a standard metropolitan statistical area may be designated a rural area by the department if:

(a) A substantial number of persons in such county derive their income from agriculture;

(b) The county has only one city within the county having a population of more than fifteen thousand and is classified as a standard metropolitan statistical area; and

(c) All other cities, towns, and villages in that county have a population of less than fifteen thousand.

348.274. 1. The department may, subject to appropriation, authorize tax credits to encourage equity investment into technology-based early stage Missouri companies.

2. If a qualified Missouri business is approved by the department, the investors who contribute the first five hundred thousand dollars in equity investment in the qualified Missouri business may be issued a tax credit in the year the equity investment is made. The tax credit shall be in a total amount equal to thirty percent of such investors' equity investment in any qualified Missouri business, subject to the limitations set forth in subsection 5 of this section. However, if the qualified Missouri business invested in is located in a rural area or a distressed community, the investors may be issued a tax credit for forty percent of such investment, subject to the limitations set forth in subsection 5 of this section.

3. (1) Before an investor may be entitled to receive tax credits, as authorized by this section, such investor shall have made an equity investment in a qualified security of a qualified Missouri business.

This business shall have been approved by the department as a qualified Missouri business prior to the date on which the cash investment was made. To be designated as a qualified Missouri business, a business shall make application to the department in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such application shall be in form and substance as required by the department but shall include at least the following:

- (a) The name of the business and certified copies of the organizational documents of the business;
- (b) A business plan, including a description of the business and the management, product, market, and financial plan of the business;
- (c) A statement of the business innovative and proprietary technology, product, or service;
- (d) A statement of the potential economic impact of the enterprise including the number, location, and types of jobs expected to be created;
- (e) A description of the qualified securities to be issued, the consideration to be paid for the qualified securities, the amount of any tax credits requested, and the earliest year in which the tax credits may be redeemed;
- (f) A statement of the amount, timing, and projected use of the proceeds to be raised from the proposed sale of qualified securities; and
- (g) Other information as the department may request, such as the names, addresses, and taxpayer identification numbers of all investors who may qualify for the tax credit. Such list of investors who may qualify for the tax credits shall be amended as new qualified securities are sold or as any information on the list changes.

(2) No business shall be designated as a qualified Missouri business unless such business meets all of the following criteria:

- (a) The business shall not have had annual gross revenues of more than three million dollars in the most recent tax year of the business;
- (b) The business shall not have ownership interests including, but not limited to, common or preferred shares of stock that can be traded by the public via a stock exchange, electronic exchange, bulletin board, or other public market place on or before the date that a qualifying investment is made;
- (c) The business shall not be engaged primarily in any one or more of the following enterprises:
 - a. The business of banking, savings and loan or lending institutions, credit or finance, or financial brokerage or investments;
 - b. Professional services, such as legal, accounting or engineering services;
 - c. Governmental, charitable, religious or trade organizations;
 - d. The ownership, development, brokerage, sales, or leasing of real estate;
 - e. Insurance;
 - f. Construction or construction management or contracting;
 - g. Business consulting or brokerage;

h. Any business engaged primarily as a passive business, having irregular or noncontinuous operations, or deriving substantially all of the income of the business from passive investments that generate interest, dividends, royalties, or capital gains, or any business arrangements the effect of which is to immunize an investor from risk of loss;

i. Any Missouri certified capital formation company;

j. Any activity that is in violation of the law; and

k. Any business raising money primarily to purchase real estate, land, or fixtures;

(d) The business shall satisfy all other requirements of this section.

(3) The portions of documents and other materials submitted to the department that contain trade secrets shall be kept confidential and shall be maintained in a secured environment by the director of the department. For the purposes of this section, such portions of documents and other materials shall mean any customer list, any formula, compound, production data, or compilation of information certain individuals within a commercial concern using such portions of documents and other material means to fabricate, produce, or compound an article of trade, or, any service having commercial value, which gives the user an opportunity to obtain a business advantage over competitors who do not know or use such service.

(4) A qualified Missouri business shall have the burden of proof to demonstrate to the department the qualifications of the business under this section and shall have the obligation to notify the department in a timely manner of any changes in the qualifications of the business or in the eligibility of investors to claim a tax credit for cash investment in a qualified security.

4. The designation of a business as a qualified Missouri business shall be made by the department, and such designation shall be renewed annually. A business shall be so designated if the department determines, based upon the application submitted by the business and any additional investigation the staff of the department shall make, that the following criteria have been or shall be satisfied:

(1) The business has a reasonable chance of success;

(2) The ability of investors in the business to receive tax credits for cash investments in qualified securities of the business is necessary because funding otherwise available for the business is not available on commercially reasonable terms;

(3) The business has the reasonable potential to create measurable employment within the state;

(4) The business has an innovative and proprietary technology, product, and service;

(5) The existing owners of the business and other founders have made or are committed to make a substantial financial and time commitment to the business;

(6) The securities to be issued and purchased are qualified securities; and

(7) Binding commitments have been made by the business to the department for adequate reporting of financial data, including a requirement for an annual report, or, if required by the department, an annual audit of the financial and operational records of the business, the right of access to the financial records of the business, and the right of the department to record and publish normal and customary data and information related to the issuance of tax credits that are not otherwise determined to be trade or business secrets.

5. The department shall not issue tax credits of more than fifty thousand dollars to an investor per investment into a single, qualified Missouri company, or for tax credits totaling more than one hundred thousand dollars in a single year per investor. The total amount of tax credits provided under the provisions of this section and section 348.273, which may be authorized in fiscal year 2010 and each fiscal year thereafter, shall not exceed the lesser of the amount appropriated by the general assembly or five million dollars. No tax credits provided under the provisions of this section and section 348.273, RSMo, shall be authorized after June 30, 2015. The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed to limit or in any way impair the department's ability to issue tax credits authorized prior to June 30, 2015, or a taxpayer's ability to redeem such tax credits.

6. This tax credit may be used in its entirety in the taxable year in which the equity investment is made or the credit may be carried forward for use in any of the next three consecutive tax years until the total amount of the credit is used. The tax credits may be sold, assigned, exchanged, or otherwise transferred.

7. Tax credits may be used against the tax otherwise due under chapter 143, RSMo, not including sections 143.191 to 143.265, RSMo.

8. A qualified Missouri business for which credits have been issued that, within seven years of receiving tax credits under this section, relocates its headquarters out of Missouri, ceases to employ at least eighty percent of its employees in Missouri, alters the principal nature of its operations, or divests itself of key assets shall upon demand by the department pay the state of Missouri an amount equal to the amount of credits issued to its contributors.

9. In addition to reports by the businesses to the department, the department shall also provide in its annual report information on the marketing and use of the investor tax credits. This report shall include the following:

(1) The amount of tax credits used in the previous fiscal year, including what percentage was claimed by individuals and what percentage was claimed by firms and other entities;

(2) The types of businesses that benefited from the tax credits; and

(3) Any aggregate job creation or capital investment in Missouri that resulted from the use of the tax credits for a period of five years beginning from the date on which the tax credits were awarded.

In addition, the annual report shall provide information regarding what businesses deriving a benefit from the tax credits remained in Missouri, what businesses ceased doing business, what businesses were purchased, and what businesses may have moved out-of-state and the reason for such move.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Crowell moved that the above amendment be adopted, which motion failed on a standing division vote.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“It takes daily courage to expose oneself to God’s word and to allow oneself to be judged by it.” (Dietrich Bonhoeffer)

Merciful God, You have given us choices all along the way and these choices have consequences and on this last day of this session we are more mindful of how we have chosen and whether or not we have been faithful. In these closing hours bless us and make these rapidly passing minutes meaningful. And, we pray those things we have done according to Your will You will bless. And, may this day end in our praise for Your continuing being with us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

Applications postmarked on the same day shall go through a lottery process to determine the order in which such applications shall be reviewed.

2. Each application shall be reviewed by the department of economic development for approval.

In order to receive approval, an application, other than applications submitted under the provisions of subsection 8 of this section, shall include:

(1) Proof of ownership or site control. Proof of ownership shall include evidence that the taxpayer is the fee simple owner of the eligible property, such as a warranty deed or a closing statement. Proof of site control may be evidenced by a leasehold interest or an option to acquire such an interest. If the taxpayer is in the process of acquiring fee simple ownership, proof of site control shall include an executed sales contract or an executed option to purchase the eligible property;

(2) Floor plans of the existing structure, architectural plans, and, where applicable, plans of the proposed alterations to the structure, as well as proposed additions;

(3) The estimated cost of rehabilitation, the anticipated total costs of the project, the actual basis of the property, as shown by proof of actual acquisition costs, the anticipated total labor costs, the estimated project start date, and the estimated project completion date;

(4) Proof that the property is an eligible property and a certified historic structure or a structure in a certified historic district; and

(5) Any other information which the department of economic development may reasonably require to review the project for approval.

Only the property for which a property address is provided in the application shall be reviewed for approval. Once selected for review, a taxpayer shall not be permitted to request the review of another property for approval in the place of the property contained in such application. Any disapproved application shall be removed from the review process. If an application is removed from the review process, the department of economic development shall notify the taxpayer in writing of the decision to remove such application. Disapproved applications shall lose priority in the review process. A disapproved application, which is removed from the review process, may be resubmitted, but shall be deemed to be a new submission for purposes of the priority procedures described in this section.

3. If the department of economic development deems the application sufficient, the taxpayer shall be notified in writing of the approval for an amount of tax credits equal to the amount provided under section 253.550 less any amount of tax credits previously approved. Such approvals shall be granted to applications in the order of priority established under this section and shall require full compliance thereafter with all other requirements of law as a condition to any claim for such credits.

4. Following approval of an application, the identity of the taxpayer contained in such application shall not be modified except:

(1) The taxpayer may add partners, members, or shareholders as part of the ownership structure, so long as the principal remains the same, provided however, that subsequent to the commencement of renovation and the expenditure of at least ten percent of the proposed rehabilitation budget, removal of the principal for failure to perform duties and the appointment of a new principal thereafter shall not constitute a change of the principal; or

(2) Where the ownership of the project is changed due to a foreclosure, deed in lieu of a foreclosure or voluntary conveyance, or a transfer in bankruptcy.

5. In the event that the department of economic development grants approval for tax credits equal to the total amount available under subsection 2 of section 253.550, or sufficient that when totaled with all other approvals, the amount available under subsection 2 of section 253.550 is exhausted, all taxpayers with applications then awaiting approval or thereafter submitted for approval shall be notified by the department of economic development that no additional approvals shall be granted during the fiscal year and shall be notified of the priority given to such taxpayer's application then awaiting approval. Such applications shall be kept on file by the department of economic development and shall be considered for approval for tax credits in the order established in this section in the event that additional credits become available due to the rescission of approvals or when a new fiscal year's allocation of credits becomes available for approval.

6. All taxpayers with applications receiving approval on or after the effective date of this act shall commence rehabilitation within two years of the date of issuance of the letter from the department of economic development granting the approval for tax credits. Commencement of rehabilitation shall mean that as of the date in which actual physical work, contemplated by the architectural plans submitted with the application, has begun, the taxpayer has incurred no less than ten percent of the estimated costs of rehabilitation provided in the application. Taxpayers with approval of a project shall submit evidence of compliance with the provisions of this subsection. If the department of economic development determines that a taxpayer has failed to comply with the requirements provided under this section, the approval for the amount of tax credits for such taxpayer shall be rescinded and such amount of tax credits shall then be included in the total amount of tax credits, provided under subsection 2 of section 253.550, from which approvals may be granted. Any taxpayer whose approval shall be subject to rescission shall be notified of such from the department of economic development and, upon receipt of such notice, may submit a new application for the project.

7. To claim the credit authorized under sections 253.550 to 253.559, a taxpayer with approval shall apply for final approval and issuance of tax credits from the department of economic development which, in consultation with the department of natural resources, shall determine the final amount of eligible rehabilitation costs and expenses and whether the completed rehabilitation meets the standards of the Secretary of the United States Department of the Interior for rehabilitation as determined by the state historic preservation officer of the Missouri department of natural resources. For financial institutions credits authorized pursuant to sections 253.550 to 253.561 shall be deemed to be "economic development credits" for purposes of section 148.064, RSMo. The approval of all applications and the issuing of certificates of eligible credits to taxpayers shall be performed by the department of economic development. The department of economic development shall inform a taxpayer of final approval by letter and shall issue, to the taxpayer, tax credit certificates. The taxpayer shall attach the certificate to all Missouri income tax returns on which the credit is claimed.

[2.] 8. Except as expressly provided in this subsection, tax credit certificates shall be issued in the final year that costs and expenses of rehabilitation of the project are incurred, or within the twelve month period immediately following the conclusion of such rehabilitation. In the event the amount of eligible rehabilitation costs and expenses incurred by a taxpayer would result in the issuance of an amount of tax credits in excess of the amount provided under such taxpayer's approval granted under subsection 3 of this section, such taxpayer may apply to the department for issuance of tax credits in an amount equal to such excess. Applications for issuance of tax credits in excess of the amount provided under a taxpayer's application shall be made on a form prescribed by the department. Such applications shall be subject to all provisions regarding priority provided under subsection 1 of this section.

9. The department of economic development shall determine, on an annual basis, the overall economic impact to the state from the rehabilitation of eligible property.”; and

The limited liability company may provide information to the secretary that would allow the secretary to withdraw the notice of proposed cancellation. This information may consist of, but need not be limited to, corrected statements and documents, new filings, affidavits and certified copies of other filed documents;

If mailed, the notice shall be deemed delivered five days after it is deposited in the United States mail in a sealed envelope addressed to such limited liability company's last registered agent and office or to one of the limited liability company's managers or members.

(c) If the limited liability company does not timely file an articles of amendment in accordance with section 347.041 to extend the duration of the limited liability company, which may be any number of years or perpetual, or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary that the period of duration determined by the secretary is incorrect, within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected by posting with the United States Postal Service, then the secretary shall cancel the articles of organization by signing an administrative cancellation that recites the grounds for cancellation and its effective date. The secretary shall file the original of the administrative cancellation and serve a copy on the limited liability company as provided in section 347.051.

(d) A limited liability company whose articles of organization has been administratively cancelled continues its existence but may not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs under section 347.147 and notify claimants under section 347.141.

(d) If the secretary determines that the application contains the information and is accompanied by the fees required in paragraph (c) of this subdivision and that the information and fees are correct, the secretary shall rescind the cancellation and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites his or her determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original articles of organization, and serve a copy on the limited liability company as provided in section 347.051.

(e) When the reinstatement is effective, it shall relate back to and take effect as of the effective date of the administrative cancellation of the articles of organization and the limited liability company may continue carrying on its business as if the administrative cancellation had never occurred.

(f) In the event the name of the limited liability company was reissued by the secretary to another entity prior to the time application for reinstatement was filed, the limited liability company applying for reinstatement may elect to reinstate using a new name that complies with the requirements of section 347.020 and that has been approved by appropriate action of the limited liability company for changing the name thereof.

- (1) A foreign corporation's application for a certificate of authority to do business in this state;
- (2) A foreign corporation's application for a certificate of withdrawal;
- (3) A corporation's [annual] corporate registration report.

351.120. 1. Every corporation organized pursuant to the laws of this state, including corporations organized pursuant to or subject to this chapter, and every foreign corporation licensed to do business in this state, whether such license shall have been issued pursuant to this chapter or not, other than corporations exempted from taxation by the laws of this state, shall file [an annual corporation] a corporate registration report.

2. The [annual] corporate registration report shall state the corporate name, the name of its registered agent and such agent's Missouri physical address, giving street and number, or building and number, or both, as the case may require, the name and correct business or residence address of its officers and directors, and the mailing address of the corporation's principal place of business or corporate headquarters.

3. The [annual] corporate registration report shall be filed annually, except as provided in section 351.122, and shall be due the month that the corporation incorporated or qualified, unless changed by the corporation under subsection 8 of this section. Corporations existing prior to July 1, 2003, shall file the [annual] corporate registration report on the month indicated on the corporation's last [annual] corporate registration report. Corporations formed on or after July 1, 2003, shall file [an annual] a corporate registration report within thirty days of the date of incorporation or qualification and every year thereafter, except as provided in section 351.122, in the month that they were incorporated or qualified, unless such month is changed by the corporation under subsection 8 of this section.

4. The [annual] corporate registration report shall be signed by an officer or authorized person.

5. In the event of any error in the names and addresses of the officers and directors set forth in [an annual] a corporate registration report, the corporation may correct such information by filing a certificate of correction pursuant to section 351.049.

6. A corporation may change the corporation's registered office or registered agent with the filing of the corporation's [annual] corporate registration report. To change the corporation's registered agent with the filing of the [annual] corporate registration report, the corporation must include the new registered agent's written consent to the appointment as registered agent and a written consent stating that such change in registered agents was authorized by resolution duly adopted by the board of directors. The written consent must be signed by the new registered agent and must include such agent's address. If the [annual] corporate registration report is not completed correctly, the secretary of state may reject the filing of such report.

7. A corporation's [annual] corporate registration report must be filed in a format as prescribed by the secretary of state.

8. A corporation may change the month of its corporate registration report in the corporation's initial corporate registration report or a subsequent report. To change its filing month, a corporation shall designate the desired month in its corporate registration report and include with that report an additional fee of twenty dollars. After a corporation registration report designating a new filing month is filed by the secretary of state, the corporation's next corporate registration report shall be filed in the newly designated month in the next year in which a report is due under subsection 3 of this section or under section 351.122. This subsection shall become effective January 1, 2010.

351.122. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 351.120 to the contrary, beginning January 1, 2010, the secretary of state may provide corporations the option of biennially filing corporate registration reports. Any corporation incorporated or qualified in an even-numbered year may file a biennial corporate registration report only in an even-numbered calendar year, and any corporation incorporated or qualified in an odd-numbered year may file a biennial corporate registration report only in an odd-numbered calendar year, subject to the following requirements:

2. Once a corporation chooses the option of biennial registration, such registration shall be maintained for the full twenty-four month period. Once the twenty-four month period has expired and another corporate registration report is due, a corporation may choose to file an annual registration report under section 351.120. However, upon making such choice the corporation may later only choose to file a biennial corporate registration report in a year appropriate under subsection 1 of this section, based on the year in which the corporation was incorporated.

Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. If the registration report is not filed within ninety days, [the corporation shall forfeit its charter] the secretary of state may proceed with administrative dissolution of such corporation under sections 351.484 and 351.486.

351.127. The secretary of state may collect an additional fee of five dollars on each and every fee required in this chapter, provided that the secretary of state may collect an additional fee of ten dollars on each corporate registration report fee filed under section 351.122. All fees collected as provided in this section shall be deposited in the state treasury and credited to the secretary of state's technology trust fund account. The provisions of this section shall expire on December 31, 2017.

351.145. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to send notice that the [annual] corporate registration report is due to each corporation in this state required to register. The notice shall be directed to its registered office as disclosed originally by its articles of incorporation or by its application for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state and thereafter as disclosed by its immediately preceding corporate registration [for the year preceding] report, as provided by law. The secretary of state may provide a form of the [annual] corporate registration report for filing in a format and medium prescribed by the secretary of state.

351.155. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to furnish forms of [annual] corporate registration reports to any corporation upon request to any representative of the corporation, but no such form of the [annual] corporate registration report shall be furnished unless the name of the corporation for which [they are] it is desired shall accompany the request.

351.484. The secretary of state may commence a proceeding pursuant to section 351.486 to dissolve a corporation administratively if:

(2) The corporation fails or neglects to file the Missouri corporation franchise tax report required pursuant to chapter 147, RSMo, provided the director of revenue has provided a place on both the individual and corporation income tax return to indicate no such tax is due and provided the director has delivered or mailed at least two notices of such failure to file to the usual place of business of such corporation or the corporation's last known address and the corporation has failed to respond to such second notice within thirty days of the date of mailing of the second notice and the director of revenue has notified the secretary of state of such failure;

4. This section does not prescribe the only means, or necessarily the required means, of serving a foreign corporation.

351.598. The secretary of state may commence a proceeding pursuant to section 351.602 to revoke the certificate of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state if:

Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of the process to the secretary of the foreign corporation at its principal office shown in its most recent [annual] corporate registration report or in any subsequent communications received from the corporation stating the current mailing address of its principal office, or, if none are on file, in its application for a certificate of authority.

If [an annual] a corporate registration report is not filed within the time limits prescribed by this section, the secretary of state shall not accept the report unless it is accompanied by a fifteen dollar fee. Failure to file the [annual] registration report as required by this section will result in the administrative dissolution of the corporation as set forth in section 355.706.

4. If [an annual] a corporate registration report does not contain the information required by this section, the secretary of state shall promptly notify the reporting domestic or foreign corporation in writing and return the report to it for correction.

If the [annual] corporate registration report is not completed correctly, the secretary of state may reject the filing of such report.

6. A corporation's [annual] corporate registration report must be filed in a format and medium prescribed by the secretary of state.

7. The [annual] corporate registration report shall be signed by an officer or authorized person and pursuant to this section represents that the signer believes the statements are true and correct to the best knowledge and belief of the person signing, subject to the penalties of section 575.040, RSMo.

355.857. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 355.856 to the contrary, beginning January 1, 2010, the secretary of state may provide corporations the option of biennially filing corporate registration reports. Any corporation incorporated or qualified in an even-numbered year may file a biennial corporate registration report only in an even-numbered calendar year, and any corporation incorporated or qualified in an odd-numbered year may file a biennial corporate registration report only in an odd-numbered calendar year, subject to the following requirements:

(1) The fee paid at the time of biennial registration shall be that specified in section 355.021;

(2) A corporation's biennial corporate registration report shall be filed in a format as prescribed by the secretary of state;

(3) The secretary of state may collect an additional fee of ten dollars on each biennial corporate registration report filed under this section. Such fee shall be deposited into the state treasury and credited to the secretary of state's technology trust fund account.

2. Once a corporation chooses the option of biennial registration, such registration shall be maintained for the full twenty-four month period. Once the twenty-four month period has expired and another corporate registration report is due, a corporation may choose to file an annual registration report under section 355.856. However, upon making such choice the corporation may later only choose to file a biennial corporate registration report in a year appropriate under subsection 1 of this section, based on the year in which the corporation was incorporated.

3. The secretary of state may promulgate rules for the effective administration of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2009, shall be invalid and void.

356.211. 1. Each professional corporation and each foreign professional corporation shall file with the secretary of state [an annual corporation] a corporate registration report pursuant to section 351.120, RSMo, or section 351.122, RSMo. The corporate registration report shall set forth the following information: the names and residence or physical business addresses of all officers, directors and shareholders of that professional corporation as of the date of the report.

2. The report shall be made on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state, and shall be executed by an officer of the corporation or authorized person.

3. A filing fee in the amount set out in section 351.125, RSMo, or section 351.122, RSMo, shall be paid with the filing of each report, and no other fees shall be charged therefor; except that, penalty fees may be imposed by the secretary of state for late filings. The report shall be filed subject to the time requirements of section 351.120, RSMo, or section 351.122, RSMo.

4. If a professional corporation or foreign professional corporation shall fail to file a report qualifying with the provisions of this section when such a filing is due, then the corporation shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 351, RSMo, that are applicable to a corporation that has failed to timely file the [annual] corporate registration report required to be filed under chapter 351, RSMo.

359.681. In addition to the power and authority given the secretary of state by this chapter, the secretary of state or his designee shall have such further authority as is reasonably necessary to enable the secretary of state to administer this chapter efficiently and to perform the secretary of state's duties. This authority shall consist of, but is not limited to, the following powers:

(1) (a) The power to examine the books and records of any limited partnership to which this chapter applies, and it shall be the duty of any general partner or agent of such limited partnership to produce such books and records for examination on demand of the secretary of state or designated employee; provided, that no person shall be subject to any criminal prosecution on account of any matter or thing which may be disclosed by the examination of any limited partnership books, or records, which they may produce or exhibit for examination; or on account of any matter or thing concerning which they may make any voluntary and truthful statement in writing to the secretary of state, or designated employee. All facts obtained in the examination of the books and records of any limited partnership, or through voluntary sworn statement of any partner, agent, or employee of any limited partnership, shall be treated as confidential, except insofar as official duty may require the disclosure of same; or when such facts are material to any issue in any legal proceeding in which the secretary of state or designated employee may be a party or called as a witness, and, if the secretary of state or designated employee shall, except as herein provided, disclose any information relative to the private accounts, affairs, and transactions of any such limited partnership, he shall be deemed guilty of a class C misdemeanor.

(b) If any general partner, or registered agent, of any such limited partnership shall refuse the demand of the secretary of state, or designated employee, to exhibit the books and records of such limited partnership for examination, he, or they, shall be deemed guilty of a class B misdemeanor.

(2) (a) The power to cancel or disapprove any certificate of limited partnership or other filing required under this chapter, if the limited partnership fails to comply with the provisions of this chapter by failing to file required documents under this chapter by failing to maintain a registered agent, by failing to pay the required filing fees, by using fraud or deception in effecting any filing, by filing a required document containing a false statement, or by violating any section or sections of the criminal laws of Missouri, the federal government or any other state of the United States. Thirty days before such cancellation shall take effect, the secretary of state shall notify the limited partnership with written notice, either personally or by mail. If mailed, the notice shall be deemed delivered five days after it is deposited in the United States mail in a sealed envelope addressed to such limited partnership's last registered agent and office or to one of the limited partnership's general partners. The written notice of the secretary of state's proposed cancellation to the limited partnership, domestic or foreign, will specify the reasons for such action.

(b) The limited partnership may appeal this notice of proposed cancellation to the circuit court of the county in which the registered office of such limited partnership is or is proposed to be situated by filing with the clerk of such court a petition setting forth a copy of the certificate of limited partnership or other relevant documents and a copy of the proposed written cancellation thereof by the secretary of state, such petition to be filed within thirty days after notice of such cancellation shall have been given, and the matter shall be tried by the court, and the court shall either sustain the action of the secretary of state or direct him to take such action as the court may deem proper. An appeal from the circuit court in such a case shall be allowed as in civil action.

(c) The limited partnership may provide information to the secretary of state that would allow the secretary of state to withdraw the notice of proposed cancellation. This information may consist of, but need not be limited to, corrected statements and documents, new filings, affidavits and certified copies of other filed documents.

(3) The power to rescind a cancellation provided for in subsection 2 of this section upon compliance with either of the following:

(a) The affected limited partnership provides the necessary documents and affidavits indicating the limited partnership has corrected the conditions causing the proposed cancellation or the cancellation;

(b) The limited partnership provides the correct statements or documentation that the limited partnership is not in violation of any section of the criminal code.

(4) The power to charge late filing fees for any filing fee required under this chapter. Late filing fees shall be assessed at a rate of ten dollars for each thirty-day period of delinquency.

(5) (a) The power to administratively cancel a certificate of limited partnership if the limited partnership's period of duration stated in the certificate of limited partnership expires.

(b) Not less than thirty days before such administrative cancellation shall take effect, the secretary of state shall notify the limited partnership with written notice, either personally or by mail. If mailed, the notice shall be deemed delivered five days after it is deposited in the United States mail in a sealed envelope addressed to such limited partnership's last registered agent and office or to one of the limited partnership's general partners.

(c) If the limited partnership does not timely file a certificate of amendment in accordance with section 359.101 to extend the duration of the limited partnership, which may be any number of years or perpetual, or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that the period of duration determined by the secretary of state is incorrect, within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected by posting with the United States Postal Service, then the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of limited partnership by signing a certificate of administrative cancellation that recites the grounds for cancellation and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the limited partnership as provided in section 359.141.

(d) A limited partnership whose certificate of limited partnership has been administratively cancelled continues its existence but may not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs under section 359.471 and notify claimants under section 359.481.

(e) The administrative cancellation of a certificate of limited partnership does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

(6) (a) The power to rescind an administrative cancellation and reinstate the certificate of limited partnership.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in the partnership agreement, a limited partnership whose certificate of limited partnership has been administratively cancelled under subdivision (5) of this section may file a certificate of amendment in accordance with section 359.101 to extend the duration of the limited partnership, which may be any number or perpetual.

(c) A limited partnership whose certificate of limited partnership has been administratively cancelled under subdivision (5) of this section may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement. The applicant shall:

a. Recite the name of the limited partnership and the effective date of its administrative cancellation;

b. State that the grounds for cancellation either did not exist or have been eliminated, as applicable, and be accompanied by documentation satisfactory to the secretary of state evidencing the same;

c. State that the limited partnership's name satisfies the requirements of section 359.021;

d. Be accompanied by a reinstatement fee in the amount of one hundred dollars, or such greater amount as required by state regulation, plus any delinquent fees, penalties, and other charges as determined by the secretary of state to then be due.

(d) If the secretary of state determines that the application contains the information and is accompanied by the fees required in paragraph (c) of this subdivision and that the information and fees are correct, the secretary of state shall rescind the certificate of administrative cancellation and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites his or her determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original of the certificate, and serve a copy on the limited partnership as provided in section 359.141.

(e) When the reinstatement is effective, it shall relate back to and take effect as of the effective date of the administrative cancellation of the certificate of limited partnership and the limited partnership may continue carrying on its business as if the administrative cancellation had never occurred.

(f) In the event the name of the limited partnership was reissued by the secretary of state to another entity prior to the time application for reinstatement was filed, the limited partnership applying for reinstatement may elect to reinstate using a new name that complies with the requirements of section 359.021 and that has been approved by appropriate action of the limited partnership for changing the name thereof.

(g) If the secretary of state denies a limited partnership's application for reinstatement following administrative cancellation of the certificate of limited partnership, he or she shall serve the limited partnership as provided in section 359.141 with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.

(h) The limited partnership may appeal a denial of reinstatement as provided for in paragraph (b) of subdivision (2) of this section.

(7) Subdivision (6) of this section shall apply to any limited partnership whose certificate of limited partnership was cancelled because such limited partnership's period of duration stated in the certificate of limited partnership expired on or after August 28, 2003.

3. Upon the filing of the petition in a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or legal separation, each child shall immediately be subject to the jurisdiction of the court in which the proceeding is commenced, unless a proceeding involving allegations of abuse or neglect of the child is pending in juvenile court. Until permitted by order of the court, neither parent shall remove any child from the jurisdiction of the court or from any parent with whom the child has primarily resided for the sixty days immediately preceding the filing of a petition for dissolution of marriage or legal separation.

4. The mere fact that one parent has actual possession of the child at the time of filing shall not create a preference in favor of such parent in any judicial determination regarding custody of the child.

5. The respondent shall be served in the manner provided by the rules of the supreme court and applicable court rules and, to avoid an interlocutory judgment of default, shall file a verified answer within thirty days of the date of service which shall not only admit or deny the allegations of the petition, but shall also set forth:

- (1) The last four digits of the Social Security number of the petitioner, respondent and each child;
- (2) Any arrangements as to the custody and support of the child and the maintenance of each party; and
- (3) The relief sought.

6. Previously existing defenses to divorce and legal separation, including but not limited to condonation, connivance, collusion, recrimination, insanity, and lapse of time, are abolished.

7. The full Social Security number of each party and each child and the date of birth of each child shall be provided in the manner required under section 509.520, RSMo.

8. The petitioner and respondent shall submit a proposed parenting plan, either individually or jointly, within thirty days after service of process or the filing of the entry of appearance, whichever event first occurs of a motion to modify or a petition involving custody or visitation issues. The proposed parenting plan shall set forth the arrangements that the party believes to be in the best interest of the minor children and shall include but not be limited to:

(1) A specific written schedule detailing the custody, visitation and residential time for each child with each party including:

- (a) Major holidays stating which holidays a party has each year;
- (b) School holidays for school-age children;
- (c) The child's birthday, Mother's Day and Father's Day;

(d) Weekday and weekend schedules and for school-age children how the winter, spring, summer and other vacations from school will be spent;

(e) The times and places for transfer of the child between the parties in connection with the residential schedule;

(f) A plan for sharing transportation duties associated with the residential schedule;

(g) Appropriate times for telephone access;

(h) Suggested procedures for notifying the other party when a party requests a temporary variation from the residential schedule;

(i) Any suggested restrictions or limitations on access to a party and the reasons such restrictions are requested;

(2) A specific written plan regarding legal custody which details how the decision-making rights and responsibilities will be shared between the parties including the following:

- (a) Educational decisions and methods of communicating information from the school to both parties;
 - (b) Medical, dental and health care decisions including how health care providers will be selected and a method of communicating medical conditions of the child and how emergency care will be handled;
 - (c) Extracurricular activities, including a method for determining which activities the child will participate in when those activities involve time during which each party is the custodian;
 - (d) Child care providers, including how such providers will be selected;
 - (e) Communication procedures including access to telephone numbers as appropriate;
 - (f) A dispute resolution procedure for those matters on which the parties disagree or in interpreting the parenting plan;
 - (g) If a party suggests no shared decision-making, a statement of the reasons for such a request;
- (3) How the expenses of the child, including child care, educational and extraordinary expenses as defined in the child support guidelines established by the supreme court, will be paid including:
- (a) The suggested amount of child support to be paid by each party;
 - (b) The party who will maintain or provide health insurance for the child and how the medical, dental, vision, psychological and other health care expenses of the child not paid by insurance will be paid by the parties;
 - (c) The payment of educational expenses, if any;
 - (d) The payment of extraordinary expenses of the child, if any;
 - (e) Child care expenses, if any;
 - (f) Transportation expenses, if any.

[8.] 9. If the proposed parenting plans of the parties differ and the parties cannot resolve the differences or if any party fails to file a proposed parenting plan, upon motion of either party and an opportunity for the parties to be heard, the court shall enter a temporary order containing a parenting plan setting forth the arrangements specified in subsection [7] 8 of this section which will remain in effect until further order of the court. The temporary order entered by the court shall not create a preference for the court in its adjudication of final custody, child support or visitation.

[9.] 10. Within one hundred twenty days after August 28, 1998, the Missouri supreme court shall have in effect guidelines for a parenting plan form which may be used by the parties pursuant to this section in any dissolution of marriage, legal separation or modification proceeding involving issues of custody and visitation relating to the child.

[10.] 11. The filing of a parenting plan for any child over the age of eighteen for whom custody, visitation, or support is being established or modified by a court of competent jurisdiction is not required. Nothing in this section shall be construed as precluding the filing of a parenting plan upon agreement of the parties or if ordered to do so by the court for any child over the age of eighteen for whom custody, visitation, or support is being established or modified by a court of competent jurisdiction.

452.312. 1. Every petition for dissolution of marriage or legal separation, every motion for modification of a decree respecting maintenance or support, and every petition or motion for support of a minor child shall contain the [name and address of the current employer and the] last four digits of the Social Security number of the petitioner or movant, if a person, [and, if known to petitioner or movant, the name and address of the current employer] and the last four digits of the Social Security number of the respondent. The name and address of the petitioner's and respondent's current employer shall be provided and retained in the same manner as required under section 509.520, RSMo.

2. Every responsive pleading to a petition for dissolution of marriage or legal separation, motion for modification of a decree respecting maintenance or support, and petition or motion for support of a minor child shall contain the name and address of the current employer and the last four digits of the Social Security number of the respondent, if the respondent is a person.

3. Every decree dissolving a marriage, every order modifying a previous decree of dissolution or divorce, and every order for support of a minor child shall contain the last four digits of the Social Security numbers of the parties, if disclosed by the pleadings.

4. The full Social Security number of each party and each child shall be retained in the manner required by section 509.520, RSMo.

452.343. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, every judgment or order issued in this state which, in whole or in part, affects child custody, child support, visitation, modification of custody, support or visitation, or is issued pursuant to section 454.470 or 454.475, RSMo, shall contain the last four digits of the Social Security number of the parties to the action which gives rise to such judgment or order. The full Social Security number of each party and each child shall be retained in the manner required by section 509.520, RSMo.

452.423. 1. In all proceedings for child custody or for dissolution of marriage or legal separation where custody, visitation, or support of a child is a contested issue, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem. Disqualification of a guardian ad litem shall be ordered in any legal proceeding only pursuant to this chapter, upon the filing of a written application by any party within ten days of appointment, or within ten days of August 28, 1998, if the appointment occurs prior to August 28, 1998. Each party shall be entitled to one disqualification of a guardian ad litem appointed under this subsection in each proceeding, except a party may be entitled to additional disqualifications of a guardian ad litem for good cause shown.

2. The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem in any proceeding in which child abuse or neglect is alleged.

3. The guardian ad litem shall:

(1) Be the legal representative of the child at the hearing, and may examine, cross-examine, subpoena witnesses and offer testimony;

(2) Prior to the hearing, conduct all necessary interviews with persons having contact with or knowledge of the child in order to ascertain the child's wishes, feelings, attachments and attitudes. If appropriate, the child should be interviewed;

(3) Request the juvenile officer to cause a petition to be filed in the juvenile division of the circuit court if the guardian ad litem believes the child alleged to be abused or neglected is in danger.

4. The appointing judge shall require the guardian ad litem to faithfully discharge such guardian ad litem's duties, and upon failure to do so shall discharge such guardian ad litem and appoint another. The judge in making appointments pursuant to this section shall give preference to persons who served as guardian ad litem for the child in the earlier proceeding, unless there is a reason on the record for not giving such preference.

5. The guardian ad litem shall be awarded a reasonable fee for such services to be set by the court. The court, in its discretion, may:

(1) Issue a direct payment order to the parties. If a party fails to comply with the court's direct payment order, the court may find such party to be in contempt of court; or

(2) Award such fees as a judgment to be paid by any party to the proceedings or from public funds. Such an award of guardian fees shall constitute a final judgment in favor of the guardian ad litem. Such final judgment shall be enforceable against the parties in accordance with chapter 513, RSMo.

[6. The court may designate volunteer advocates, who may or may not be attorneys licensed to practice law, to assist in the performance of the guardian ad litem duties for the court. The volunteer advocate shall be provided with all reports relevant to the case made to or by any agency or person and shall have access to all records of such agencies or persons relating to the child or such child's family members. Any such designated person shall receive no compensation from public funds. This shall not preclude reimbursement for reasonable expenses.]

452.426. If the judge determines that there is potential risk of international abduction of the child by either party, the judge may place any restraints on the parties or grant any remedies to either party that is necessary.

452.430. Any pleadings, other than the interlocutory or final judgment, in a dissolution of marriage or legal separation filed prior to August 28, 2009, shall be subject to inspection only by the parties or an attorney of record or upon order of the court for good cause shown, or by the family support division within the department of social services when services are being provided under section 454.400, RSMo. The clerk shall redact the Social Security number from any judgment or pleading before releasing the interlocutory or final judgment to the public.

452.700. Sections 452.700 to 452.930 may be cited as the "Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction and Enforcement Act".

ARTICLE II JURISDICTION

452.740. 1. Except as otherwise provided in section 452.755, a court of this state has jurisdiction to make an initial child custody determination only if:

(1) This state is the home state of the child on the date of the commencement of the proceeding, or was the home state of the child within six months prior to the commencement of the proceeding and the child is absent from this state but a parent or person acting as a parent continues to live in this state;

(2) A court of another state does not have jurisdiction under subdivision (1) of this subsection, or a court of the home state of the child has declined to exercise jurisdiction on the ground that this state is the more appropriate forum under section 452.770 or 452.775, and:

(a) The child and the child’s parents, or the child and at least one parent or person acting as a parent have a significant connection with this state other than mere physical presence; and

(b) Substantial evidence is available in this state concerning the child’s care, protection, training and personal relationships;

(3) All courts having jurisdiction under subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection have declined to exercise jurisdiction on the ground that a court of this state is the more appropriate forum to determine the custody of the child under section 452.770 or 452.775; or

(4) No state would have jurisdiction under subdivision (1), (2) or (3) of this subsection.

2. Subsection 1 of this section is the exclusive jurisdictional basis for making a child custody determination by a court of this state.

3. Physical presence of, or personal jurisdiction over, a party or a child is not necessary or sufficient to make a child custody determination.

452.745. 1. Except as otherwise provided in section 452.755, a court of this state that has made a child custody determination consistent with section 452.740 or 452.750 has exclusive continuing jurisdiction over the determination until:

(1) A court of this state determines that neither the child, the child and one parent, nor the child and a person acting as a parent have a significant connection with this state, and that substantial evidence is no longer available in this state concerning the child's care, protection, training and personal relationships; or

(2) A court of this state or a court of another state determines that neither the child, nor a parent, nor any person acting as a parent presently resides in this state.

2. A court of this state that has exclusive continuing jurisdiction under this section may decline to exercise its jurisdiction if the court determines that it is an inconvenient forum under section 452.770.

3. A court of this state that has made a child custody determination and does not have exclusive continuing jurisdiction under this section may modify that determination only if it has jurisdiction to make an initial determination under section 452.740.

452.747. 1. Any petition for modification of child custody decrees filed under the provisions of section 452.410 or sections 452.700 to 452.930 shall be verified and, if the original proceeding originated in the state of Missouri, shall be filed in that original case, but service shall be obtained and responsive pleadings may be filed as in any original proceeding.

2. Before making a decree under section 452.410 or sections 452.700 to 452.930, the litigants, any parent whose parental rights have not been previously terminated, and any person who has physical custody of the child shall be served in the manner provided by the rules of civil procedure and applicable court rules and may within thirty days after the date of service (forty-five days if service by publication) file a verified answer. If any such persons are outside this state, notice and opportunity to be heard shall be given under section 452.740.

452.750. Except as otherwise provided in section 452.755, a court of this state shall not modify a child custody determination made by a court of another state unless a court of this state has jurisdiction to make an initial determination under subdivision (1) or (2) of subsection 1 of section 452.740 and:

(1) The court of the other state determines it no longer has exclusive continuing jurisdiction under section 452.745 or that a court of this state would be a more convenient forum under section 452.770; or

(2) A court of this state or a court of the other state determines that neither the child, nor a parent, nor any person acting as a parent presently resides in the other state.

452.755. 1. A court of this state has temporary emergency jurisdiction if the child is present in this state and the child has been abandoned, or it is necessary in an emergency to protect the child because the child, or a sibling or parent of the child, is subjected to or threatened with mistreatment or abuse.

2. If there is no previous child custody determination that is entitled to be enforced under sections 452.700 to 452.930, and if no child custody proceeding has been commenced in a court of a state having jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750, a child custody determination made under this section remains in effect until an order is obtained from a court of a state having jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750. If a child custody proceeding has not been or is not commenced in a court of a state having jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750, a child custody determination made under this section becomes a final determination if:

(1) It so provides; and

(2) This state becomes the home state of the child.

3. If there is a previous child custody determination that is entitled to be enforced under sections 452.700 to 452.930, or a child custody proceeding has been commenced in a court of a state having jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750, any order issued by a court of this state under this section shall specify in the order a period of time which the court considers adequate to allow the person seeking an order to obtain an order from the state having jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750. The order issued in this state remains in effect until an order is obtained from the other state within the period specified or the period expires.

4. A court of this state that has been asked to make a child custody determination under this section, upon being informed that a child custody proceeding has been commenced, or a child custody determination has been made, by a court of a state having jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750, shall immediately communicate with the other court. A court of this state that is exercising jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750, upon being informed that a child custody proceeding has been commenced, or a child custody determination has been made by a court of another state under a statute similar to this section shall immediately communicate with the court of that state. The purpose of such communication is to resolve the emergency, protect the safety of the parties and the child, and determine a period for the duration of the temporary order.

452.760. 1. Before a child custody determination is made under sections 452.700 to 452.930, notice and an opportunity to be heard in accordance with the standards of section 452.762 shall be given to:

(1) All persons entitled to notice under the provisions of the law of this state as in child custody proceedings between residents of this state;

(2) Any parent whose parental rights have not been previously terminated; and

(3) Any person having physical custody of the child.

2. Sections 452.700 to 452.930 shall not govern the enforceability of a child custody determination made without notice and an opportunity to be heard.

3. The obligation to join a party and the right to intervene as a party in a child custody proceeding under sections 452.700 to 452.930 are governed by the law of this state as in child custody proceedings between residents of this state.

452.762. 1. Notice required for the exercise of jurisdiction when a person is outside this state may be given in a manner prescribed by the law of this state for the service of process or by the law of the state in which the service is made. Notice must be given in a manner reasonably calculated to give actual notice, but may be by publication if other means are not effective.

2. Proof of service may be made in the manner prescribed by law of this state or by the law of the state in which the service is made.

3. Notice is not required for the exercise of jurisdiction with respect to a person who submits to the jurisdiction of the court.

452.765. 1. Except as otherwise provided in section 452.755, a court of this state shall not exercise its jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.785 if, at the time of the commencement of the proceeding, a proceeding concerning the custody of the child had been previously commenced in a court of another state having jurisdiction substantially in conformity with sections 452.700 to 452.930, unless the proceeding has been terminated or is stayed by the court of the other state because a court of this state is a more convenient forum under section 452.770.

2. Except as otherwise provided in section 452.755, a court of this state, prior to hearing a child custody proceeding, shall examine the court documents and other information supplied by the parties under section 452.780. If the court determines that a child custody proceeding was previously commenced in a court in another state having jurisdiction substantially in accordance with sections 452.700 to 452.930, the court of this state shall stay its proceeding and communicate with the court of the other state. If the court of the state having jurisdiction substantially in accordance with sections 452.700 to 452.930 does not determine that the court of this state is a more appropriate forum, the court of this state shall dismiss the proceeding.

3. In a proceeding to modify a child custody determination, a court of this state shall determine if a proceeding to enforce the determination has been commenced in another state. If a proceeding to enforce a child custody determination has been commenced in another state, the court may:

(1) Stay the proceeding for modification pending the entry of an order of a court of the other state enforcing, staying, denying or dismissing the proceeding for enforcement;

(2) Enjoin the parties from continuing with the proceeding for enforcement; or

(3) Proceed with the modification under conditions it considers appropriate.

452.770. 1. A court of this state that has jurisdiction under sections 452.700 to 452.930 to make a child custody determination may decline to exercise its jurisdiction at any time if the court determines that it is an inconvenient forum under the circumstances and that a court of another state is a more appropriate forum. The issue of inconvenient forum may be raised upon the court's own motion, at the request of another court or upon motion of a party.

2. Before determining whether the court is an inconvenient forum, a court of this state shall consider whether it is appropriate that a court of another state exercise jurisdiction. For this purpose, the court shall allow the parties to submit information and shall consider all relevant factors, including:

- (1) Whether domestic violence has occurred and is likely to continue in the future and which state could best protect the parties and the child;
- (2) The length of time the child has resided outside this state;
- (3) The distance between the court in this state and the court in the state that would assume jurisdiction;
- (4) The relative financial circumstances of the parties;
- (5) Any agreement of the parties as to which state should assume jurisdiction;
- (6) The nature and location of the evidence required to resolve the pending litigation, including the testimony of the child;
- (7) The ability of the court of each state to decide the issue expeditiously and the procedures necessary to present the evidence; and
- (8) The familiarity of the court of each state with the facts and issues of the pending litigation.

3. If a court of this state determines that it is an inconvenient forum and that a court of another state is a more appropriate forum, the court shall stay the proceedings on the condition that a child custody proceeding be promptly commenced in another designated state and may impose any other condition the court considers just and proper.

4. A court of this state may decline to exercise its jurisdiction under sections 452.700 to 452.930 if a child custody determination is incidental to an action for divorce or another proceeding while still retaining jurisdiction over the divorce or other proceeding.

452.775. 1. Except as otherwise provided in section 452.755, if a court of this state has jurisdiction under sections 452.700 to 452.930 because a person invoking the jurisdiction has engaged in unjustifiable conduct, the court shall decline to exercise its jurisdiction unless:

- (1) The parents and all persons acting as parents have acquiesced in the exercise of jurisdiction;
- (2) A court of the state otherwise having jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750 determines that this state is a more appropriate forum under section 452.770; or
- (3) No other state would have jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750.

2. If a court of this state declines to exercise its jurisdiction under subsection 1 of this section, the court may fashion an appropriate remedy to ensure the safety of the child and prevent a repetition of the wrongful conduct, including staying the proceeding until a child custody proceeding is commenced in a court having jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.750.

3. If a court dismisses a petition or stays a proceeding because it declines to exercise its jurisdiction under subsection 1 of this section, the court shall charge the party invoking the jurisdiction of the court with necessary and reasonable expenses including costs, communication expenses, attorney's fees, investigative fees, expenses for witnesses, travel expenses and child care during the course of the proceedings, unless the party from whom fees are sought establishes that the award would be clearly inappropriate. The court may not assess fees, costs or expenses against this state except as otherwise provided by law other than sections 452.700 to 452.930.

452.780. 1. Subject to local law providing for the confidentiality of procedures, addresses, and other identifying information, in a child custody proceeding, each party, in its first pleading or in an attached affidavit, shall give information, if reasonably ascertainable, under oath as to the child's present address, the places where the child has lived during the last five years, and the names and present addresses of the persons with whom the child has lived during such period. The pleading or affidavit shall state whether the party:

(1) Has participated, as a party or witness or in any other capacity, in any other proceeding concerning the custody of or visitation with the child and, if so, identify the court, case number of the proceeding and date of the child custody determination, if any;

(2) Knows of any proceeding that could affect the current proceeding, including proceedings for enforcement and proceedings relating to domestic violence, protective orders, termination of parental rights, and adoptions and, if so, identify the court and case number and nature of the proceeding; and

(3) Knows the names and addresses of any person not a party to the proceeding who has physical custody of the child or claims rights of legal custody or physical custody of, or visitation with, the child and, if so, the names and addresses of such persons.

2. If the information required by subsection 1 of this section is not furnished, the court, upon its own motion or that of a party, may stay the proceeding until the information is furnished.

3. If the declaration as to any of the items described in subdivisions (1) to (3) of subsection 1 of this section is in the affirmative, the declarant shall give additional information under oath as required by the court. The court may examine the parties under oath as to details of the information furnished and other matters pertinent to the court's jurisdiction and the disposition of the case.

4. Each party has a continuing duty to inform the court of any proceeding in this or any other state that could affect the current proceeding.

5. If a party alleges in an affidavit or a pleading under oath that the health, safety, or liberty of a party or child would be put at risk by the disclosure of identifying information, that information shall be sealed and not disclosed to the other party or the public unless the court orders the disclosure to be made after a hearing in which the court takes into consideration the health, safety, or liberty of the party or child and determines that the disclosure is in the interest of justice.

452.782. If the court learns from information furnished by the parties under section 452.800 or from other sources that a person not a party to the custody proceeding has physical custody of the child or claims to have custody or visitation rights with respect to the child, it may order that person to be joined as a party and to be duly notified of the pendency of the proceeding and of his or her joinder as a party. If the person joined as a party is outside this state, such person shall be served with process or otherwise notified in accordance with section 452.762.

452.785. 1. The court may order any party to the proceeding who is in this state to appear before the court personally. If the court finds the physical presence of the child to be in the best interest of the child, the court may order that the party who has physical custody of the child to appear physically with the child.

2. If a party to a child custody proceeding whose presence is desired by the court is outside this state, with or without the child, the court may order that a notice given under section 452.762 include a statement directing the party to appear personally with or without the child.

3. If a party to the proceeding who is outside this state is directed to appear under subsection 1 of this section or desires to appear personally before the court with or without the child, the court may require another party to pay to the clerk of the court travel and other necessary expenses of the party so appearing and of the child, if this is just and proper under the circumstances.

4. If the court finds it to be in the best interest of the child that a guardian ad litem be appointed, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem for the child. The guardian ad litem so appointed shall be an attorney licensed to practice law in the state of Missouri. Disqualification of a guardian ad litem shall be ordered in any legal proceeding under this chapter upon the filing of a written application by any party within ten days of appointment. Each party shall be entitled to one disqualification of a guardian ad litem appointed under this subsection in each proceeding, except a party may be entitled to additional disqualifications of a guardian ad litem for good cause shown. The guardian ad litem may, for the purpose of determining custody of the child only, participate in the proceeding as if such guardian ad litem were a party. The court shall enter judgment allowing a reasonable fee to the guardian ad litem.

5. The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem in any proceeding in which child abuse or neglect is alleged.

6. The court may enter any orders necessary to ensure the safety of the child and of any person ordered to appear under this section.

452.790. A child custody determination made by a court of this state that had jurisdiction under sections 452.700 to 452.930 binds all persons who have been served in accordance with the laws of this state or notified in accordance with section 452.762 or who have submitted to the jurisdiction of the court, and who have been given an opportunity to be heard. The determination is conclusive as to them as to all decided issues of law and fact except to the extent the determination is modified.

452.795. A court of this state shall accord full faith and credit to an order made consistently with sections 452.700 to 452.930 which enforces a child custody determination by a court of another state unless the order has been vacated, stayed, or modified by a court authorized to do so under sections 452.740 to 452.845.

452.800. Except as otherwise provided in section 452.755, a court of this state may not modify a child custody determination made by a court of another state unless a court of this state has jurisdiction to make an initial determination under subdivision (1) or (2) of subsection 1 of section 452.740 and:

(1) The court of the other state determines that it no longer has exclusive, continuing jurisdiction under section 452.745 or that a court of this state would be a more convenient forum under section 452.770; or

(2) A court of this state or a court of the other state determines that neither child, nor a parent, nor any person acting as a parent presently resides in the other state.

452.805. 1. A certified copy of a custody decree of another state may be filed in the office of the clerk of any circuit court of this state. The clerk shall treat the decree in the same manner as a custody decree of the circuit court of this state. A custody decree so filed has the same effect and shall be enforced in like manner as a custody decree rendered by a court of this state.

2. A person violating a custody decree of another state which makes it necessary to enforce the decree in this state may be required to pay necessary travel and other expenses, including attorneys' fees, incurred by the party entitled to the custody or the party's witnesses.

3. A court of this state shall recognize and enforce a child custody determination of a court of another state if the latter court exercised jurisdiction that was in substantial conformity with sections 452.700 to 452.930 or the determination was made under factual circumstances meeting the jurisdictional standards of sections 452.700 to 452.930 and the determination has not been modified in accordance with sections 452.700 to 452.930.

4. A court may utilize any remedy available under other law of this state to enforce a child custody determination made by a court of another state. The procedure provided by sections 452.740 to 452.845 does not affect the availability of other remedies to enforce a child custody determination.

452.810. 1. A child custody determination issued by a court of another state may be registered in this state, with or without a simultaneous request for enforcement, by sending to the appropriate court in this state:

(1) A letter or other document requesting registration;

(2) Two copies, including one certified copy, of the determination sought to be registered, and a statement under penalty of perjury that to the best of the knowledge and belief of the person seeking registration the order has not been modified; and

(3) Except as otherwise provided in section 452.780, the name and address of the person seeking registration and any parent or person acting as a parent who has been awarded custody or visitation in the child custody determination sought to be registered.

2. On receipt of the documents required in subsection 1 of this section, the registering court shall:

(1) Cause the determination to be filed as a foreign judgment, together with one copy of any accompanying documents and information, regardless of their form; and

(2) Serve notice upon the persons named under subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section and provide them with an opportunity to contest the registration in accordance with this section.

3. The notice required by subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of this section must state:

(1) That a registered determination is enforceable as of the date of the registration in the same manner as a determination issued by a court of this state;

(2) That a hearing to contest the validity of the registered determination must be requested within twenty days after service of notice; and

(3) That failure to contest the registration will result in confirmation of the child custody determination and preclude further contest of that determination with respect to any matter that could have been asserted.

4. A person seeking to contest the validity of a registered order must request a hearing within twenty days after service of the notice. At that hearing, the court shall confirm the registered order unless the person contesting registration establishes that:

(1) The issuing court did not have jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.845;

(2) The child custody determination sought to be registered has been vacated, stayed, or modified by a court of a state having jurisdiction to do so under sections 452.740 to 452.845; or

(3) The person contesting registration was entitled to notice, but notice was not given in accordance with the standards of section 452.740 in the proceedings before the court that issued the order for which registration is sought.

5. If a timely request for a hearing to contest the validity of the registration is not made, the registration is confirmed as a matter of law and the person requesting registration and all persons served must be notified of the confirmation.

6. Confirmation of a registered order, whether by operation of law or after notice and hearing, precludes further contest of the order with respect to any matter which could have been asserted at the time of registration.

452.815. The clerk of the circuit court of this state, at the request of the court of another state or at the request of any person who is affected by or has a legitimate interest in a custody decree, may, upon payment therefor, certify and forward a copy of the decree to that court or person.

452.820. 1. In addition to other procedures available to a party, a party to a child custody proceeding may offer testimony of witnesses who are located in another state, including testimony of the parties and the child, by deposition or other means allowable in this state for testimony taken in another state. The court on its own motion may order that the testimony of a person be taken in another state and may prescribe the manner in which and the terms upon which the testimony is taken.

2. A court of this state may permit an individual residing in another state to be deposed or to testify by telephone, audiovisual means, or other electronic means before a designated court or at another location in that state. A court of this state shall cooperate with courts of other states in designating an appropriate location for the deposition or testimony.

3. Documentary evidence transmitted from another state to a court of this state by technological means that do not produce an original writing may not be excluded from evidence on an objection based on the means of transmission.

452.825. 1. A court of this state may request the appropriate court of another state to hold a hearing to obtain evidence, to order persons within that state to produce or give evidence under other procedures of that state, or to have social studies made with respect to the custody of a child involved in proceedings pending in the court of this state; and to forward to the court of this state certified copies of the transcript of the record of the hearing, the evidence otherwise obtained, or any social studies prepared in compliance with the request. The cost of the services may be assessed against the parties.

2. A court of this state may request the appropriate court of another state to order a party to custody proceedings pending in the court of this state to appear in the proceedings and, if that party has physical custody of the child, to appear with the child. The request may state that travel and other necessary expenses of the party and of the child whose appearance is desired will be assessed against the appropriate party.

452.830. 1. Upon request of the court of another state, the courts of this state which are competent to hear custody matters may order a person in this state to appear at a hearing to obtain evidence or to produce or give evidence under other procedures available in this state for use in a custody proceeding in another state. A certified copy of the transcript of the record of the hearing or the evidence otherwise obtained may, in the discretion of the court and upon payment therefor, be forwarded to the requesting court.

2. A person within this state may voluntarily give his testimony or statement in this state for use in a custody proceeding outside this state.

3. Upon request of the court of another state, a competent court of this state may order a person in this state to appear alone or with the child in a custody proceeding in another state. The court may condition compliance with the request upon assurance by the other state that travel and other necessary expenses will be advanced or reimbursed.

452.835. A court of this state shall preserve the pleadings, orders, decrees, records of hearings, evaluations, and other pertinent records with respect to a child custody proceeding until the child reaches eighteen years of age. Upon appropriate request by the court or law enforcement official of another state, the court shall forward certified copies of these records.

452.840. If a custody decree has been rendered in another state concerning a child involved in a custody proceeding pending in a court of this state, the court of this state, upon taking jurisdiction of the case, shall request of the court of the other state a certified copy of the transcript of any court record and other documents mentioned in section 452.835.

452.845. If a question of existence or exercise of jurisdiction under sections 452.700 to 452.930 is raised in a child custody proceeding, the question, upon request of a party, must be given priority on the calendar and handled expeditiously.

ARTICLE III ENFORCEMENT

452.850. As used in sections 452.850 to 452.915:

(1) “Petitioner” means a person who seeks enforcement of a child custody determination or enforcement of an order for the return of the child under the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction;

(2) “Respondent” means a person against whom a proceeding has been commenced for enforcement of a child custody determination or enforcement of an order for the return of the child under the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction.

452.855. 1. Sections 452.850 to 452.915 may be invoked to enforce:

(1) A child custody determination; and

(2) An order for the return of the child made under the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction.

2. A court of this state which does not have jurisdiction to modify a child custody determination may issue a temporary order enforcing:

(1) A visitation schedule made by a court of another state; or

(2) The visitation provisions of a child custody determination of another state that does not provide for a specific visitation schedule.

3. If a court of this state makes an order under subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of this section, the court shall specify in the order a period of time which it considers adequate to allow the person seeking the order to obtain an order from the state having jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.845. The order remains in effect until an order is obtained from the other state or the period expires.

452.860. 1. A court of this state may grant any relief normally available under the provisions of the laws of this state to enforce a registered child custody determination made by a court of another state.

2. A court of this state shall recognize and enforce, but shall not modify, except in accordance with sections 452.740 to 452.845, a registered child custody determination of another state.

452.865. If a proceeding for enforcement under sections 452.850 to 452.915 has been or is commenced in this state and a court of this state determines that a proceeding to modify the determination has been commenced in another state having jurisdiction to modify the determination under sections 452.740 to 452.845, the enforcing court shall immediately communicate with the modifying court. The proceeding for enforcement continues unless the enforcing court, after consultation with the modifying court, stays or dismisses the proceeding.

452.870. 1. A petition under sections 452.850 to 452.915 shall be verified. Certified copies of all orders sought to be enforced and of the order confirming registration, if any, shall be attached to the petition. A copy of a certified copy of an order may be attached instead of the original.

2. A petition for enforcement of a child custody determination shall state:

(1) Whether the court that issued the determination identified the jurisdictional basis it relied upon in exercising jurisdiction and, if so, what the basis was;

(2) Whether the determination for which enforcement is sought has been vacated, stayed or modified by a court whose decision shall be enforced under sections 452.700 to 452.930 or federal law and, if so, identify the court, case number of the proceeding and action taken;

(3) Whether any proceeding has been commenced that could affect the current proceeding, including proceedings relating to domestic violence, protective orders, termination of parental rights and adoptions, and, if so, identify the court, and the case number and nature of the proceeding;

(4) The present physical address of the child and respondent, if known; and

(5) Whether relief in addition to the immediate physical custody of the child and attorney's fees is sought, including a request for assistance from law enforcement officials and, if so, the relief sought.

3. If the child custody determination has been registered and confirmed under section 452.810, the petition shall also state the date and place of registration.

4. The court shall issue an order directing the respondent to appear with or without the child at a hearing and may enter any orders necessary to ensure the safety of the parties and the child.

5. The hearing shall be held on the next judicial day following service of process unless such date is impossible. In such event, the court shall hold the hearing on the first day possible. The court may extend the date of hearing at the request of the petitioner.

6. The order shall state the time and place of the hearing, and shall advise the respondent that at the hearing the court will order the delivery of the child and payment of fees, costs and expenses under section 452.890, and may set an additional hearing to determine if further relief is appropriate, unless the respondent appears and establishes that:

(1) The child custody determination is not registered and confirmed under section 452.810, and:

(a) The issuing court did not have jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.845;

(b) The child custody determination for which enforcement is sought has been vacated, stayed or modified by a court of a state having jurisdiction to do so under sections 452.740 to 452.845 or federal law; or

(c) The respondent was entitled to notice, but notice was not given in accordance with the standards of section 452.762 in the proceedings before the court that issued the order for which enforcement is sought; or

(2) The child custody determination for which enforcement is sought was registered and confirmed under section 452.810, but has been vacated, stayed or modified by a court of a state having jurisdiction to do so under sections 452.740 to 452.845 or federal law.

452.875. Except as otherwise provided in section 452.885, the petition and order shall be served by any method authorized by the laws of this state upon the respondent and any person who has physical custody of the child.

452.880. 1. Unless the court enters a temporary emergency order under section 452.755, upon a finding that a petitioner is entitled to the physical custody of the child immediately, the court shall order the child delivered to the petitioner unless the respondent establishes that:

(1) The child custody determination has not been registered and confirmed under section 452.810, and that:

(a) The issuing court did not have jurisdiction under sections 452.740 to 452.845;

(b) The child custody determination for which enforcement is sought has been vacated, stayed or modified by a court of a state having jurisdiction to do so under sections 452.740 to 452.845 or federal law; or

(c) The respondent was entitled to notice, but notice was not given in accordance with the standards of section 452.762 in the proceedings before the court that issued the order for which enforcement is sought; or

(2) The child custody determination for which enforcement is sought was registered and confirmed under section 452.810, but has been vacated, stayed or modified by a court of a state having jurisdiction to do so under sections 452.740 to 452.845 or federal law.

2. The court shall award the fees, costs and expenses authorized under section 452.890 and may grant additional relief, including a request for the assistance of law enforcement officials, and set a further hearing to determine if additional relief is appropriate.

3. If a party called to testify refuses to answer on the grounds that the testimony may be self-incriminating, the court may draw an adverse inference from such refusal.

4. A privilege against disclosure of communications between spouses and a defense of immunity based on the relationship of husband and wife, or parent and child shall not be invoked in a proceeding under sections 452.850 to 452.915.

452.885. 1. Upon the filing of a petition seeking enforcement of a child custody determination, the petitioner may file a verified application for the issuance of a warrant to take physical custody of the child if the child is likely to suffer serious imminent physical harm or removal from this state.

2. If the court, upon the testimony of the petitioner or other witnesses, finds that the child is likely to suffer serious imminent physical harm or be imminently removed from this state, the court may issue a warrant to take physical custody of the child. The petition shall be heard on the next judicial day after the warrant is executed. The warrant shall include the statements required under subsection 2 of section 452.870.

3. A warrant to take physical custody of a child shall:

(1) Recite the facts which a conclusion of serious imminent physical harm or removal from the jurisdiction is based;

(2) Direct law enforcement officers to take physical custody of the child immediately; and

(3) Provide for the placement of the child pending final relief.

4. The respondent shall be served with the petition, warrant and order immediately after the child is taken into physical custody.

5. A warrant to take physical custody of a child is enforceable throughout this state. If the court finds on the basis of the testimony of the petitioner or other witness that a less intrusive remedy is not effective, the court may authorize law enforcement officers to enter private property to take physical custody of the child. If required by the exigency of the case, the court may authorize law enforcement officers to make a forcible entry at any hour.

6. The court may impose conditions on the placement of a child to ensure the appearance of the child and the child's custodian.

452.890. 1. The court shall award the prevailing party, including a state, necessary and reasonable expenses incurred by or on behalf of the party, including costs, communication expenses, attorney's fees, investigative fees, expenses for witnesses, travel expenses and child care during the course of the proceedings, unless the party from whom fees or expenses are sought establishes that the award would be clearly inappropriate.

2. The court shall not assess fees, costs or expenses against a state except as otherwise provided by law other than sections 452.700 to 452.930.

452.895. A court of this state shall accord full faith and credit to an order made consistently with sections 452.700 to 452.930 which enforces a child custody determination by a court of another state unless the order has been vacated, stayed or modified by a court authorized to do so under sections 452.740 to 452.845.

452.900. An appeal may be taken from a final order in a proceeding under sections 452.850 to 452.915 in accordance with appellate procedures in other civil cases. Unless the court enters a temporary emergency order under section 452.755, the enforcing court shall not stay an order enforcing a child custody determination pending appeal.

452.905. 1. In a case arising under sections 452.700 to 452.930 or involving the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction, the appropriate public official may take any lawful action, including resort to a proceeding under sections 452.850 to 452.915 or any other available civil proceeding to locate a child, obtain the return of a child or enforce a child custody determination if there is:

(1) An existing child custody determination;

(2) A request from a court in a pending child custody case;

(3) A reasonable belief that a criminal statute has been violated; or

(4) A reasonable belief that the child has been wrongfully removed or retained in violation of the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction.

2. A prosecutor or an appropriate public official shall act on behalf of the court and shall not represent any party to a child custody determination.

452.910. At the request of a prosecutor or other appropriate public official acting under section 452.905, a law enforcement officer may take any lawful action reasonably necessary to locate a child or a party and assist such prosecutor or public official with responsibilities under section 452.905.

452.915. If the respondent is not the prevailing party, the court may assess against the respondent all direct expenses and costs incurred by the prosecutor or other appropriate public official and law enforcement officers under sections 452.905 and 452.910.

ARTICLE IV

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

452.920. In applying and construing sections 452.700 to 452.930, consideration must be given to the need to promote uniformity of the law with respect to its subject matter among states that enact it.

452.925. If any provision of sections 452.700 to 452.930 or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of sections 452.700 to 452.930 which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of sections 452.700 to 452.930 are severable.

452.930. A motion or other request for relief made in a child custody or enforcement proceeding which was commenced before August 28, 2009, is governed by the law in effect at the time the motion or other request was made.

454.500. 1. At any time after the entry of an order pursuant to sections 454.470 and 454.475, the obligated parent, the division, or the person or agency having custody of the dependent child may file a motion for modification with the director. Such motion shall be in writing, shall set forth the reasons for modification, and shall state the address of the moving party. The motion shall be served by the moving party in the manner provided for in subsection 5 of section 454.465 upon the obligated parent or the party holding the support rights, as appropriate. In addition, if the support rights are held by the division of family services on behalf of the state, a true copy of the motion shall be mailed by the moving party by certified mail to the person having custody of the dependent child at the last known address of that person. A hearing on the motion shall then be provided in the same manner, and determinations shall be based on considerations set out in section 454.475, unless the party served fails to respond within thirty days, in which case the director may enter an order by default. If the child for whom the order applies is no longer in the custody of a person receiving public assistance or receiving support enforcement services from the department, or a division thereof, pursuant to section 454.425, the director may certify the matter for hearing to the circuit court in which the order was filed pursuant to section 454.490 in lieu of holding a hearing pursuant to section 454.475. If the director certifies the matter for hearing to the circuit court, service of the motion to modify shall be had in accordance with the provisions of subsection 5 of section 452.370, RSMo. If the director does not certify the matter for hearing to the circuit court, service of the motion to modify shall be considered complete upon personal service, or on the date of mailing, if sent by certified mail. For the purpose of 42 U.S.C. 666(a)(9)(C), the director shall be considered the “appropriate agent” to receive the notice of the motion to modify for the obligee or the obligor, but only in those instances in which the matter is not certified to circuit court for hearing, and only when service of the motion is attempted on the obligee or obligor by certified mail.

2. A motion for modification made pursuant to this section shall not stay the director from enforcing and collecting upon the existing order pending the modification proceeding unless so ordered by the court.

3. Only payments accruing subsequent to the service of the motion for modification upon all named parties to the motion may be modified. Modification may be granted only upon a showing of a change of circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms unreasonable. In a proceeding for modification of any child support award, the director, in determining whether or not a substantial change in circumstances has occurred, shall consider all financial resources of both parties, including the extent to which the reasonable expenses of either party are, or should be, shared by a spouse or other person with whom he or she cohabits, and the earning capacity of a party who is not employed. If the application of the guidelines and criteria set forth in supreme court rule 88.01 to the financial circumstances of the parties would result in a change of child support from the existing amount by twenty percent or more, then a prima facie showing has been made of a change of circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the present terms unreasonable.

4. The circuit court may, upon such terms as may be just, relieve a parent from an administrative order entered against that parent because of mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect.

5. No order entered pursuant to section 454.476 shall be modifiable pursuant to this section, except that an order entered pursuant to section 454.476 shall be amended by the director to conform with any modification made by the court that entered the court order upon which the director based his or her order.

6. When the party seeking modifications has met the burden of proof set forth in subsection 3 of this section, then the child support shall be determined in conformity with the criteria set forth in supreme court rule 88.01.

7. The last four digits of the Social Security number of the parents shall be recorded on any order entered pursuant to this section. The full Social Security number of each party and each child shall be retained in the manner required by section 509.520, RSMo.

455.010. As used in sections 455.010 to 455.085, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, the following terms shall mean:

(1) “Abuse” includes but is not limited to the occurrence of any of the following acts, attempts or threats against a person who may be protected pursuant to sections 455.010 to 455.085:

- (a) “Assault”, purposely or knowingly placing or attempting to place another in fear of physical harm;
- (b) “Battery”, purposely or knowingly causing physical harm to another with or without a deadly weapon;

(3) Granting relief under this section is not contrary to the public interest.

In any order requiring such review the court may grant access to any and all mental health records, juvenile records, and criminal history of the petitioner wherever maintained. The court may allow presentation of evidence at the hearing if requested by the local prosecuting attorney, circuit attorney, or attorney general.

Section 922; or

(3) Granting relief under this section would be contrary to the public interest, then the court shall deny the subsequent petition unless the petition contains the additional facts upon which the court could find the condition of the petitioner had so changed that a hearing was warranted.

A certified copy of the court order establishing that such conviction has been reversed or guilty plea or plea of nolo contendere has been set aside shall be sent to the Missouri state highway patrol crime laboratory. Upon receipt of the court order, the laboratory will determine that the requesting individual has no other qualifying offense as a result of any separate plea or conviction prior to expungement.

(1) A person whose DNA record or DNA profile has been included in the state DNA database in accordance with this section, section 488.5050, RSMo, and sections 650.050, 650.052, and 650.100 may request expungement on the grounds that the conviction has been reversed, or the guilty plea or plea of nolo contendere on which the authority for including that person's DNA record or DNA profile was based has been set aside.

(2) Upon receipt of a written request for expungement, a certified copy of the final court order reversing the conviction or setting aside the plea and any other information necessary to ascertain the validity of the request, the Missouri state highway patrol crime laboratory shall expunge all DNA records and identifiable information in the database pertaining to the person and destroy the DNA sample of the person, unless the Missouri state highway patrol determines that the person is otherwise obligated to submit a DNA sample. Within thirty days after the receipt of the court order, the Missouri state highway patrol shall notify the individual that it has expunged his or her DNA sample and DNA profile, or the basis for its determination that the person is otherwise obligated to submit a DNA sample.

(3) The Missouri state highway patrol is not required to destroy any item of physical evidence obtained from a DNA sample if evidence relating to another person would thereby be destroyed.

(4) Any identification, warrant, arrest, or evidentiary use of a DNA match derived from the database shall not be excluded or suppressed from evidence, nor shall any conviction be invalidated or reversed or plea set aside due to the failure to expunge or a delay in expunging DNA records.

[452.440. Sections 452.440 to 452.550 may be cited as the "Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction Act".]

[452.445. As used in sections 452.440 to 452.550:

(1) "Custody determination" means a court decision and court orders and instructions providing for the custody of a child, including visitation rights. This term does not include a decision relating to child support or any other monetary obligation of any person; but the court shall have the right in any custody determination where jurisdiction is had pursuant to section 452.460 and where it is in the best interest of the child to adjudicate the issue of child support;

(2) “Custody proceeding” includes proceedings in which a custody determination is one of several issues, such as an action for dissolution of marriage, legal separation, separate maintenance, appointment of a guardian of the person, child neglect or abandonment, but excluding actions for violation of a state law or municipal ordinance;

(3) “Decree” or “custody decree” means a custody determination contained in a judicial decree or order made in a custody proceeding, and includes an initial decree and a modification decree;

(4) “Home state” means the state in which, immediately preceding the filing of custody proceeding, the child lived with his parents, a parent, an institution; or a person acting as parent, for at least six consecutive months; or, in the case of a child less than six months old, the state in which the child lived from birth with any of the persons mentioned. Periods of temporary absence of any of the named persons are counted as part of the six-month or other period;

(5) “Initial decree” means the first custody decree concerning a particular child;

(6) “Litigant” means a person, including a parent, grandparent, or step-parent, who claims a right to custody or visitation with respect to a child.]

[452.450. 1. A court of this state which is competent to decide child custody matters has jurisdiction to make a child custody determination by initial or modification decree if:

(1) This state:

(a) Is the home state of the child at the time of commencement of the proceeding; or

(b) Had been the child’s home state within six months before commencement of the proceeding and the child is absent from this state for any reason, and a parent or person acting as parent continues to live in this state; or

(2) It is in the best interest of the child that a court of this state assume jurisdiction because:

(a) The child and his parents, or the child and at least one litigant, have a significant connection with this state; and

(b) There is available in this state substantial evidence concerning the child’s present or future care, protection, training, and personal relationships; or

(3) The child is physically present in this state and:

(a) The child has been abandoned; or

(b) It is necessary in an emergency to protect the child because he has been subjected to or threatened with mistreatment or abuse, or is otherwise being neglected; or

(4) It appears that no other state would have jurisdiction under prerequisites substantially in accordance with subdivision (1), (2), or (3), or another state has declined to exercise jurisdiction on the ground that this state is the more appropriate forum to determine the custody of the child, and it is in the best interest of the child that this court assume jurisdiction.

2. Except as provided in subdivisions (3) and (4) of subsection 1 of this section, physical presence of the child, or of the child and one of the litigants, in this state is not sufficient alone to confer jurisdiction on a court of this state to make a child custody determination.

3. Physical presence of the child, while desirable, is not a prerequisite for jurisdiction to determine his custody.]

[452.455. 1. Any petition for modification of child custody decrees filed under the provisions of section 452.410, or sections 452.440 to 452.450, shall be verified and, if the original proceeding originated in the state of Missouri, shall be filed in that original case, but service shall be obtained and responsive pleadings may be filed as in any original proceeding.

2. Before making a decree under the provisions of section 452.410, or sections 452.440 to 452.450, the litigants, any parent whose parental rights have not been previously terminated, and any person who has physical custody of the child must be served in the manner provided by the rules of civil procedure and applicable court rules and may within thirty days after the date of service (forty-five days if service by publication) file a verified answer. If any of these persons is outside this state, notice and opportunity to be heard shall be given pursuant to section 452.460.

3. In any case in which the paternity of a child has been determined by a court of competent jurisdiction and where the noncustodial parent is delinquent in the payment of child support in an amount in excess of ten thousand dollars, the custodial parent shall have the right to petition a court of competent jurisdiction for the termination of the parental rights of the noncustodial parent.

4. When a person filing a petition for modification of a child custody decree owes past due child support to a custodial parent in an amount in excess of ten thousand dollars, such person shall post a bond in the amount of past due child support owed as ascertained by the division of child support enforcement or reasonable legal fees of the custodial parent, whichever is greater, before the filing of the petition. The court shall hold the bond in escrow until the modification proceedings pursuant to this section have been concluded wherein such bond shall be transmitted to the division of child support enforcement for disbursement to the custodial parent.]

[452.460. 1. The notice required for the exercise of jurisdiction over a person outside this state shall be given in a manner reasonably calculated to give actual notice, and may be given in any of the following ways:

(1) By personal delivery outside this state in the manner prescribed for service of process within this state;

(2) In the manner prescribed by the law of the place in which the service is made for service of process in that place in an action in any of its courts of general jurisdiction;

(3) By certified or registered mail; or

(4) As directed by the court, including publication, if any other means of notification are ineffective.

2. Proof of service outside this state may be made by affidavit of the individual who made the service, or in the manner prescribed by the law of this state, the order pursuant to which the service is made, or the law of the place in which the service is made. If service is made by mail, proof of service may be a receipt signed by the addressee or other evidence of delivery to the addressee. 3. The notice provided for in this section is not required for a person who submits to the jurisdiction

[452.465. 1. A court of this state shall not exercise its jurisdiction under sections 452.440 to 452.550 if, at the time of filing the petition, a proceeding concerning the custody of the child was pending in a court of another state exercising jurisdiction substantially in conformity with sections 452.440 to 452.550, unless the proceeding is stayed by the court of that other state for any reason.

2. Before hearing the petition in a custody proceeding, the court shall examine the pleadings and other information supplied by the parties under section 452.480 and shall consult the child custody registry established under section 452.515 concerning the pendency of proceedings with respect to the child in other states. If the court has reason to believe that proceedings may be pending in another state, it shall direct an inquiry to the state court administrator or other appropriate official of that state.

3. If the court is informed during the course of the proceeding that a proceeding concerning the custody of the child was pending in another state before the court assumed jurisdiction, it shall stay the proceeding and communicate with the court in which the other proceeding is pending in order that the issue may be litigated in the more appropriate forum and that information may be exchanged in accordance with sections 452.530 to 452.550. If a court of this state has made a custody decree before being informed of a pending proceeding in a court of another state, it shall immediately inform that court of the fact. If the court is informed that a proceeding was commenced in another state after it assumed jurisdiction, it shall likewise inform the other court in order that the issues may be litigated in the more appropriate forum.]

[452.470. 1. A court which has jurisdiction under this act to make an initial or modification decree may decline to exercise its jurisdiction any time before making a decree if it finds that it is an inconvenient forum to make a custody determination under the circumstances of the case and that a court of another state is a more appropriate forum.

2. A finding that a court is an inconvenient forum under subsection 1 above may be made upon the court's own motion or upon the motion of a party or a guardian ad litem or other representative of the child. In determining if it is an inconvenient forum, the court shall consider if it is in the interest of the child that another state assume jurisdiction.

3. Before determining whether to decline or retain jurisdiction the court may communicate with a court of another state and exchange information pertinent to the assumption of jurisdiction by either court, with a view to assuring that jurisdiction will be exercised by the more appropriate court and that a forum will be available to the parties.

4. If the court finds that it is an inconvenient forum and that a court of another state is a more appropriate forum, it may dismiss the proceedings, or it may stay the proceedings upon condition that a custody proceeding be promptly commenced in another named state or upon any other conditions which may be just and proper, including the condition that a moving party stipulate his consent and submission to the jurisdiction of the other forum.

5. The court may decline to exercise its jurisdiction under this act if a custody determination is incidental to an action for dissolution of marriage or another proceeding while retaining jurisdiction over the dissolution of marriage or other proceeding.

6. If it appears to the court that it is clearly an inappropriate forum, it may require the party who commenced the proceedings to pay, in addition to the costs of the proceedings in this state, necessary travel and other expenses, including attorneys' fees, incurred by other parties or their witnesses. Payment is to be made to the clerk of the court for remittance to the proper party.

7. Upon dismissal or stay of proceedings under this section, the court shall inform the court found to be the more appropriate forum of this fact or, if the court which would have jurisdiction in the other state is not certainly known, shall transmit the information to the court administrator or other appropriate official for forwarding to the appropriate court.

8. Any communication received from another state informing this state of a finding that a court of this state is the more appropriate forum shall be filed in the custody registry of the appropriate court. Upon assuming jurisdiction the court of this state shall inform the original court of this fact.]

[452.475. 1. If the petitioner for an initial decree has wrongfully taken the child from another state or has engaged in similar reprehensible conduct, the court may decline to exercise jurisdiction if this is just and proper under the circumstances.

2. Unless required in the interest of the child, the court shall not exercise its jurisdiction to modify a custody decree of another state if the petitioner, without consent of the person entitled to custody, has improperly removed the child from the physical custody of the person entitled to custody or has improperly retained the child after a visit or other temporary relinquishment of physical custody. If the petitioner has violated any other provision of a custody decree of another state, the court may decline to exercise its jurisdiction if this is just and proper under the circumstances.

3. In appropriate cases a court dismissing a petition under this section may charge the petitioner with necessary travel and other expenses, including attorneys' fees, incurred by other parties or their witnesses.]

[452.480. 1. In his first pleading, or in an affidavit attached to that pleading, every party in a custody proceeding shall give information under oath as to the child's present address, with whom the child is presently living and with whom and where the child lived, other than on a temporary basis, within the past six months. In this pleading or affidavit every party shall further declare under oath whether:

(1) He has participated in any capacity in any other litigation concerning the custody of the same child in this or any other state;

(2) He has information of any custody proceeding concerning the child pending in a court of this or any other state; and

(3) He knows of any person not a party to the proceedings who has physical custody of the child or claims to have custody or visitation rights with respect to the child.

2. If the declaration as to any of the items listed in subdivisions (1) through (3) of subsection 1 above is in the affirmative, the declarant shall give additional information under oath as required by the court. The court may examine the parties under oath as to details of the information furnished and as to other matters pertinent to the court's jurisdiction and the disposition of the case.

3. Each party has a continuing duty to inform the court of any change in information required by subsection 1 of this section.]

[452.485. If the court learns from information furnished by the parties pursuant to section 452.480 or from other sources that a person not a party to the custody proceeding has physical custody of the child or claims to have custody or visitation rights with respect to the child, it may order that person to be joined as a party and to be duly notified of the pendency of the proceeding and of his joinder as a party. If the person joined as a party is outside this state he shall be served with process or otherwise notified in accordance with section 452.460.]

[452.490. 1. The court may order any party to the proceeding who is in this state to appear personally before the court. If the court finds the physical presence of the child in court to be in the best interests of the child, the court may order that the party who has physical custody of the child appear personally with the child.

2. If a party to the proceeding whose presence is desired by the court is outside this state, with or without the child, the court may order that the notice given under section 452.460 include a statement directing that party to appear personally with or without the child.

3. If a party to the proceeding who is outside this state is directed to appear under subsection 1 of this section or desires to appear personally before the court with or without the child, the court may require another party to pay to the clerk of the court travel and other necessary expenses of the party so appearing and of the child, if this is just and proper under the circumstances.

4. If the court finds it to be in the best interest of the child that a guardian ad litem be appointed, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem for the child. The guardian ad litem so appointed shall be an attorney licensed to practice law in the state of Missouri. Disqualification of a guardian ad litem shall be ordered in any legal proceeding pursuant to this chapter, upon the filing of a written application by any party within ten days of appointment. Each party shall be entitled to one disqualification of a guardian ad litem appointed under this subsection in each proceeding, except a party may be entitled to additional disqualifications of a guardian ad litem for good cause shown. The guardian ad litem may, for the purpose of determining custody of the child only, participate in the proceedings as if such guardian ad litem were a party. The court shall enter judgment allowing a reasonable fee to the guardian ad litem.

5. The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem in any proceeding in which child abuse or neglect is alleged.]

[452.495. A custody decree rendered by a court of this state which had jurisdiction under section 452.450 binds all parties who have been served in this state or notified in accordance with section 452.460, or who have submitted to the jurisdiction of the court, and who have been given an opportunity to be heard. As to these parties the custody decree is conclusive as to all issues of law and fact decided and as to the custody determination made, unless and until that determination is modified pursuant to law, including the provisions of section 452.410 and sections 452.440 to 452.550.]

[452.500. The courts of this state shall recognize and enforce an initial or modification decree of a court of another state which had assumed jurisdiction under statutory provisions substantially in accordance with sections 452.440 to 452.550, or which was made under factual circumstances meeting the jurisdictional standards of sections 452.440 to 452.550, so long as this decree has not been modified in accordance with jurisdictional standards substantially similar to those of sections 452.440 to 452.550.]

[452.505. If a court of another state has made a custody decree, a court of this state shall not modify that decree unless it appears to the court of this state that the court which rendered the decree does not now have jurisdiction under jurisdictional prerequisites substantially in accordance with sections 452.440 to 452.550 or has declined to assume jurisdiction to modify the decree and the court of this state has jurisdiction.]

[452.510. 1. A certified copy of a custody decree of another state may be filed in the office of the clerk of any circuit court of this state. The clerk shall treat the decree in the same manner as a custody decree of the circuit court of this state. A custody decree so filed has the same effect and shall be enforced in like manner as a custody decree rendered by a court of this state.

2. A person violating a custody decree of another state which makes it necessary to enforce the decree in this state may be required to pay necessary travel and other expenses, including attorneys' fees, incurred by the party entitled to the custody or his witnesses.]

[452.515. The clerk of each circuit court shall maintain a registry in which he shall enter the following:

- (1) Certified copies of custody decrees of other states received for filing;
- (2) Communications as to the pendency of custody proceedings in other states;
- (3) Communications concerning findings of inconvenient forum under section 452.470 by a court of another state; and
- (4) Other communications or documents concerning custody proceedings in another state which in the opinion of the circuit judge may affect the jurisdiction of a court of this state or the disposition to be made by it in a custody proceeding.]

[452.520. The clerk of the circuit court of this state, at the request of the court of another state or at the request of any person who is affected by or has a legitimate interest in a custody decree, may, upon payment therefor, certify and forward a copy of the decree to that court or person.]

[452.525. In addition to other procedural devices available to a party, any party to the proceeding or a guardian ad litem or other representative of the child may obtain the testimony of witnesses, including parties and the child, by deposition or otherwise, in another state. The court on its own motion may direct that the testimony of a person be taken in another state and may prescribe the manner in which and the terms upon which the testimony shall be taken.]

[452.530. 1. A court of this state may request the appropriate court of another state to hold a hearing to obtain evidence, to order persons within that state to produce or give evidence under other procedures of that state, or to have social studies made with respect to the custody of a child involved in proceedings pending in the court of this state; and to forward to the court of this state certified copies of the transcript of the record of the hearing, the evidence otherwise obtained, or any social studies prepared in compliance with the request. The cost of the services may be assessed against the parties.

2. A court of this state may request the appropriate court of another state to order a party to custody proceedings pending in the court of this state to appear in the proceedings and, if that party has physical custody of the child, to appear with the child. The request may state that travel and other necessary expenses of the party and of the child whose appearance is desired will be assessed against the appropriate party.]

[452.535. 1. Upon request of the court of another state, the courts of this state which are competent to hear custody matters may order a person in this state to appear at a hearing to obtain evidence or to produce or give evidence under other procedures available in this state for use in a custody proceeding in another state. A certified copy of the transcript of the record of the hearing or the evidence otherwise obtained may, in the discretion of the court and upon payment therefor, be forwarded to the requesting court.

2. A person within this state may voluntarily give his testimony or statement in this state for use in a custody proceeding outside this state.

3. Upon request of the court of another state, a competent court of this state may order a person in this state to appear alone or with the child in a custody proceeding in another state. The court may condition compliance with the request upon assurance by the other state that travel and other necessary expenses will be advanced or reimbursed.]

[452.540. In any custody proceeding in this state the court shall preserve the pleadings, orders and decrees, any record that has been made of its hearings, social studies, and other pertinent documents until the child reaches eighteen years of age. When requested by the court of another state the court may, upon payment therefor, forward to the other court certified copies of any or all of such documents.]

[452.545. If a custody decree has been rendered in another state concerning a child involved in a custody proceeding pending in a court of this state, the court of this state, upon taking jurisdiction of the case, shall request of the court of the other state a certified copy of the transcript of any court record and other documents mentioned in section 452.540.]

[452.550. Upon the request of a party to a custody proceeding which raises a question of existence or exercise of jurisdiction under sections 452.440 to 452.550, determination of jurisdiction shall be given calendar priority and handled expeditiously.]

[454.516. 1. The director or IV-D agency may cause a lien pursuant to subsections 2 and 3 of this section or the obligee may cause a lien pursuant to subsection 7 of this section for unpaid and delinquent child support to block the issuance of a certificate of ownership for motor vehicles, motor boats, outboard motors, manufactured homes and trailers that are registered in the name of a delinquent child support obligor.

2. The director or IV-D agency shall notify the department of revenue with the required information necessary to impose a lien pursuant to this section by filing a notice of lien.

3. The director or IV-D agency shall not notify the department of revenue and the department of revenue shall not register such lien except as provided in this subsection. After the director or IV-D agency decides that such lien qualifies pursuant to this section and forward it to the department of revenue, the director of revenue or the director's designee shall only file such lien against the obligor's certificate of ownership when:

(1) The obligor has unpaid child support which exceeds one thousand dollars;

(2) The property has a value of more than three thousand dollars as determined by current industry publications that provide such estimates to dealers in the business, and the property's year of manufacture is within seven years of the date of filing of the lien except in the case of a motor vehicle that has been designated a historic vehicle;

(3) The property has no more than two existing liens for child support;

(4) The property has had no more than three prior liens for child support in the same calendar year.

4. In the event that a lien is placed and the obligor's total support obligation is eliminated, the director shall notify the department of revenue that the lien shall be removed.

5. Upon notification that a lien exists pursuant to this section, the department of revenue shall register the lien on the records of the department of revenue. Such registration shall contain the type and model of the property and the serial number of the property.

6. Upon notification by the director that the lien shall be removed pursuant to subsection 4 of this section, the department of revenue shall register such removal of lien on its datebank, that shall contain the type and model of the property and the serial number of the property. The division or IV-D agency may hold any satisfaction of the registered lien until the child support obligation is satisfied, or levy and execute on the motor vehicle, motor boat, outboard motor, manufactured home or trailer and sell same, at public sale, in order to satisfy the debt.

7. In cases which are not IV-D cases, to cause a lien pursuant to the provisions of this section the obligee or the obligee's attorney shall file notice of the lien with the department of revenue. This notice shall have attached a certified copy of the court order with all modifications and a sworn statement by the obligee or a certified statement from the court attesting to or certifying the amount of arrearages.

8. Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the department of revenue shall maintain a child support lien database for outstanding child support liens against the owner's certificate of ownership provided for by chapters 301, 306, and 700, RSMo. To determine any existing liens for child support pursuant to this section, the lienholder, dealer, or buyer may inquire electronically into the database. A good faith purchaser for value without notice of the lien in the database or a lender without notice of the lien in the database takes free of the lien.]

[550.050. 1. Every person who shall institute any prosecution to recover a fine, penalty or forfeiture shall be adjudged to pay all costs if the defendant is acquitted although he may not be entitled to any part of the same.

2. When such prosecutions are commenced by a public officer whose duty it is to institute the same, and the defendant is acquitted, the county shall pay the costs; if he is convicted, and unable to pay the costs, the county shall pay all the costs, except such as were incurred on the part of the defendant.]

[550.070. If a person, charged with a felony, shall be discharged by the officer taking his examination, the costs shall be paid by the prosecutor or person on whose oath the prosecution was instituted, and the officer taking such examination shall enter judgment against such person for the same, and issue execution therefor immediately; and in no such case shall the state or county pay the costs.]

or discharged, and the prosecutor or prosecuting witness shall be liable to pay the costs according to law, judgment shall be rendered against such prosecutor for the costs in the case, and in no such case shall the same be paid by either the county or state.]

[550.090. When the proceedings are prosecuted before any associate circuit judge, at the instance of the injured party, for the disturbance of the peace of a person, or for libel or slander, or for any trespass against the person or property of another, not amounting to a felony, except for petit larceny, the name of such injured party shall be entered by the associate circuit judge on his record as a prosecutor; and if the defendant shall be discharged or acquitted, such prosecutor shall be adjudged to pay the costs not otherwise adjudged; and in every other case of acquittal, if the associate circuit judge or jury trying the case shall state in the finding that the prosecution was malicious or without probable cause, the associate circuit judge shall enter judgment for costs against the prosecution or party at whose instance the information was filed, and shall issue execution therefor; but in no case shall the prosecuting attorney be liable for costs. In other cases of discharge or acquittal the costs shall be paid by the county, except when the prosecution is commenced by complaint and the prosecuting attorney declines to file information thereon, in which case the proceedings shall be dismissed at the cost of the party filing the complaint.]"; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

OF THE

STATE OF MISSOURI

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

VETO SESSION

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 2009

The Senate was called to order in Veto Session by Lieutenant Governor Peter Kinder.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“God loves you right where you are but he doesn’t want to leave you there.” (Max Lucado)

Dear God, it has been a little while since we have been together and in that short time many we have known and cared deeply about have died. We will miss them and commend them to Your loving care. We pray for their families who now walk the days in grief and ask that You may comfort them and us with Your grace and mercy. As we discern the items that call for our attention this day, may we do so with wisdom and care so all may be done as unto You, O Lord. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

The following Senators were present during the day’s proceedings:

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following communications, regarding vetoed Senate bills, were received by the Secretary of State, reading of which was waived:

GOVERNOR OF MISSOURI
JEFFERSON CITY

July 13, 2009

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 37 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 600.011, 600.015, 600.017, 600.019, 600.021, 600.040, 600.042, 600.048, 600.086, 600.089, 600.090, and 600.096, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof thirteen new sections relating to the public defender system, with penalty provisions.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 37. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 37 reflects a well-intentioned effort by the General Assembly to address the challenges being experienced by the Missouri Public Defender System. However, while I acknowledge that the public defender system is operating under significant stresses, I disagree that the solution is to allow the Public Defender Commission to establish maximum caseload standards and create waiting lists for criminal defendants.

Permitting the Public Defender Commission to unilaterally establish caseload limits will simply shift the burden to other participants in an already burdened criminal justice system. While that may understandably be preferable from the Public Defender System's perspective, it will not aid crime victims who will have to wait for justice to be imposed, prosecutors who may feel the necessity to prematurely waive jail or prison time in order to move a case forward, or criminal defendants who will have their day in court delayed.

Moreover, under Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 37, once the maximum caseload limit is reached, management of the public defender's docket is effectively transferred from the public defender system to the trial court. Under this legislation, it is the trial court that will determine the order in which cases are placed on the waiting list for defender services. This relieves the public defender of the responsibility for their caseload at the expense of the trial court, but in no way does it actually address the caseload problem. Those cases will still exist, those defendants will still be waiting for their day in court, and those crime victims will continue to await justice.

While I commend the General Assembly for its effort in addressing this issue, after considerable thought and consideration, I have concluded that this approach vests too much unfettered discretion with the Public Defender System to set maximum caseload limits that will result in significant responsibilities shifting to the other participants in the criminal justice system to the detriment of all parties, including crime victims, without appreciable benefits being realized.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 37 because I do not believe that it will solve the targeted problem.

It is clear to me that the problem is one of resources, not only for the Public Defender System, but all participants in the criminal justice system. I am committed to working with the General Assembly to identify additional resources that will allow criminal proceedings to proceed effectively and efficiently for all parties involved.

In accordance with the above stated reasons, I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 37.

Respectfully submitted,

Herewith I return to you House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 147 entitled:

AN ACT

To amend chapter 191, RSMo, by adding thereto one new section relating to the Missouri healthy workplace recognition program.

I disapprove of House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 147. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 147 requires the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Health, established under Executive Order 02-12, to develop the Missouri healthy workplace recognition program.

While the intent of the legislation is worthy, House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 147 contains a technical defect. The Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Health was not "established under Executive Order 02-12" and does not currently exist under that executive order.

The Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Health was established by Executive Order 86-06. Executive Order 02-12, referenced in House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 147, reauthorized the council with some changes. However, Executive Order 02-12 is no longer operative, and the council as reflected in Executive Order 02-12 does not currently exist. Executive Order 02-12 was explicitly superseded by Executive Order 07-10 which established the council as it is presently constituted.

While the purpose of the legislation to recognize employers that promote more healthy lifestyles is commendable, the reference in House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 147 to the incorrect executive order will lead either to an inability to implement the provisions of the bill or confusion as to appropriate composition of the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Health.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 147 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,

Herewith I return to you Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 153 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 265.525, 267.565, 267.600, 416.410, and 416.440, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof five new sections relating to the marketing of commodities.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 153. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 153 as it relates to the Unfair Milk Sales Practices Act would allow milk processors, distributors or cooperative associations to create monopolies or unfairly manipulate trade. This represents a substantial change to longstanding regulation of milk and milk products that could have a detrimental impact on consumers.

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 153 could also adversely affect the economic well being of Missouri dairy farmers, who oppose this legislation. The bill would create incentives for the grocery industry to purchase milk from dairy producers outside the State of Missouri, which would have a negative impact on Missouri dairy producers. At a time when the state should be enacting policies that support Missouri farmers and Missouri agriculture, this legislation would be a step in the wrong direction.

In addition, Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 153 could adversely affect the public health and welfare to the extent that the bill creates incentives for expanded warehousing of milk and milk products. Milk and milk products have a limited shelf life, and lengthening the amount of time it takes these products to reach consumers could increase health risks to consumers.

Although I support the changes to the Rice Advisory Council and the expansion of the scope of authority of the State Veterinarian set forth in Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 153, I must reject this bill because of the amendments to the Unfair Milk Sales Practices Act.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 153 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you Senate Bill No. 156 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 407.1240 and 407.1249, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof two new sections relating to travel clubs.

I disapprove of Senate Bill No. 156. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Bill No. 156 is wholly contained in Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 83. However, Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 83 additionally requires that travel clubs demonstrate that they possess liquid assets of at least two hundred fifty thousand dollars in the form of one or more certificates of deposit or a letter of credit issued by a banking institution with assets of at least seventy-five million dollars. These liquid assets are available to the attorney general in the event the travel club is adjudged to have failed to satisfy its legal obligations to its members. This additional provision contained in Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 83 is an important safeguard for consumers to recover their losses in the event of malfeasance by a travel club. I signed Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 83 on July 8, 2009.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Bill No. 156 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 202, entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal section 302.020, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof two new sections relating to the operation of motorcycles.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 202. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 202 repeals Missouri's 42 year old motorcycle helmet law for any motorcyclists or passengers 21 years of age or older, except on interstate highways.

Head injuries are the leading cause of death in motorcycle crashes. Without a helmet, a motorcyclist is 40 percent more likely to suffer a fatal head injury than a helmeted motorcyclist in a crash. [Traffic Safety Facts, National Highway Transportation Safety Administration, January 2008].

It is estimated that from 1984 through 2006, helmets saved the lives of 19,230 motorcyclists and 12,320 additional lives would have been saved had helmets been worn by operators or passengers. [Traffic Safety Facts, National Highway Transportation Safety Administration, January 2008].

In addition to safety issues, weakening or eliminating helmet laws causes a dramatic spike in the cost of treating patients who suffer injuries in motorcycle accidents. The State of Florida saw a 40 percent increase in the number of motorcyclists admitted to hospitals in the 30 months following repeal of its helmet law in 2002, with the cost for treatment more than doubling to $44 million. [Traffic Safety Facts, National Highway Transportation Safety Administration, January 2008]. According to one study, it was estimated that the total cost to treat motorcycle accident victims who were not wearing a helmet is $250,231,734 a year more than the cost of treating victims who were wearing a helmet. [Economic Impact of Motorcycle Helmets: From Impact to Discharge, Journal of Trauma-Injury, Infection & Critical Care, 2006].

Ultimately the taxpayers must pay a significant portion of these increased costs. After Florida repealed its helmet law, 16 percent of injured motorcyclists admitted for hospital treatment were either under-insured or uninsured and the costs for another 21 percent were billed to either charitable or public sources, such as Medicaid. [Traffic Safety Facts, National Highway Transportation Safety Administration, January 2008].

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 202 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 216 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal section 425.010, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof six new sections relating to debt settlement providers.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 216. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 216 fails to provide adequate protection for consumers who do business with debt settlement providers. Strong consumer protection measures, including those contained in the Uniform Debt Management Services Act, are absent from Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 216. Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 216 does not require licensure or registration of debt settlement providers; does not require security bonds; does not allow consumers a penalty-free cancellation period; does not provide for adequate disclosure of services and fees to consumers; and does not provide for aggressive enforcement mechanisms against unscrupulous providers, to name just a few of the protections missing from this legislation.

The fee structure and the insurance provision set forth in Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 216, moreover, do not provide the breadth or the depth of consumer protection that is necessary in the debt settlement provider industry. Under Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 216, a consumer could be required to pay twenty percent of the principal amount of the consumer's debt in "aggregate fees" to the debt settlement provider, and an "enrollment fee" representing an additional four percent of the consumer's debt. This means that consumers who already find themselves in debt will be required to pay thousands of dollars in fees to debt settlement providers.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 216 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 235 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 137.016, 137.115, 362.105, 365.020, 365.200, 369.229, 370.300, 400.9-303, 400.9-311, 408.015, 408.052, 408.140, 408.233, 408.250, 408.300, 436.350, 441.005, 442.010, 513.010, 700.010, 700.100, 700.111, 700.320, 700.350, 700.360, 700.370, 700.375, 700.385, 700.525, 700.527, 700.529, 700.530, 700.531, 700.533, 700.535, 700.537, 700.539, and 700.630, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof thirty-seven new sections relating to manufactured homes, with penalty provisions.

I disapprove of House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 235. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 235 contains some good provisions, however, I strongly believe that the provision permitting the sale of a deficiency waiver addendum, guaranteed asset protection or similar product purchased as part of a loan transaction fails to include adequate consumer protections and will be harmful to Missourians. That provision was also contained in Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 243 which I have also vetoed today.

With regard to the sale of deficiency waiver addendums and similar products, House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 235 does not allow a consumer to cancel coverage or require a refund of premiums in the event the consumer pays off the underlying loan early. By contrast, federal regulations require national banks to refund to the customer any unearned fees paid. Federal regulations permit a national bank to offer a no refund contract only if the bank also offers that customer "a bona fide option to purchase a comparable contract that provides a refund." House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 235 fails to incorporate any such consumer protection.

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 235 fails to provide the consumer a "free look" period during which the consumer may cancel the contract if the consumer determines that they do not need it or cannot afford it.

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 235 does not require that the consumer sign for the product acknowledging that they wish to purchase it. The failure to require this affirmative acknowledgment by the consumer heightens the chance that a consumer will unknowingly "purchase" the product.

For the above stated reasons, I am returning House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 235 without my approval.

AN ACT

To repeal section 204.569, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof three new sections relating to sewer districts, with an emergency clause for a certain section.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 242. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Under current law, the issuance of revenue bonds by an unincorporated sewer subdistrict of a common sewer district requires the approval of four-sevenths of the voters of the subdistrict voting on the question. Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 242 would allow voters to be bypassed and a subdistrict to issue revenue bonds with only the written assent of three-quarters of the political subdivisions within the subdistrict. I believe the voters of these subdistricts are entitled to be heard at the ballot box on bond issuances. That voice is recognized in current law and will be protected by my action today.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 242 without my approval.

AN ACT

To repeal section 408.140, 408.233, and 408.300, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof four new sections relating to the sale of deficiency waiver addendums and other similar products associated with certain loan transactions.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 243. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 243 permits the sale of a deficiency waiver addendum, guaranteed asset protection or similar product purchased as part of a loan transaction, provided the cost of the product is disclosed in the loan contract. This bill fails to include adequate consumer protections and will be harmful to Missourians.

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 243 does not allow a consumer to cancel coverage or require a refund of premiums in the event the consumer pays off the underlying loan early. By contrast, federal regulations require national banks to refund to the customer any unearned fees paid. Federal regulations permit a national bank to offer a no refund contract only if the bank also offers that customer “a bona fide option to purchase a comparable contract that provides a refund.” Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 243 fails to incorporate any such consumer protection.

Herewith I return to you House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 411 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 169.020, 169.040, 169.056, 169.070, 169.073, 169.075, 169.090, 169.130, 169.630, 169.650, 169.655, 169.670, and 169.690, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof fifteen new sections relating to public employee retirement systems.

I disapprove of House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 411. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 411 would require substantial payments from the Missouri Development Finance Board to the Missouri State Employees Retirement System to compensate the System for the accrued actuarial liability of employees who choose to transfer into the state retirement system. The effect of these payments would be to provide a windfall of public funds to a select number of individuals. Any bill that would permit Board employees to enter into the state retirement system should be on a cost-neutral basis.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 411 without my approval.

AN ACT

To repeal sections 143.441, 147.010, 148.370, 301.560, 303.024, 374.456, 375.020, 375.1025, 375.1028, 375.1030, 375.1032, 375.1035, 375.1037, 375.1040, 375.1042, 375.1045, 375.1047, 375.1050, 375.1052, 375.1057, 375.1224, 376.428, 379.1300, 379.1302, 379.1310, 379.1326, 379.1332, 379.1373, 379.1388, 379.1412, 382.400, 382.402, 382.405, 382.407, 382.409, 384.025, 384.031, 384.043, 384.051, 384.057, and 384.062, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof forty-six new sections relating to the regulation of insurance, with penalty provisions and an emergency clause for a certain section.

I disapprove of the Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 464. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 464, and particularly Section 376.502, RSMo, would impose different underwriting requirements on different life insurers, based on company size, and create the possibility of disparate consumer protection. This section would permit unfair discrimination in life insurance underwriting by a select group of insurance companies, with gross written premiums of less than three hundred million dollars per year, based on the applicant's or insured's past or future lawful travel destinations. The fundamental theory of life insurance underwriting involves grouping applicants who share similar risks into pools who are charged a similar premium. The size of the insurer is irrelevant to this determination. Consumers in Missouri should not be subject to the arbitrary underwriting standard permitted in this section.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 464 without my approval.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 542. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 542 contains technical differences with House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 883, which I signed on June 29, 2009. The differences could cause unnecessary confusion and unintended consequences if both bills are signed.

This veto has no substantive effect. House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 883 contains all the provisions contained in Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 542.

NINETY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
of the
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 2009

The House was called to order at twelve o'clock noon by the Honorable Robin Carnahan, Secretary of State.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers, St. Peter Catholic Church, Jefferson City.

Let us pray, at this beginning of the 95th General Assembly of the Missouri House of Representatives. First, by listening to the inspired Word of God, from the Book of Wisdom.

Hearken, you who are in power over the multitude!...
Authority was given you by the Lord and sovereignty by the Most High, who shall probe your works and scrutinize your counsels!
(Wisdom 6:2a-3)

Lord God, we accept this Your Word and take it to heart.

We thank You, Almighty God, for the trust placed in us by the people who have elected us and sent us here. May we never betray their trust.

May we who take the oath of office today respond with great sincerity, and may we who have done so previously renew our commitment to serve with greatest of integrity.

Lord God, we pray for all the people of our state and of these United States in this time of a struggling economy. We accept the added importance it gives to our work of serving the common good, with special concern for the poor. May Your grace sustain us throughout this 95th General Assembly.

We pray to You, our Lord and God now and forever. Amen.

The Missouri State Highway Patrol, Troop F Color Guard, presented the Colors.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

ADDRESS BY SECRETARY OF STATE ROBIN CARNAHAN

Good Afternoon. Today marks the opening of the 95th Regular Session of the Missouri General Assembly.

Welcome to all of you: those who return to this Chamber to continue serving our state, as well as to the 45 newly elected members joining us for the first time.

For any who might be thinking back to your high school civics class and wondering why I, as a member of the executive branch, stand before you today, let me explain.

By law, the Secretary of State presides over the opening of each legislative session until a Temporary Speaker is chosen.

That vote will take place shortly.

But in the meantime, tradition has it that the presiding officer should speak, albeit briefly, and I'll attempt to do just that.

Like most of you, I'm just catching my breath after a busy election year. And I am grateful that Missourians have entrusted me to continue serving as Secretary of State. I am eager to get on with providing the best service possible to all who need help from our office.

And though we may serve in different branches of government, and have different titles and job descriptions, and we may even be from different political parties – our obligation to Missourians, the people we serve, is the same.

It is our job to make government work.

Hear those words: make government work. And we're expected to do that in real, responsible and commonsense ways. Ways that improve people's lives.

That sounds like a worthy and reasonable goal, doesn't it?

But it depends on who you talk to.

There are folks who say that the problems facing our state and our communities are just too big and too complex, that nothing government does can make much difference.

And besides, they say, how can anyone expect things to get done when we've got divided government – with one party controlling the legislature and another controlling the Governor's office.

If you listen to these cynics, you might think that doing nothing is really the best option. After all, the challenges are great and odds of success are long, so maybe you'd be tempted to just keep your head down and hope your political opponents get blamed during the next election.

But I don't think that's why any of you are here.

I'm convinced that each of you in this Chamber genuinely wants to make government work, to make it more efficient and more effective and truly improve the lives of the people you serve.

You have chosen to take time out from your families and jobs – not to mention the countless hours spent listening to constituents, drafting laws, and attending hearings.

You are here because down deep in your hearts, you believe you can make a difference.

But the question raised by the cynics remains: Can we make government work at this time in our history when the problems are so big and our politics so divided?

History says, we can. We've done it before.

Time and again, at critical points in our state and nation's development, public officials have set aside political differences to do the people's business.

How did they do it? They did it by looking not for the areas of conflict, but instead for areas of common ground, the common purpose that binds us together.

A good example of that kind of cooperation occurred in 1919, when Missourians were transitioning from the horse and buggy to automobiles. The Democratic Governor and the Republicans who controlled the House didn't agree on everything, but both knew something had to be done to fix the dismal state of our roads. And they came together to literally "get Missouri out of the mud" by establishing the State Highway Department and creating a network of "farm to market" roads. It was that effort that laid the groundwork for a new era of economic growth and job creation in our state.

So today, what are the areas of common purpose that bind us together? There are many:

- Helping small businesses and laid-off workers suffering from a reeling economy.
- Helping families stay in their homes and afford the costs of utility bills and decent healthcare.
- Helping Missouri seniors live with the dignity and retirement security they deserve.
- Helping young people build a strong foundation for their future by having access to world class schools and affordable college education right here in Missouri.

That is our common purpose today.

Missourians have bestowed upon you and I a profound honor by electing us to serve our state. Now it's our duty to make government work for them.

So, I believe I can speak for all Missourians when I make this simple request:

During the next five months, I'm asking that each of you, Republicans and Democrats alike:

- ... look for opportunities to rise above your political differences.
- ... search for the common ground; and
- ... do all you can to make government work for our people.

Years ago, Barbara Jordan, who was one of the first African American women to serve in Congress, laid out what we should expect from our public servants. She said the following:

If we promise, we must deliver;
If we propose, we must produce;
If we call for sacrifice, we must be the first to give;
If we make mistakes, we should admit them, we have to do that.
We have to strike a balance between the belief that government should do everything and the idea that government ought to do nothing. Strike a balance.

That is your challenge: striking that balance in a way that makes government work.

May God bless you and our state as you carry out this important duty.

ADDRESS BY TEMPORARY SPEAKER WARD FRANZ

It is an honor and I am privileged to be your temporary Speaker. It feels as if it was only a few days ago we were throwing our papers in the air to celebrate the end of last session. It is hard to believe we are back so soon to begin a new session. I am sure this year will be full of challenges, challenges we must conquer to ensure a bright future for the people of our great state.

Some of our colleagues have termed out or moved on and I am proud to be the first one to welcome all the new faces that have taken their place.

It won't take long before you'll look at your fellow legislators as family. It doesn't matter on what side of the aisle you sit, when you walk away from this building you will take with you friendships that will last forever.

But, while we are here those with the toughest challenges are the loved ones we leave at home. I want to challenge each one here to not forget those that are holding down the fort at home while you go about the work of the state.

And while we are on that subject, I want to recognize my family. With me today, my wife Nancy, my son, Landon, my daughter, Lauren, and my parents, Phillip and Nancy Franz, all of West Plains. Please extend a warm welcome to them.

Since our last session ended, things have changed around our state. Currently, we are facing economic hardships we have not seen in quite some time. We have both tough and exciting times ahead and I encourage all of us to join together to make the changes needed for the citizens of this great state to prosper — not just for today but for many years to come. I pray that God's mercies and blessings will touch us all in a very special way this session. Once again I want to thank you for your confidence, and I look forward to working with each one of you.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER RON RICHARD

Representatives, ladies and gentlemen, special guests, staff, families and friends...good afternoon.

To my family and my wife, Patti, thank you for all of your support and the many sacrifices you have made along the way. I would not be here today without you.

To the members of the body, both returning and new, thank you for giving me the great honor and responsibility of serving as your Speaker for the 95th General Assembly.

As your Speaker I am committed to guiding this House in much the same way I have led my committee over the years. For those who have served with me, you know my approach means working with members from both sides of the aisle to find common ground.

For those of you who are newly-elected, you should be aware it also means that while I am willing to compromise, I will stand firm when necessary – and I will always stay true to my own conservative beliefs.

It is an approach that has served me well, and year after year it has resulted in legislation that has received overwhelming support from this body.

Under my chairmanship, the Economic Development Committee has worked together regardless of party affiliation to create innovative and productive legislation. On almost every occasion, the bills we passed received unanimous approval as a result of the work we did together. And each piece of legislation the committee has carried to the floor has received strong bipartisan support with well over 100 votes.

This success is the product of hard work and a commitment to fostering good relationships with all members of the body, and the results speak for themselves. As your Speaker, I plan to continue this approach as we work together on the issues facing our state.

As Speaker, I also ask you to commit yourselves to working harder than ever before.

All of you are here because you are dedicated to working intently to serve the people of your district and our state, and this session I ask that you exhibit that determination in every action you take.

That means showing up on time and ready for business for each committee hearing and each time the gavel drops in this chamber.

It means conducting yourself in a professional manner that befits the great honor you have been given to represent the people of your district.

It means preserving the decorum of this storied chamber in a way that pays tribute to the piece of living history that is this Capitol building.

I ask that our new members be ready to put in long hours and to make each decision with the wisdom of a veteran legislator, even though your legislative experience may be lacking.

I ask our returning members to provide the leadership that will inspire not only your fellow members, but also the people of this state whom you serve.

12 Journal of the House

To our committee chairs and vice chairs, you will be asked to do more than ever before, and to serve as the leaders you truly are as we do the work of the people.

The same can be said for our senior committee members from the other side of the aisle. Your input is both valued and needed.

This session brings with it great challenges and the only way to meet those challenges is by working together.

Just as I asked the members who have served on my committee to put aside their differences for the common good, I will ask the same of you as a legislative body.

The issues we face this session demand that kind of approach if we are to succeed in the common goal we all share, the goal of making Missouri a better place to live, raise a family and do business.

We all know that right now times are difficult for far too many Missourians. Parents are struggling to pay the bills as they work to provide for their families. Skilled and industrious Missourians find themselves out of work and unable to find the kind of jobs that will ensure a higher quality of life. And our seniors continue to face the task of enduring these tough economic times on a fixed income.

The difficulties are many and the challenges we face as a legislative body are imposing, but even as we acknowledge the obstacles we face, it's important we appreciate how much easier our task will be thanks to the work of this body in recent years.

Yes, we enter this session with a great challenge but we have only to look at some of the states around us to see how fortunate we truly are.

While we enter this session with a budget shortfall of more than 300 million dollars, our neighbors to the east in Illinois are facing a budget gap of 2.3 billion. Combined, states across this nation must find a way to make up some 32 billion dollars for the current fiscal year, and another 65 billion for the next.

Meanwhile, here in Missouri, the sound fiscal planning of the past provided us with budget surpluses when many other states struggled to deal with deficits. And even though the sharp economic downturn transformed what was projected to be a surplus into a possible budget shortfall, Missourians can rest assured the right leadership is in place to provide solutions that will mean not only a balanced budget, but a better quality of life as well.

In 2009, we will be asked to rise to the challenge of doing more with less, and again we will provide solutions that give Missourians renewed faith that we are here with their best interests at heart.

All across this state, hard-working Missourians are faced with very real problems—problems that will be addressed not by a federal government caught up in some sort of bailout extravaganza, but by us here in state government and, more specifically, here in the Missouri House.

We pride ourselves on being the House of the people.

This year we will make that much more than a convenient piece of political jargon. We will make every effort to provide the people of this state with the kind of substantive relief that will make a real difference in their lives.

This year I call on the body to join together in passing legislation resulting in a Family Recovery Plan that will provide meaningful solutions to the problems faced by Missouri families.

For Missourians struggling to find employment, we must build on our efforts to attract and create good-paying jobs with benefits. I believe if you give Missourians the opportunity to obtain good-paying jobs that so many of the other problems they face will be addressed. Someone with a quality job has a greater sense of pride and fulfillment as they are able to earn a meaningful income, put food on the table and provide for their children.

In turn, working Missourians contribute to our economy and keep it growing during the roughest of economic times. It's a simple but proven approach and I firmly believe it has helped place our state in a fortunate position when compared to so many others.

As part of our Family Recovery Plan, I ask you to work again this year to expand the Quality Jobs Program. The program has become one of our state's most powerful economic development tools, and has resulted in tens of thousands of new good-paying jobs with benefits.

This year we should generate and design programs that produce even more of the jobs Missourians need to weather the current economic downturn.

We also look at every incentive and program that will make our state an attractive destination for businesses looking to relocate.

We're in a global economy so we must do everything we can to ensure Missouri is the clear choice. That means providing innovative and new ideas to create jobs and training our work force to be ready to fill the jobs they generate.

My goal is nothing less than to make Missouri the most attractive location in the world to do business, to work and to live. This session, we will make significant progress toward making that goal a reality.

While economic development and job creation can solve many of our problems, there is more we must do to help our working families. For families stretched to the limit trying to pay their bills and their taxes, we must do what we can to make the cost of living more bearable.

This year we will work to simplify our tax code and provide a modest tax cut to all Missourians. In these tough times, putting money back in the pockets of our citizens is a solid investment. Every extra dollar they have is one they can use to help make a house payment, pay for utilities or put food on the table. Those are dollars that flow back into our economy and offset any revenue we may lose as a result of a tax cut.

This year we will provide meaningful tax relief to the many Missourians currently struggling to make ends meet.

One area we all can agree is vital to Missouri families is affordable and accessible healthcare. Ensuring that Missourians have access to jobs that provide healthcare benefits is one way to address this problem, but there is more we must do if we are to create a system that is truly responsive to the needs of families.

That includes not only improvements to access and affordability, but also increasing accountability and transparency of insurance companies, healthcare providers and hospitals. Our healthcare system must be one that provides quality care to those in need, but it must do so without bankrupting our state – and we must continue to eliminate waste, fraud and abuse from the system.

With the Family Recovery Plan we must also address the often overwhelming costs of utilities and fuel. That means turning to the abundance of natural resources for which our state is known, and utilizing that untapped potential so that it becomes a reliable source of energy for Missouri. As part of the Family Recovery Plan, we must take a close look at the benefits of clean coal technology and what it can mean for the energy needs of our state. We must invest in wind farms to provide electricity to thousands of homes. We must explore the potential of the streams and rivers that flow through our state, and the power they can generate – by investing in hydroelectric technology.

And we must work to make the new nuclear plant in Callaway County a reality. The current plant has served as a safe and efficient power source for decades. It is time we build on that success by creating Callaway II, III and IV to meet the energy needs of this state for years to come.

These primary issues – job creation, tax relief, affordable healthcare, and investment in alternative energy sources – make up the core of our Family Recovery Plan. This plan is a common sense solution that will provide substantive relief to the men and women who want nothing more than to work and provide a better life for their families.

As I said before, training a skilled workforce is a key component to economic success. Missouri's economic engine is its people, and it is only through efficient and strong schools that guarantee every child the right to a successful education – that our economic engine can realize its full potential.

Our universities and community colleges are a vital part of the plan that will develop our workforce and draw new business to our state. Even in a difficult budget year, we are willing and ready to work with them to ensure a quality education that results in future success.

This year we also will reaffirm our commitment to protecting the lives of the unborn. We have instituted policies that have greatly reduced the number of abortions in our state, but we must continue our efforts to ensure Missouri holds life sacred.

We also know that Missourians want a free and open society where they have the right to carry a gun – whether to hunt or to defend themselves in times of need. Regardless of how the national political landscape changes, here in Missouri we will continue to advocate gun rights and support the people's right to carry.

These issues and more will be on our agenda this session as we work to serve the interests of the people. We know the challenges are great but the need to meet those challenges is even greater. Millions of hard-working Missourians are counting on us to provide them with real answers to the problems they face.

So I ask all of us to commit to working together to achieve the goal of providing meaningful help to Missouri families.

I am ready and willing to work with all of you from both sides of the aisle to make the Family Recovery Plan a reality. And I am ready to work with our new Governor and the new leadership in the Senate to address these and other issues facing Missouri.

With your help, we can make Missouri the world leader in creating jobs.

With your help, we can modestly reduce the tax burden on our hard working families.

With your help, we can provide access to quality affordable healthcare.

And, with your help, we can craft real solutions to Missouri's growing energy needs and reduce our dependence on foreign oil.

It's time we fulfill our promise to the people of Missouri by adopting a Family Recovery Plan – so that these and other issues facing Missouri's hard-working citizens can finally be resolved.

Together, we will find solutions to the problems faced by Missouri families. And together, we will move closer to achieving our goal of making Missouri the best place to live, raise a family and do business.

Thank you.

May God bless you and may God bless the State of Missouri.

The following committee was appointed to escort Representative Pratt to the dais: Representatives Smith (14), Grisamore, Schlottach, Faith, Flanigan, Gatschenberger, Silvey, Burnett, Talboy, Dougherty, Quinn and Schupp.

Representative Pratt subscribed to the oath of office which was administered by the Honorable Harold "Hal" Lowenstein, Missouri Court of Appeals, Western District.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt assumed the Chair.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER PRO TEM PRATT

As I approach the twilight of my Missouri House career, I sometimes reflect about what I will tell my grandchildren about my time in the Missouri House.

I may tell my grandchildren about how we addressed the state budget:

Six years ago - Billion dollar budget deficits. Withholds to education.

What did we do:

- Passed a balanced budget every year without a tax increase.

What are we going to do:

- Despite a world-wide recession, and under the leadership of the gentleman from St. Louis County - Icet District, the House will pass another balanced budget without a tax increase.

I may also tell my grandchildren about how we addressed taxes:

Six years ago - Many made calls to raise about every type of tax on hard-working Missourians, including income taxes and sales taxes.

What did we do:

- Instead of raising taxes, we cut taxes. We cut property taxes, and cut income taxes for our retired constituents.

What are we going to do:

- We believe hard working Missourians deserve to keep more of the money they make - especially during our world-wide recession. This House will aggressively seek to cut income taxes and property taxes this session.

I may also tell my grandchildren about how we addressed education:

Six years ago - Missourians faced withholds to education.

What did we do:

- We passed the largest education budgets in Missouri history.

What are we going to do:

- Under the leadership of the gentleman from Ozark, we will pass the largest education budget in Missouri history, and ensure those dollars are spent in the classroom educating our children. We will also protect our retired teachers' pension funds.

I may also tell my grandchildren about how we brought jobs to our state:

Six years ago - Missouri was losing jobs faster than about every state in our country.

What did we do:

- We aggressively courted new businesses to our state, and fought to keep Missouri businesses in Missouri.

What are we going to do:

- Under the leadership of Speaker Richard, we will continue to bring new jobs and keep jobs - with health insurance - to our constituents. If your constituents want to work - we need to make sure they can find a job right here in Missouri.

I may also tell my grandchildren about preserving the sanctity of life in Missouri:

Over the last six years, we have dramatically decreased the number of abortions in Missouri. We will continue this mission over the next two years.

I may also tell my grandchildren about respecting the Second Amendment:

Over the last six years, we have passed many bi-partisan legislative packages respecting law-abiding Missourians' gun rights - we will continue this mission over the next two years.

At this point, you and I both know my grandchildren would be sound asleep - but I want to talk about one final issue: House Decorum. I plead with each of you to honor and respect this majestic chamber - to honor its rules and traditions. To treat your time in the House with dignity and decorum, so when a retired member brings their grandchildren back to the House chamber - let's make them proud.

Some of our constituents are hurting. Our constituents expect us to get along - and they expect us to improve our great state. We've got a lot of work to do over the next two years - let's get to work.

May God Bless you, and may God Bless this great state.

Speaker Richard resumed the Chair.

Pursuant to Section 9.141, RSMo, the Bill of Rights was read by Patricia Buxton, Revisor of Statutes, Joint Committee on Legislative Research.

"A New Day for Missouri"

Thank you, Justice Stith for being here today. Thank you, President Pro Tem Shields and Speaker Richard for joining us as well. Governor and Mrs. Blunt, thank you both for being here and for your years of service to the state of Missouri. I welcome Senators Bond and McCaskill, the other members of our Congressional delegation and the members of the Missouri General Assembly who have joined us today.

I'm joined today by Missouri's new First Lady and the love of my life, Georganne Nixon. And we're proud to be joined by our sons, Jeremiah and Will, and the rest of our family.

And I thank all of you for coming out today.

Well, here we are. Together, in the heart of winter. Here from different corners of the state. From different walks of life.

But today we stand united – as much as any time in history. United as Americans. And as Missourians.

United by the common uncertainty of our future. Not knowing what tomorrow will bring.

Worried that this uncertain economy will mean that our children may not have every opportunity that we've had.

The challenges we face are historic. But so are the opportunities.

Ladies and gentlemen: Today marks a new day for Missouri.

Today, we make a fresh start. It's a day on which we separate the shortcomings of yesterday from the hope of tomorrow.

Today, we stop thinking about what should have been. And we start creating the future we all deserve.

Today, we turn the page.

Together, we mark a new day for Missouri.

Here in the Show-Me State, we have honorable and hardworking people. Skilled and talented workers and craftspeople.

But too many Missourians can't make ends meet in the job they're in, can't find the job they want, or fear they may lose the job they have. Too many Missourians are working harder and harder, but are not getting ahead.

The current economic downturn has certainly made these problems worse, and immediate action is needed. But in tackling the problems of today, we must not lose sight of the longer-term challenge: to boldly move Missouri's economy into the 21st Century.

The world around us is changing, and it's happening quickly. The new economy is upon us.

The people of this great state have never waited for the future; we've always sought it out. We are a state born from pioneers and innovators.

In the 19th Century, Daniel Boone and Lewis and Clark helped pave the way for a new state to take its place in a still-imperfect nation. Their Missouri stories are now legend.

And at the start of the 20th Century, George Washington Carver, a young man born into slavery, forever changed the agriculture industry for the entire world.

We have a history of overcoming adversity with innovation. And just as our forebears inspired a nation by settling a new land west of the Mississippi in the first days of the 19th Century, so today Missourians must lead our nation by seizing the new opportunities of the 21st Century.

Here in Missouri, we will not only compete. We will lead.

This new economy requires a new day for Missouri.

We'll invest in new technology. We'll inspire cutting-edge innovation. And we'll embrace science, not fear it.

And not only will we lead with our ideas, but we'll also lead with our greatest asset – our people. We must prepare our world-class workers with 21st-Century skills and connect them with the jobs of tomorrow that we will create.

The jobs that will lead our nation to energy independence.

The jobs that will build fuel-efficient automobiles and energy-efficient homes.

The jobs that will develop the lifesaving cures of tomorrow.

The jobs that will change the way we do business, change the way we travel and change the way we channel information.

All right here in Missouri.

We'll turn this economy around by making Missouri a magnet for next-generation jobs.

To bring about a new day in Missouri, we'll need to implement new policies. And this new day will not be possible unless there is a new tone in Jefferson City.

Because for too many years, politics and partisanship have stood in the way of progress. And the people of Missouri are tired of it.

The family in Hannibal that's struggling to pay for health care has no appetite for partisan bickering in Jefferson City.

The new father in Rolla who had his job outsourced doesn't care if an economic stimulus plan was written by a Democrat or a Republican. He just wants to make ends meet for his young family.

And the small businesswoman struggling to keep the doors open on Main Street doesn't have a lobbyist walking the halls of the Capitol for her.

The only way we'll meet the needs of Missouri families is by working together. In a bipartisan way, across the aisle. Putting our shared principles ahead of our political differences.

Now, new leadership in Jefferson City and in Washington isn't enough. The answers to our problems won't all come from government.

We need new leaders to step up in communities across our state – and I'm not just talking about elected officials.

Tough times call for a renewed sense of purpose. A new day for public service and volunteerism.

We need all Missourians to step up and do more to make our communities stronger.

We need more parents to get active in our local schools.

We need more role models to mentor our children and coach our youth sports teams.

We must get involved in our places of worship. Get involved in our local civic groups. Volunteer our time at senior citizen homes.

Community service is not a chore or a burden. It's a responsibility, and an honor.

We will only turn our state around if we all do our part.

I grew up in De Soto, Missouri – a small town in Jefferson County. I go back frequently and visit with old friends. When I do, I'm reminded why our state is so strong.

It's because here in Missouri, we go to work early and stay late.

We love our families and our faith. We have a strong tradition of neighbor-helping-neighbor. And when times are tough, we meet the challenges, and we always come back stronger.

And I know a lot of folks around this state could use a fresh start. A new beginning. A reason to believe that the best days for their families are still to come.

The next generation will be able to seize opportunities that we cannot even imagine today. We can protect our special way of life here in Missouri, while at the same time moving boldly to embrace the future.

Together, we can see that future. Today is a new day for Missouri.

It's a new day for every child in our state with big dreams.

It's a new day for the small-business owner who knows that with a little help, her hard work will pay off, and brighter days are ahead.

It's a new day for the family that recently sat around the kitchen table to decide if they should take out a second mortgage so that they can send their second child to college.

And it's a new day for the men and women who work day-in and day-out to build the best products in America. The autoworker, the construction worker, the lab technician and the engineer.

As your Governor, I will work every day to help make this brighter future a reality for all Missouri families.

I am honored and humbled by the opportunity to lead our state during this critical time.

As our family moves into the Governor's Mansion, we do so knowing that it's your house – not ours. And we hope you'll visit us often.

And together, we will make a new day for Missouri.

Thank you, and God bless.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 13, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richard in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Blessed are You, Lord our God, Creator of all that is! We thank You for the resources of the world. They are Your creation. It is Your will that all the people share in these resources according to their needs.

We accept the responsibility to help this come about for the people of the State of Missouri. By Your inspiration may we keep our focus on the well being of the people. "The well being of the people is the supreme law."

Many of our people are suffering in the recession. Some have lost their jobs. Some have seen their income decline. We pray for them, especially for those who suffer physically in the cold of winter.

May these harsh realities hold our attention so that we might work together to lay the groundwork for a better future for the people.

Strengthen us with Your grace and wisdom for You are God forever and ever. Amen.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lauren Riley Smith, Zoe Anastosopolos, Dayne Hansen and Hunter Hansen.

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Gracious, Heavenly Father, in Your Word we find this truth, "Blessed are they who maintain justice, who constantly do what is right".

Give us, O God, Your wisdom and strength, enabling us to fulfill our responsibilities above and beyond our human capabilities.

Precious God, we pray that in the days to come, that You will move in our lives, in such a way, as to help us make wise and intelligent decisions in presenting bills that, once becoming law, will serve our constituents for years to come. As elected officials, who will introduce bills and establish laws, give us great discernment as to the fulfillment of these duties. Let Your purposes be accomplished each day.

Now may the grace of our Lord be with us all. To You be glory, majesty, power and authority.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

(b) No bill shall be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendars unless it is federally mandated, immediate in nature and reduces revenues or savings if not enacted. A federal mandate bill may only contain subject matter concerning the federal mandate. A member wishing for his or her bill to be considered for placement on the Federal Mandate Calendar shall request in writing to the chair of the committee where such bill has been referred. The written request shall state the deadline by which the State must comply with the federal mandate and what will happen if the State fails to take action by such date. A copy for each committee member of the federal statute(s) or regulation(s) mandating such action shall accompany the request. After the committee has voted "Do Pass" on a bill with such a request, it shall take a second recorded vote on whether or not to recommend that it be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If said bill is reported "Do Pass" by the committee with a recommendation that same be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar, and the Committee on Rules concurs therein, the Committee on Rules Chair shall submit to the Speaker a copy of the original written request, along with a copy of the federal statute(s) or regulation(s) mandating State action. If the Speaker concurs with the committees that the bill complies with the requirements of this rule, he/she shall advise the Chief Clerk to place same on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If the Speaker does not concur, he/she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. Each bill placed upon the Federal Mandate Calendars shall have attached thereto a copy of the federal statute(s) or regulation(s) that mandates the bill, along with a copy of the request to place the bill on the Federal Mandate Calendar and shall be distributed to all members at least twenty-four hours prior to consideration by the entire House.

Motion To Place On Calendar

Rule 40. If any bill is reported from committee with the recommendation that it "Do Not Pass" it shall not go on the calendar of the House unless ordered by a constitutional majority. At the same time the bill is reported to the House, the committee chair shall notify the sponsor or handler of the bill that such report is being made. A motion to have a bill placed upon the calendar must be made within three legislative days after the bill is reported and when the sponsor of the bill is present or the motion is made by a member upon the sponsor's written request. If no such action is taken within said time, the bill shall lie on the table. If such a motion is sustained, the bill shall stand automatically referred to the Committee on Rules for further action thereon.

To Appear In Order

Rule 43. All bills laid over informally and not taken up and disposed of the same day, shall appear in order upon the calendar for the next legislative day following.

Any bill which increases net expenditures of the state, reduces net revenue of the state, or contains penalty provisions, shall not be considered by the committee for consent; provided however, any bill which specifically authorizes an easement or right-of-way involving state property may be considered by the committee for placement on the Consent Calendar.

(b) Procedure on House Bills. If the committee shall so determine, the committee report shall include a request that a bill be placed on the "House Consent Calendar for Perfection". Any bill so reported shall automatically be referred to the Committee on Rules. Any bill reported by the Committee on Rules with the recommendation that it be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection shall be placed on that calendar and after said bill has remained on the "House Consent Calendar for Perfection" for five legislative days, it shall be ordered perfected and advanced to the "House Consent Calendar for Third Reading and Final Passage" without further action of the House, unless five members, with at least two from each political party, have filed written objection with the Chief Clerk. If such objections are filed, the bill shall be placed on the House Bills to be Perfected and Printed Calendar. An objection made by five members under this rule cannot be rescinded. Where there is a House Committee Substitute for a consent bill or House Committee Amendments to a consent bill, the committee substitute, or the bill as amended, shall be deemed adopted and perfected by consent.

(c) Senate Bills - Consent. When the Senate passes a bill by its procedure for consent bills, such bill shall be considered for treatment as a consent bill by the House committee without further request; provided however, that the same committee procedures, votes and requirements for House Bills being considered for consent shall be applied to Senate Bills being considered for consent. A Senate Bill may be considered by the committee for Consent even if it was not a Consent Bill in the Senate.

(d) Procedure on Senate Bills. Senate Bills passed out of the House committee and Committee on Rules with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage - Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of this rule.

(e) Deadline for Placing Senate Consent Bills on the Calendar. No Senate consent bills shall be placed on the consent calendar after April 15.

(f) Amendments. House bills may be considered for consent after they are amended in committee but may not be amended on the floor of the House.

Senate consent bills may be amended in committee but not on the floor of the House unless the Senate Rules allow amendment of House consent bills on the floor of the Senate in which case Senate consent bills may be amended on the floor of the House. House committee amendments and House committee substitutes to Senate consent bills shall be deemed adopted on the fifth legislative day.

AMENDMENTS AND SUBSTITUTES

Rule 46. (a) In Writing and Distributed in Advance. Proposed amendments must be reduced to writing. Every amendment shall be distributed in advance of the time the bill is initially taken up for consideration. An amendment shall be considered to have been distributed if it has been placed on the members' desks in paper form, except for the desk of any member who has waived receipt of amendments. The sponsor of an amendment that has been distributed may make technical corrections at the time the amendment is offered or under consideration. Any technical corrections shall be read in full by the clerk. Technical corrections shall be subject to a point of order that they are not truly technical in nature. Every proposed amendment to the amendment and substitute amendment shall be read in its entirety by the clerk unless it has been distributed in advance. Amendments to the amendment and substitute amendments may be offered even though not distributed in advance of the time a bill is initially taken up for consideration. Any amendment to the amendment or substitute amendment that exceeds two 8 ½" x 11" pages in length shall be distributed prior to the time it is offered.

(b) What Amendments and Substitute Amendments are in Order. When a bill, motion or proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it also shall be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute for the original motion to amend, to which one amendment may be offered. It shall not be in order to offer a substitute amendment to an amendment to an amendment. When an amendment is offered, a substitute for that amendment is offered and an amendment to the substitute is offered, it shall not be in order to offer a substitute for the amendment to the substitute. Any proposed amendment in the third degree shall be out of order. Any bill may be withdrawn by the sponsor before amendment or decision thereon. Any amendment may be withdrawn by the sponsor before decision thereon. Once a bill has been amended, it shall be in the possession of the House.

(e) When Federal Mandate Bills can be Amended. Amendments to House and Senate bills-Federal Mandate are permitted only within the scope of the federal mandate. Perfecting amendments are permitted to make technical amendments.

(f) Appropriations Bills. 1. No amendment to the [first 12] appropriations bills of the state budget [constituting the operating budget of the state] shall be in order if it increases the total amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the [aforementioned 12] House appropriations bills as reported from the Committee on Budget. Any amendment that increases the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the [aforementioned 12] House appropriations bills shall be required to contain an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the same bill or shall be required to be submitted with a separate amendment that makes an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent in any other of the [twelve] bills still pending. If the reduction is in another bill, the decreasing amendment shall be taken up first, and the increasing amendment may be taken up only if the decreasing amendment is adopted.

2. If a member's decreasing amendment is adopted and the same member's increasing amendment is defeated, the decreasing amendment's adoption is void.

3. The offering and adoption of an amendment decreasing the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated without a balancing increase in the same amendment or a paired amendment creates no right of another member to offer an increasing amendment in any amount up to the amount of the decrease effected by the decreasing amendment, and no member may be recognized for the purpose of making such an amendment.

4. For the perfection of the [first 12] House appropriations bills of the state budget [constituting the operating budget of the state] only, it shall be permissible to amend any line item as often as the House pleases, as long as prior adopted amendments to the line item are taken into account.

5. No House Bill or House Committee Substitute of the state budget [constituting the operating budget of the state] shall be adopted until all properly offered amendments to the first 12 House appropriations bills or substitutes have been disposed of.

Committee Substitute Printed

Rule 47. When a committee recommends a substitute for a bill, the original bill will accompany the substitute. The substitute shall be handled on the floor of the House by the committee chair or any member designated by the committee chair. The Chief Clerk shall have an appropriate number of copies of the substitute printed. No committee substitute shall be called from the calendar of the House until the printed copies have been distributed for at least one legislative day. Amendments, if any, may be offered to the substitute before the vote on the motion to adopt the substitute is taken. If the substitute is defeated, the original bill shall be before the House for perfection and shall be considered and shall be handled on the floor by the original sponsor of the bill.

Order of Amendments

Rule 48. When amendments to any bill, motion or proposition are pending, they shall be voted on in the following order:

(1) Amendments to the amendment are disposed of before the substitute is taken up. Only one amendment to the amendment is in order at one time; but as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one.

(2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered, one at a time, and as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the substitute amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one, until the substitute amendment is adopted.

(3) The substitute amendment, as amended, is next voted on. If the substitute amendment is adopted, the underlying amendment to which it was offered shall not be voted upon, but the substitute amendment shall become part of the bill.

(4) The amendment is voted on last. If any substitute has not been agreed to, the vote comes on the amendment as amended.

(5) The House Committee Substitute is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment. If the House Committee Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(6) [If a House Committee Substitute is not offered or adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment] If there is no House Committee Substitute, or if the House Committee Substitute is not adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment.

It may be moved like any other question but it shall only prevail when supported by a constitutional majority and until decided shall preclude amendments and debate. If the motion is sustained, the proponent of the matter under consideration shall be allowed one minute in which to make a closing statement before the House votes on the question. A failure to sustain the motion shall not take the matter under consideration from further consideration of the House; but the House shall proceed as if the motion had not been made.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Representative Nieves in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Frost and chill, bless the Lord;
Praise and exalt him above all forever.

Ice and snow, bless the Lord;
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
(Daniel 3:69-70)

Almighty God, the bitter cold speaks to us of our limitations. We bow before You, the all-powerful and all-holy One.

We pray for those who are suffering at this hour from the cold because of their poverty and inability. In Your mercy, send caring neighbors to help them. Guide us in our role in state government to know and do our part that they may have a better future.

We pray for those who depend upon us personally, and for our families. Keep them safe until we return to them later today.

We pray that Your Holy Spirit help us to complete well the work before us today. We pray to You almighty God forever and ever. Amen.

RE: Possible Personal Interest in Legislation

Dear Chief Clerk Crumbliss,

Pursuant to Section 105.461, RSMo, I am hereby filing a written letter of a possible interest in legislation that may be voted on during this legislative session.

As an employee on the administrative side of Lindenwood University, I deal with processing government grants, scholarships, and the majority of student loans for my assigned students from Lindenwood University. One of the main requirements of my job is to make sure that the students receive the best possible grants, scholarships, or student loans they qualify for. Possible legislation regarding grants, scholarships and student loans could impact certain aspects of my employment that could come to the Missouri House of Representatives.

In compliance with Section 105.461, RSMo, would you please publish this letter in the Missouri House of Representatives Journal? If you have any questions, please call my office and I will be more than happy to answer them for you. Thank you for your time and help in this matter.

Respectfully Yours,

/s/ Rep. Joe Smith

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 20, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Almighty God, yesterday we commemorated the enormous civil rights work of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and today we witnessed the inauguration of an African-American as the Forty-fourth President of the United States. We pray for President Barack Obama. Give him the wisdom and the support he needs to succeed. Martin Luther King prayed that he might do Your Holy will. Give President Obama the same desire to do Your will, and give him the virtues of perseverance and toughness when he is pursuing justice and right in the work as President.

We pray for all in authority. We are in positions of authority in this House. We pray for the virtues of perseverance and toughness when we are working for what is truly just and right.

We pray to You, our God forever and ever. Amen.

WHEREAS, Article XIII, Section 3 of the Missouri Constitution charges the Missouri Citizens' Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials with setting the amounts of compensation paid to statewide elected officials, legislators, and judges; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution provides the Commission with a four-month window prior to its constitutional deadline for making salary recommendations to hold public hearings around the state to gather testimony related to salaries for affected state officials and to carefully consider whether pay increases are warranted; and

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION FOR THIRD READING

HCR 5, (1-21-09) - McGhee

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 22, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Representative Nieves in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Today is the anniversary of the Supreme Court decision Roe vs. Wade, 1972

Let us pray, first, by listening:

"The Lord God formed man out of the clay of the ground and blew into his nostrils the breath of life and so man became a living being."
(Genesis 2:7)

Holy God and Creator of all, we learn from this verse that You are the Creator of life.

We thank You for our own life. It is our most precious possession. We who are parents thank You for the wonderful privilege of cooperating with You as Creator in bringing new life into the world. We thank You for the love and fulfillment we receive in caring for our children.

We pray for the day when all children who are conceived are cherished from the start and lovingly welcomed into this world. We pray especially for all women, and men, for whom conceiving a child is cause for fear, hardship, and crisis.

In our work, our communication and our attitudes, may we call ourselves and others everywhere to help and care for women for whom pregnancy is a crisis and a great burden. Let us help them and care for them so well that some day every mother-to-be will joyfully welcome her child into this world.

We pray to You; You are our God forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 26, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, You are He Who judges: humbling one and exalting another.

Holy God, You reign in power and majesty over all things. You rule in sovereignty and perfect authority over all the affairs of our lives. You call out and lift up those You desire to rule, and You enable and empower them to serve at Your pleasure.

Today, we thank You for revealing Your plan, for our state, through seen and unseen events. Let us catch a glimpse of Your destiny for us as a state and as a people. May we embrace Your purpose for us and tirelessly pursue it.

Grant us the privilege of effectively serving our communities and thank You for allowing us to see the potential and greatness of our state. Encourage each one of us, today, through the power of Your Spirit.

We ask these things, in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

ELEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 27, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Ice and snow, bless the Lord;
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
(Daniel 3:70)

Almighty God, we thank You for the self-confidence we feel in coping with the ice and snow. We pray:

For those who are suffering in the cold because of their poverty or their inability to provide for themselves, for those who have lost their jobs because of the recession, and for those whose income does not meet their basic needs.

We pray for ourselves through the prayer of Solomon: "Give Your servant a heart to understand how to discern between good and evil," (1Kings 3:9). Our work is greatly affected by the recession; give us wisdom, O Lord.

Give us wisdom:

That we might be able to help those whose basic needs are not met.
That we might do our part in stimulating jobs for all the people.
That we may truly work to serve the common good.

Strengthen us with Your grace and wisdom, for You are God forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the tenth day was approved as corrected.

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon, Governor of the State of Missouri. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the Assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE
ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR JEREMIAH W. (JAY) NIXON

Thank you Speaker Richard, President Pro-tem Shields, Leaders LeVota and Callahan, Justices of the Missouri Supreme Court, Lieutenant Governor Kinder, statewide officials and Members of the General Assembly. I also welcome the many thousands of Missourians who are tuning in on TV, on the radio, or online.

It also gives me great pleasure to introduce Missouri's First Lady, Georganne Nixon, and our two sons, Jeremiah and Will.

We come here tonight in the spirit of public service, and public service often requires sacrifice. I'd like to offer a special welcome to someone who truly represents sacrifice and dedication to service - Staff Sergeant William Boyd.

A proud Member of the Missouri National Guard from Centertown, Sergeant Boyd served our nation in Iraq. In February 2005, Sergeant Boyd was riding in a convoy when his vehicle hit a hole left by a roadside bomb. The vehicle overturned several times, and broke two bones in the Sergeant's left leg.

Sergeant Boyd underwent two surgeries in Iraq and a third in Germany, where they inserted a metal rod into his leg. Upon arrival back in Missouri where he would undergo extensive physical therapy, his doctors told him he would not be able to rejoin his unit in Iraq.

He asked the doctors if he could return to Iraq if he made a full recovery. They said no, but Sergeant Boyd resolved to change their minds. By June, he was running again, and the doctors gave their approval for him to return to duty. So Sergeant Boyd headed back to Iraq and served with his unit through the end of their deployment.

In the spirit of recognizing those who sacrifice to serve, and to give thanks to the many brave Missourians who are in harm's way this very evening, please join me in welcoming Sergeant Boyd. Sergeant, we are honored to be in your presence.

Fifteen days ago, we stood together on the steps of the Capitol to mark a "New Day for Missouri." We declared it a new day for every Missouri family that holds out hope for a better future.

A new day for the 219,000 Missourians out of work, the highest unemployment rate in 25 years. And for the 729,000 who have no health coverage. And the 42,000 families who have had their homes foreclosed last year.

And on those Capitol steps two weeks ago, we also declared it a new day for bipartisanship here in Jefferson City. These are historically difficult times, and they will require historic levels of cooperation.

Some doubted a new tone in Jefferson City was possible. So far, I am pleased to report that together, we're proving the nay-sayers wrong. Sure, it's been just two weeks. But they've been two productive weeks. We're rolling up our sleeves. We're getting to work, and we're doing it together.

This new tone is possible, I believe, because we start with a set of shared principles. Shared by me, the members of the General Assembly and most importantly - shared by the people of Missouri.

First. We believe in the value of a hard day's work. But too many Missourians are unemployed - or fear they may soon become unemployed. We must help small businesses grow. And we must invest in technology, science, and innovation to create the next-generation jobs we need to compete in the 21st-Century. We must create new jobs and we must do it now.

Second. We believe in fiscal responsibility and balanced budgets. We face a significant budget shortfall, but we will bring our budget into balance by making difficult decisions, and by making government more efficient. Not by putting the burden on the backs of the weakest among us. And, not by raising taxes on Missouri families or businesses.

Third. Education is the key to our future. From pre-school to college, we must prepare every child to compete. We must support our teachers. And we must make the dream of a college education a reality for more Missouri families.

Fourth. A healthier workforce is a more productive workforce. And a strong health care system will help lure new businesses to our state. We must expand access to affordable health care, particularly for the 150,000 Missouri children who are uninsured today.

And fifth, the people of Missouri must be given reason to trust their elected officials and have faith in their work. That means a more open, transparent and accountable government.

These five principles don't represent Democratic values or Republican values. They're Missouri values. They're our values. And they've guided me in laying out next year's budget.

Tonight, as I put forward my plan to address many of our critical challenges, I do so in the spirit of cooperation and bipartisanship. We were all elected by the people of Missouri, and we all share the common goal of serving the people of Missouri.

If one of you has a better way to fix our health care system, I'm ready to listen. If someone else has a cost-effective way for the state to create new jobs, let's hear it. Many of the best ideas come from outside the halls of government. And the challenges we face are too steep to worry about who gets credit for the solution.

Times are tough. We all know that.

The national economic meltdown is creating serious challenges for Missouri families. Jobs are being lost. Homes are being foreclosed. Retirements are being delayed. And everyone is concerned about what the future will bring.

Jobs are the lifeblood of our economy. When jobs are lost and businesses shut down, communities suffer and people start losing hope. To start turning this economy around, we must take immediate action on our first shared principle and join together to get Missourians back to work.

Several weeks ago, I laid out the initial pieces of our Show Me Jobs plan. A series of steps that we can take to create jobs and stimulate economic growth. It's a fiscally responsible plan, and I've been encouraged by the bi-partisan support that it has received thus far.

And because immediate action was needed, one of my first acts as Governor was to sign three executive orders to help spur job creation.

Many of our new jobs will come from small businesses. So we proposed a new low-interest loan program for Missouri small businesses - to make it easier for them to expand and grow, or in some cases, easier to just keep their doors open.

From DeSoto to Chillicothe. From Cape Girardeau to St. Joe. Barber shops. Coffee shops. Hardware stores. The places where we've shopped since we were kids. Small businesses give our communities character and they make our Main Streets vibrant. We must renew our efforts to help small businesses thrive and prosper.

We must ensure that opportunity and job growth takes place in all of our communities. That's why we must support our women and minority-owned businesses so that they can continue to grow and create jobs.

It's not just small businesses that are facing tough times in this economy. The American auto industry is in peril, and Missouri has felt the pain as much as anyone. In the past two years, thousands of Missouri autoworkers and auto industry employees have lost their jobs. I've met with many of these men and women. They're the most skilled autoworkers in the nation. They take a great deal of pride in their craft, and they're anxious to get back to work.

Giving up on Missouri's auto industry is not an option.

That's why I have ordered the creation of an Automotive Jobs Task Force to make sure that we're in the best possible position to revitalize the automobile industry in Missouri. In the years to come, America will produce a new generation of automobiles - electric cars, trucks powered by fuel cells. We must ensure that those new cars and trucks are built right here in Missouri.

Every idea must be considered as we seek to create the jobs our state so needs. We are discussing some new ideas tonight. Programs that don't work will be ended. But when we know something works, we will increase our investment.

The Quality Jobs Act has incentivized business owners to create thousands of high-paying jobs that offer health care. Good middle-class jobs. The Quality Jobs Act has worked. We must not only continue this program, we must expand it.

Programs like the Quality Jobs Act are one important tool in our toolbox for creating jobs. But our strongest asset is and always will be our people. I've said it many times: Missouri is home to the best workers, the best craftsmen in the world. But the set of skills that meant guaranteed employment in the past, now offers no such certainty in this new economy. To seize the economy of the future, we must ensure that our workers have the skills and training for the jobs of tomorrow.

We're joined tonight by Patrick Davis, a young man from Ferguson. Patrick had worked for 14 years at the Ford Plant in Hazelwood, but like many of his brothers and sisters, he was laid off when the plant closed in 2006. But Patrick dusted himself off and took action to learn a new skill. He enrolled at a worker retraining program at Florissant Valley Community College, and learned to convert the craft he knows - building cars -- into a craft that landed him a next-generation job building F18s, one of the best fighter jets the world has ever seen. Please join me in welcoming Patrick tonight.

We must help more Missourians look down the road and stay ahead of the curve, just like Patrick has. Identifying next-generation jobs and making sure our workers are ready to compete. Jobs in technology, innovation and lifesaving research. The "green jobs" that will create new energy solutions. Jobs building wind turbines, hydroelectric facilities, solar panels, next generation batteries, more efficient window and doors. The list goes on and on. And so do the opportunities.

Right now, we have far too many jobs in health care that we can't fill right here in Missouri because we can't find people with the right skills. We need nurses, pharmacy workers and rural health care workers. Filling those positions is critical to both our economy and our health care system. That's why I've called for the creation and funding of the Caring for Missourians program - an initiative that will coordinate efforts between our two and four-year institutions to train our next generation of health care workers.

We have hardworking Missourians ready to fill these skilled jobs - they just need a little help getting there.

So my budget invests in people.

We'll build a workforce ready to tackle the challenges of this new economy. I believe Missouri's economic future depends on the strength of Missouri's people. When a company wants to build a new plant or open a new office, they'll want to come to Missouri, not just because they get the best deal, but because they'll get the best workers.

That's why, despite the budget problems we face, I have called for an increase in funding for job development and training programs of 38 percent.

And as we invest in Missouri's people, no one should be left behind. Under my proposed budget, I have called for increased funding to help Missourians with developmental disabilities earn a living and contribute to society.

On that point, I'd like to introduce you to a gentleman named Glenn Cromley. Glenn is now 61 years old, and was diagnosed with a cognitive disability when he was a child. Like many parents with children who have disabilities, his parents worried about whether Glenn could lead a productive and happy life. When Missouri launched the Sheltered Workshop program in 1966, Glenn's parents signed him up. The workshop provides an opportunity for Glenn to work and contribute each day, preparing first aid kits for local distributors.

Please join me in welcoming Glenn, his mother Sue, and his workshop supervisor, Roger Garlich.

Every Missourian is unique and valuable, and every Missourian must have the opportunity to realize the value of a hard-day's work. Now, some have called for the Sheltered Workshop Program to be eliminated. Let me tell you - that's not going to happen. Not while I serve as your Governor.

Quite the contrary, in order to ensure that more Missourians like Glenn have the opportunity to live independent and successful lives, my budget proposes increasing funding for our Sheltered Workshop program.

Now we all know we cannot move our economy forward without moving Missouri agriculture forward. We must ensure that Missouri's family farmers and agri-businesses are ready to compete in this new economy. Branding Missouri products and increasing opportunities to export them. Making sure that every dairy farmer, row cropper and livestock seller has access to world markets, and has the technology to connect to those markets.

We know that within Missouri's own agricultural capacity lies a possible solution to our nation's energy crisis. Missouri must remain on the leading edge of efforts to develop the renewable energy sources of our future. That's why my budget provides full funding for ethanol and bio-fuels.

And in 2009, there is no reason why some of our rural areas still don't have access to high-speed Internet. The information super-highway must be accessible to all Missouri families.

Protecting and creating jobs must be our top priority. We must take quick action. Tonight, I repeat my request: Send me an emergency jobs plan before the March break. I'll sign a comprehensive, fiscally sound package. And together, we'll start getting Missouri back to work.

Now, the economic challenges we face are significant. Just as Missouri families are readjusting their budgets to deal with economic realities, the state must do the same. Everyone is forced to make difficult choices.

But as I said earlier, we balance our budgets here in Missouri. Fiscal responsibility is a principle that we share.

So here is something we can all agree on. We will balance our budget, this year, next year, and the year after that. We won't place the burden on the weakest among us. We won't abandon our priorities or shared principles. And we won't raise taxes.

We face an immediate shortfall in FY09 of more than a quarter of a billion dollars. I've already begun to implement the tough decisions necessary to make our government leaner and more efficient. We'll balance our books without cutting important public services.

But even larger economic problems loom ahead for the next fiscal year.

To tackle the budget challenges we face in FY10, we are embarking on an unprecedented initiative to make government leaner and more efficient.

To bring about this needed reduction, my budget eliminates or cuts 50 programs. Many bureaucratic positions will be consolidated or eliminated altogether. Hundreds of additional positions that are currently unoccupied will not be filled.

In total, my FY10 budget proposes the elimination of more than 1,300 positions. We will cut nearly $200 million from overhead by eliminating these positions and cutting bureaucracy. After just two weeks in office, we are proposing the smallest state bureaucracy that Missouri has seen in a decade. The reduction I am proposing today represents the largest single reduction in the state's bureaucracy in modern history.

And because Missourians will get a government that's smarter and more efficient, most families will not see changes in the services they count on.

Make no mistake, I value our state workers, and these cuts will not be easy.

We must always remember that public service is among the most honorable lines of work. The folks who protect our families and keep our parks clean. The brave men and women who help our communities overcome natural disasters. As their chief executive, I stand with our state employees today and always.

We will take action to make government smaller, but that alone will not be enough. We must also make government more efficient. Now more than ever, we must stretch every dollar Missouri taxpayers send us.

In the coming weeks I will appoint a Taxpayer Protection Commission to implement widespread performance reviews. Top-to-bottom reviews of every agency and program to identify what's working and what's not working. What could be run more efficiently and where we can consolidate.

For example, the Taxpayer Protection Commission's work will include a strict and thorough review of every tax credit program.

Let me be crystal clear on this point. Tax credits are for creating jobs and strengthening communities, not for padding the pockets of the wealthiest among us. In addition, I have ordered the review of all long-term government contracts. We must get our arms around this budget shortfall before we continue committing our state to future spending.

And in the General Assembly, Republicans and Democrats must work together to send me a budget that reflects our need to be more fiscally responsible.

Now, we have every reason to believe that a federal recovery package will soon be passed by Congress, and money will be sent to the states to help create economic growth. We've been working closely with the Obama Administration and our Congressional delegation on this matter. And I have established an Economic Stimulus Coordination Council to ensure that Missouri is prepared to wisely invest the assistance that comes from Washington in a way that is efficient, fiscally responsible and consistent with our shared principles.

While the budget I submit tonight includes significant cuts, we will not put the burden on the backs of our young students.

We all share the belief that education is the key to ensuring economic strength long into the future. Missouri's pre-K-through-12 education system is the foundation of all efforts to prepare our young people to compete in the 21st Century. And only a strong education system will ensure that all Missouri children can achieve their full potential.

So even in these difficult economic times, we must fully fund the education foundation formula. That is not negotiable.

Under the budget I submit to you, Missouri classrooms will receive more than 3 billion dollars in state aid.

In addition, I propose a larger investment in early childhood education. We must continue to support funding for career education, the Parents as Teachers program and the Small Schools program. And I have called for increased funding for First Steps, a critical program that helps so many Missouri children get off on the right foot.

We must give our public school teachers the tools they need to educate our children. And make sure that every child has a productive learning environment. That's why I've called for an increase in funding for the "Safe Schools" program, which promotes alternative schools for disruptive students.

When a kid consistently acts up in class, we want them to go to an alternative place where they can learn - not to the street corner.

Every child in Missouri deserves the opportunity to succeed. And that means a quality education for all children - no matter what zip code that child lives in, or what that child's parents do for a living. Education must be the great equalizer.

But we know that in the 21st Century, a pre-K-through-12 education is only the beginning. For many, a college degree can be critical to competing in a modern economy.

That degree is out of reach for too many Missouri families. Unaffordable. And the cost of college forces a difficult decision for too many Missourians.

It's a decision much like the one that Marcus and Rachelle Brent from St. Louis recently faced. Marcus and Rachelle had dreamed of sending their daughter Keirstin to college - and worked hard all their lives to make it happen. But just a few weeks ago, they both unexpectedly lost their jobs, and it turned their world upside down. They were left with a difficult decision: Should they take money out of their 401Ks in order to help Keirstin go to college? Or should they ask their daughter to give up her dreams of a college degree?

Marcus and Rachelle decided that their daughter's education comes first. And today Keirstin is a freshman at Harris Stowe State University in St. Louis.

We welcome Keirstin here tonight, and we salute Marcus and Rachelle's dedication to her future.

Families across the state are postponing retirements, taking out second mortgages, doing whatever they can to make college a reality for their children. It shouldn't have to be this way.

Even with her parents' help, Keirstin will still graduate with thousands of dollars of debt. She'll have a hard time buying that new house or new car. Instead of pumping money back into our economy, she'll be paying off the degree that's hanging on her wall.

Tuition has skyrocketed in part because the state has slashed its support for colleges and universities. In the past, when the state has faced challenging economic times, higher education has often been the first target for cuts. Not this time.

Under my proposed budget, Missouri's state colleges and universities will receive the same level of support next year that they currently receive.

And in exchange for the state's continued level of support, the presidents of the state's public colleges and universities have agreed not to increase tuition on Missouri students.

Students in other states will see their tuition continue to skyrocket this year. But not here.

Under my proposed budget, not one Missouri student at a public Missouri college, university or community college will see their tuition go up next year. And that is a major victory for Missouri families.

But for many middle-class Missourians, even the current cost of tuition at our public four-year colleges and universities is unaffordable.

To highlight this point, I'd like to tell you about a young lady I met a few months ago. Her name is Jennifer Long. Jennifer grew up in Pleasant Hill but she currently attends Pittsburg State University in Kansas. I asked her why she - or any Missourian - would choose to go to college in Kansas. She told me that she wanted to stay here in Missouri, but she qualified for in-state tuition in Kansas because she lived in a nearby county. And, the schools in Kansas are more affordable.

Jennifer had gone to community college in Missouri on an A+ scholarship - but then had to leave the state in order to afford her four-year degree. That shouldn't happen.

That's why my budget includes funds for my plan called the Missouri Promise. It builds upon our current A+ Schools Program, which allows students at eligible high schools to get their two-year degrees at community colleges tuition free.

The Missouri Promise allows those students who take advantage of A+ scholarships to continue at a Missouri public college or university - and complete their four-year degree debt free.

So now, as long as they keep a B average and give back to their community, students like Jennifer Long will have a pathway to earn a four-year degree and graduate debt free, right here in Missouri.

Please join me in welcoming Jennifer, who joins us tonight. Thank you for coming. We wish you all the best at Pittsburg State. But when you graduate, we need you to come back home and help our economy here in Missouri.

In addition to the Missouri Promise, we'll continue funding other important scholarship programs - like the Missouri Teacher Education Program, Bright Flight, the Missouri Minority Teaching Program, and the Urban Flight and Rural Needs Program.

And we will continue to honor our heroes in the Missouri National Guard as they return home from overseas by fully funding tuition assistance programs. Despite these tough economic times, the State of Missouri will keep its end of the bargain for those who fought for our freedom and safety.

Now, our state's health care system has been broken for some time. And lately, matters have only been getting worse. More than 729,000 Missourians are uninsured, including 150,000 children. Families who have insurance are struggling to afford it. Hospitals are struggling to keep up with the lines at Emergency Rooms.

Nobody should feel good about the state of our health care system. Nobody should feel good that we have 150,000 uninsured children in Missouri. Thousands of parents in our state have to worry about letting their children play outside with their friends after school - because one slip and fall could mean bankruptcy for the family.

In Missouri, there are 100,000 children among our uninsured who are right now eligible for health coverage under Medicaid or the State Children's Health Insurance Program, but are not signed up. That's unacceptable.

We need to identify these families, and put together a coordinated effort to recruit them. We'll eliminate premiums for some kids and create a level premium for the rest. We're going to tear down the roadblocks that are preventing eligible families from registering their children for S-CHIP. And we'll seek to form public-private partnerships to assist families that can't afford S-CHIP premiums.

Tomorrow, I'll propose a supplemental budget recommendation so that we can immediately begin the process of getting these children the health care they deserve.

Not only is it unacceptable that so many of our neighbors live without access to affordable health care, this broken system directly impacts our state's economy. New companies aren't coming to Missouri and employers are not adding workers because the cost of health care is just too high. We cannot get this economy moving until we get the cost of health insurance under control. And we cannot get the cost of health insurance under control until we reduce the number of Missourians who don't have it.

Reducing the number of uninsured Missourians is not just the right thing to do for our neighbors. It is the smart thing to do for our economy.

So, we must begin the process of reducing the number of uninsured. It's a massive problem, and in these difficult times, we won't fix it overnight. But we must make progress, and start heading in the right direction once again.

There are many options on the table, and I am open to all good ideas that achieve our common goal - providing more Missouri families access to health coverage that they can afford at a cost that the state can afford.

That's why, in my budget, I've begun the process. Tonight I am offering a plan to expand health coverage to 62,000 more Missourians - that's 35,000 working adults and 27,000 children. We'll pay for much of the cost of this expansion by drawing down additional federal matching dollars.

But let's be clear. While this is the logical first step towards expanding health coverage, it won't be the last step. We must continue to work together to further expand coverage and further drive down costs for Missouri families.

I look forward to working with the legislature to find common ground on this critical issue for our state. And make no mistake, we must take action to address the health care crisis in Missouri this year.

Working together, we can accomplish a lot to bring about the change our state needs. But at a very fundamental level, we must also regain and retain the trust of the people of Missouri.

We can all agree that our government must be more open, more transparent, more responsive and more accountable.

The people of Missouri have had reason to be skeptical of their government in recent years. Legislators doubling as political consultants. Special access for the special interests. A campaign finance system that allows unlimited contributions to flow into candidates' coffers.

That all must stop.

Two weeks ago, I officially put an end to the antiquated system that allowed Governors to give away license fee offices to their political allies. It was a system reminiscent of the political machines and the smoke-filled rooms of the past. Those days should be long behind us.

For as long as I'm your Governor, license fee offices will go to the people or organizations that will run them most effectively and provide the best service to Missourians. I'm encouraged by the bi-partisan support the new system has received, and I hope the General Assembly will send me a bill to make this change permanent.

Elections should be competitions of ideas, not competitions to recruit the largest number of wealthy donors. The people of Missouri have gone to the polls and spoken on this issue: They want strict contribution limits. I agree with them. There is no reason that special interest groups from across the country should be pouring millions of dollars into local elections here in Missouri. That's why I believe we must pass a real campaign finance reform bill during this session.

It's difficult to overstate the seriousness of the challenges we face.

In the coming weeks, we will make the tough decisions needed to tackle our economic challenges. Those decisions won't be easy, and they won't come without sacrifice. Even in these historically tough times, we must continue moving forward. We must all work together to make our state a better place.

The economic climate may have changed in recent months, but the principles we share have not.

We are all in this together.

We all see a future where every Missourian who works hard has a place to work. And where parents can sleep at night knowing that their children will have the medical care they need. A state where every young person has a chance to realize their dreams, and where we know that our government is always on our side.

The solutions to our problems are within reach. And the only thing that can stop us is the same thing that always stops progress: a failure to listen, a failure to compromise, or a failure to walk a day in someone else's shoes.

By working together, we will tear down old barriers and tackle the challenges we face.

United by the principles we share today, Missouri will come back stronger tomorrow.

It is a new day for the Show-Me State, and we're excited by what the future will bring.

Thank you and God bless the great state of Missouri.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Engler.

Speaker Richard resumed the Chair.

RULE 3. Quorum

A quorum exists when a majority of the members of the Committee are present.

RULE 4. Form of Complaints

A. All complaints filed with the Speaker against a member of the House shall be made by a member. The complaints shall be confidential and shall be referred to the Committee on Ethics within ten (10) days and shall be in writing and under oath, setting forth in simple, concise and direct statements:

(1) The name and legal address of the member or members acting as complainant;

(2) The name of the member of the House alleged to have engaged in the commission of a crime, misconduct, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office or other acts constituting ethical misconduct. "Misconduct" means:

(a) Any conduct constituting a legal or moral wrong which materially impairs the member's ability to perform the duties of his office or substantially impairs public confidence in the General Assembly;

- B. All documents in the possession of the complainant that are relevant to and in support of the allegations shall be appended to the complaint.

RULE 5. Initial Examination of the Complaint by the Committee

A. Within thirty (30) days of the assignment of the complaint by the Speaker, the Committee shall determine if it is in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules, and whether on the face of the complaint, the allegations contained therein are within the jurisdiction of the Committee, and if so, whether the allegations merit proceeding to a preliminary hearing. The complainant shall not act as a member of the Committee at a hearing in which the complainant is likely to be called as a necessary witness. A respondent shall not act as a member of the Committee for purposes of his complaint.

B. Complaints determined not to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules shall be returned to the complainant with a general statement that it is not in compliance with the Rules of Procedure. The complaint may be resubmitted in the proper form.

C. Once a determination has been made that the complaint complies with Rule 4 of these Rules, a majority of the Committee appointed shall vote by roll call to either:

- (1) Defer action pending completion of any other administrative, disciplinary, commission, or judicial proceeding;
- (2) Proceed to a preliminary hearing;
- (3) Dismiss the complaint. When a motion to proceed to a preliminary hearing fails on a recorded vote, the complaint shall be immediately dismissed.

D. In determining whether or not to proceed the Committee shall consider the following:

- (1) The credible evidence contained in the complaint or appended thereto of the commission of a crime, misconduct, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office, or other acts violating applicable ethical standards;
- (2) Other administrative or disciplinary action by other interested bodies;
- (3) Criminal investigation, Missouri Ethics Commission proceeding, or judicial proceedings, either civil or criminal; and
- (4) Other relevant circumstances that would justify expediting, declining or deferring action by the Committee.

E. Complaints determined to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules and accepted for a preliminary hearing shall be transmitted to the respondent with a copy of the Rules of Procedure and notice in writing that the respondent has twenty-one (21) calendar days to respond to the complaint either by way of answer or motion pursuant to Rule 6 of these Rules. The complainant shall also be notified, in writing, of the action of the Committee. Examination of the complaint and the determination of Rule 5.C. shall be conducted in a closed meeting.

RULE 6. Answers and Motions

A. If the Committee determines that the complaint merits proceeding to a preliminary hearing, the respondent shall have twenty-one (21) calendar days in which to respond to the complaint by way of answer or motion, unless this time period is waived by the respondent. Any answer or motion shall be in writing, signed by the respondent and his counsel, if he has one, and shall be limited to the following:

(1) An admission or denial under oath, of the allegations set forth in the complaint, including negative and affirmative defenses, and any other relevant information, including supporting evidence which the respondent may desire to submit. Failure to file an answer within the time prescribed shall be considered by the Committee as a denial of each allegation;

(2) An objection to the jurisdiction of the Committee to investigate the complaint; or

(3) An objection to the participation of any member of the Committee in an investigation of the complaint on the grounds that the member cannot render an impartial and unbiased decision in the case. The majority of the members present shall rule on the objection to the participation of any member of the Committee. A temporary replacement shall be made to serve on the Committee on Ethics for all actions concerning a particular complaint for any member of the Committee who is prevented from acting on a complaint under these rules.

B. Any motion submitted pursuant to this rule is not in lieu of an answer and shall be accompanied by a memorandum of points and authorities. Answers or motions not submitted within the twenty-one (21) calendar-day period shall not be considered by the Committee.

C. The Chairman of the Committee shall pass upon such motions as soon as practicable and notice of the decision shall be furnished to the respondent and the complainant. A motion to quash a subpoena shall be decided by the Chairman of the Committee.

D. Time limitations imposed by this Rule may be extended when, in the discretion of the Chairman, such extension would facilitate a fair and complete inquiry and may be shortened when the Chairman determines that there are special circumstances compelling expedition, and upon twenty-four (24) hours notice of said action to the respondent and the claimant.

E. In the event that a special counsel is retained by the Committee, the attorney-client privilege is applicable to the Committee and not to the House.

RULE 7. Preliminary Hearings

A. A preliminary hearing may be held to hear arguments based on the pleadings submitted in the case. The preliminary hearing shall be an open meeting. The committee shall provide the complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent an opportunity to present, orally or in writing, a statement, which shall be under oath or affirmation, regarding the allegations and any other relevant questions arising out of the pleadings. A complainant or respondent who is represented by counsel shall not be questioned in the absence of counsel unless an explicit waiver is obtained.

B. The committee shall require that testimony be given under oath or affirmation. The form of the oath or affirmation shall be: "Do you solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony you will give before this Committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth (so help you God)?" The oath or affirmation shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths. Members of the committee shall be given an opportunity to question the complainant and respondent or counsel for the complainant or respondent following the opening statements.

C. At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing, a majority of the Committee shall vote by roll call to either:

(1) Dismiss the complaint, or

(2) Proceed by

- (a) undertaking an investigative hearing; or
- (b) deciding the case based upon the preliminary hearing.

A decision based upon a preliminary hearing shall require the consent of the respondent.

D. If the committee decides to make a summary decision of the case and the respondent accepts this disposition the Committee may, by a majority vote, recommend one of the following sanctions:

- (1) Letter of reproof;
- (2) Reprimand; or
- (3) Censure.

RULE 8. Investigative Hearings

A. An investigative hearing may be held on the record to receive evidence upon which to base findings, conclusions, and recommendations, if any, to the House. The Committee may require, by subpoena or otherwise, or by subpoena duces tecum, the attendance and testimony of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, correspondence, memorandums, papers and documents as it deems necessary. The Committee may obtain a court-issued subpoena in the event that any person refuses to obey the subpoena issued by the Committee.

B. Prior to setting a hearing date and issuing subpoenas for witnesses, the Committee shall resolve the scope and purpose of the hearings. A copy of this statement of scope and purpose shall be furnished to all witnesses. During the course of the hearings the Committee may expand or contract the scope in light of evidence received.

C. The order of the investigative hearing shall be as follows:

- (1) The Chairman shall open the hearing by stating the Committee's authority to conduct the investigation, the purpose of the investigation and its scope.
- (2) The complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent shall be permitted to make opening statements. Such opening statements shall not exceed fifteen minutes each.
- (3) Testimony from witnesses and other evidence pertinent to the matter under investigation shall be received in the following order:
 - (a) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the complainant;
 - (b) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the respondent;
 - (c) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the Committee staff; and
 - (d) Rebuttal witnesses.
- (4) The Chairman or his designee shall examine each witness. The Committee members may then question the witness. The respondent or his counsel may then cross-examine the witness. Redirect or recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman's discretion. With respect to witnesses offered by the respondent, a witness shall be examined first by the respondent or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the complainant or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the Chairman or his designee. Committee members may then question the witness. Redirect and recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman's discretion.

D. Testimony of all witnesses shall be taken under oath. The form of the oath shall be: "Do you solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony you will give before this Committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth (so help you God)?” The oath shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths.

RULE 9. Admissibility of Evidence

A. The object of the hearings shall be to ascertain the truth. Any evidence that is relevant and probative shall be admissible, unless privileged or unless the Constitution otherwise requires its exclusion. Objections going only to the weight that should be given to evidence will not justify its exclusion.

B. The Chairman or other member presiding shall rule upon any question of admissibility of testimony or evidence presented to the Committee. The Chairman or other member presiding may limit the presentation of repetitious evidence. Rulings shall be final unless reversed or modified by a majority vote of the Committee members present.

C. At an investigative hearing, the burden of proof is on the complainant with respect to each count to establish the facts alleged therein clearly and convincingly by the evidence that he introduces.

RULE 10. Witnesses

A. A subpoena to a witness shall be served sufficiently in advance of his scheduled appearance to allow him a reasonable period of time, as determined by the Committee, to prepare for the hearing and to employ counsel should he so desire.

B. Except as otherwise specifically authorized by the Chairman, no member of the Committee or staff shall make public the name of any witness subpoenaed by the Committee before his scheduled appearance.

C. Witnesses at investigative hearings may be accompanied by their counsel for the purpose of advising them concerning their constitutional rights and to raise objections to procedures or to the admissibility of testimony and evidence. Counsel for a witness other than the respondent shall not be permitted to engage in oral argument with the Committee. After a witness has testified, his counsel may submit to the Committee, in writing, any questions he wishes propounded to his client and any request for additional witnesses or other evidence. Such request may be granted in the discretion of the Committee.

D. The respondent may apply to the Committee for the issuance of subpoenas for the appearance of witnesses or the production of documents on his behalf. The application shall be granted upon good cause shown by the respondent that the proposed testimony or evidence is relevant and not otherwise available. The application shall be denied if not made at a reasonable time or if the testimony or evidence would be merely cumulative.

E. The respondent is entitled to present witnesses in his behalf. However, the Chairman may limit such testimony when, in his discretion, he finds the testimony is repetitious or cumulative.

F. Each witness subpoenaed by the Committee shall be reimbursed for those reasonable expenses approved by the Committee.

G. Each witness shall be furnished a printed copy of the Rules of Procedure and the pertinent provisions of the Rules of the House applicable to the rights of witnesses.

H. Within ten (10) calendar days before the scheduled investigative hearing, the Chairman shall notify the respondent, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear before the Committee. Within five (5) calendar days before the scheduled investigative hearing, the respondent shall notify the Committee, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear in his behalf. Additional witnesses may be brought before the Committee, in the discretion of the Chairman or other member presiding and upon good cause, if their whereabouts or existence were unknown to the respondent at the time for submission of the witness list to the Committee.

RULE 11. Findings, Conclusions and Recommendations

A. At the completion of the preliminary hearing or investigative hearings, the Committee, by a majority vote of its members, shall, within forty-five (45) days, adopt a report stating its findings and conclusions on the complaint. The report shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the House and shall be printed in the House Journal. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is not well-founded, the report shall so state, and shall include a copy of a Letter of Reprimand if the Committee authorized such sanction. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is well-founded, the report shall state the Committee's recommendation in a resolution appended thereto.

B. The resolution shall state the Committee's findings and conclusions on each allegation in the complaint with the recommendation that the House:

- (1) Expel the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution;
- (2) Punish the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution, by reprimand on the adoption of the resolution, or by censure by the Speaker in open session; or
- (3) Take no further action, stating the reasons therefor.

RULE 12. Matters Not Covered in These Rules of Procedure

The Rules of Procedure of the United States House of Representatives Committee on Standards of Official Conduct of the 110th Congress shall be taken as guidelines in deciding questions, issues, and other matters not otherwise provided for in these Rules of Procedure, except that the Rules of the Missouri House of Representatives governing the party representation on committees shall apply to this Committee.

Dear Mr. Crumbliss,

Pursuant to Chapters 105.452 to 105.461, RSMo, this letter is an official report that I am an investor and President of Integrated Government Solutions. While this company has no contracts that are current or pending with the State of Missouri, nor do we have any submitted bids with the State of Missouri, I do want to make it known that the company is licensed to do business in this State.

Dear Chief Crumbliss:

This is to advise you that my employment is as "contract partner" to the law firm of Armstrong Teasdale LLP. I have no ownership in this firm, and the fees earned by other attorneys in the firm do not impact my salary.

There are well over three hundred attorneys in this firm, many of which may represent parties with an interest in proposed legislation. In the majority of these cases, I will not even be aware of this representation, as clients of my employer exceed thousands and change daily. I have become aware that some attorneys in my firm provide some legal representation to utilities that may be impacted by decisions made by the Missouri General Assembly. The representations exist in several states and change rapidly, so the identification of each attorney/client relationship cannot be specific.

To the extent that a particular piece of legislation directly impacts an entity, that I know to be a client of my firm, in a manner different than it impacts other similarly situated entities within that industry, I will abstain from voting on the proposal.

Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

/s/ John J. Diehl, Jr.

Re: Possible Personal Interest in Legislation

Dear Mr. Crumbliss:

Pursuant to Section 105.461, RSMo, I am hereby filing a written report of a possible personal interest in legislation on which the House of Representatives may vote during the legislative session. I have invested in an agriculture value-added cooperative from which I have received a new generation cooperative incentive tax credit and from which I may be eligible to receive new generation cooperative loan guarantees. I do not have more than a ten percent interest in the cooperative.

In compliance with Section 105.461, please publish this letter in the Journal of the House.

I thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely yours,

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWELFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

The scriptures record that the fear of the Lord teaches wisdom and humility before honor.

Holy God, we thank You for the ability to draw near to You through prayer. You promised to guide us as we humble ourselves before You. You declare truth and insight to us as we listen and respond to You.

Today, Heavenly Father, we ask that You would empower us to put aside all pride and self-interest as we acknowledge who You are and what You wish to accomplish through us.

Equip us and give us the confidence to meet the challenges of this high calling as representatives of this state.

The doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Laura Denvir Stith, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri. Chief Justice Stith was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais where she delivered the following message to the assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

Chief Justice Laura Denvir Stith

Introduction

President Kinder, President Pro Tem Shields, Speaker Richard, my fellow Supreme Court judges, Treasurer Zweifel, Auditor Montee, Attorney General Koster, other elected officials and my fellow citizens: I am truly honored to appear before you again to discuss the state of Missouri's judiciary.

The people of Missouri envisioned that the leaders of all three branches of our government would swear the same oaths to uphold Missouri's constitution and then work together as constitutional partners in serving the citizens of Missouri. Our constitution establishes distinct but interrelated roles for the judicial, legislative and executive branches. In this, my last year as chief justice, I have directed many of my efforts toward identifying more clearly the constitutional mission of the judicial branch and determining how best that mission can be accomplished. This task has taken on even greater urgency in light of the worsening economic forecast.

In evaluating the role of the judicial branch in our constitutional partnership, the place I naturally began is the people's law: our constitution, which, in article I, imposes certain requirements on the judiciary. Section 14 mandates "That the courts of justice shall be open to every person" Section 10 ensures that every person whose life, liberty or property is threatened receives "due process of law." Section 2 specifies that all persons are entitled to equal rights and opportunity under the law. If we do not work together to secure these rights for our citizens, then, as the constitution itself states (article I, section 2), our government "fails in its chief design." These and other overarching constitutional principles have led me to identify four strategic missions of our legal system:

- (1) Ensuring equal and affordable access to justice for all our citizens;
- (2) Providing a fair, unbiased and impartial forum for resolving disputes;
- (3) Effectively and efficiently administering our courts; and
- (4) Enhancing the public's trust and confidence in the justice system and, indeed, the whole government.

All of us in the judiciary strive each day to accomplish these missions. But we cannot do it alone. We will succeed only if we continue to collaborate with you, our constitutional partners. Together, we must encourage continued innovation as we face new and different challenges; we must learn to enhance our services while being more efficient; and we always must keep in mind that any path we choose should continue us toward the kind of open, responsive courts the constitution shows our citizens envisioned.

Implementing a strategic vision for Missouri's courts

Collaboration has been the foundation of our government, since the drafting of our constitution. The Missouri Constitution was not the work of just legislators - it evolved - and continues to evolve - through the collaboration of officials from all branches of government and ordinary citizens alike, with a healthy respect for tradition combined with an openness to new ideas.

Missouri's courts have adopted this same approach by reaching out to others as we seek to fulfill our constitutional duties. We know it is not enough for courts simply to do things as they always have done. Especially in the midst of these difficult economic times, we must focus not just on weathering the storm but on using our resources even more efficiently, and we cannot be afraid to ask the difficult questions that drive us toward an improved judiciary. Indeed, the challenges we face today make planning for tomorrow more essential now than ever before.

Some of you will remember that my colleague Mike Wolff helped initiate this process a few years ago by making Missouri the first judiciary in the nation to invite the American Bar Association to conduct a critical review of how well Missourians believe their courts are serving them. The report reassured us that the courts are doing their job very well. We were rated favorably on our professionalism, the quality and tenure of our judges, and our basic unified structure. Our ongoing plan for the use of information technology also was well received. The report also identified a few areas in which further progress must be made - such as adequately funding public defenders and streamlining case procedures.

To better address these and other challenges, the courts must recognize that we cannot simply force all modern problems to fit old judicial molds - we must look at the needs of our citizens and businesses today and ensure that the courts evolve to meet them. As a key part of that effort, I have invited those with the most contact with our legal system - lawyers, judges, court staff and others - to join me in using an open-ended "brainstorming" tool to help us identify ways in which we can make Missouri's courts even better. Their responses have been very helpful and insightful.

But I do not want to stop there. I want your input as well, for I am confident you will have additional insights, drawn from your own experience or that of your constituents, about how our courts can better serve Missouri today and in years to come. In the next few days, the Court will e-mail your office this short brainstorming tool. I know you all are busy and to say "you've got mail" is an understatement, but I ask that you take a moment to look at this tool and please share any ideas you have for us. With your ideas and those already suggested, I will prepare a more formal strategic initiative that will outline some of the programs that, in both the short and long term, will move us toward fulfilling our four missions. We will share this strategic document with you once it is completed in the coming weeks.

In the meantime, we will deliver to you this afternoon a pocket-sized brochure with basic facts about the judiciary as well as an electronic document outlining our key legislative issues for 2009. I will spend the remainder of my remarks this morning touching on key aspects of these issues. Together, we can build on the solid foundation we already have and forge an even better justice system for the future. Our citizens deserve nothing less.

Ensuring equal and affordable access to justice

The first mission of the judiciary is to ensure equal and affordable access to justice for all Missourians - no matter their color or creed or ability to pay. We can do no less if we are to fulfill the promise of Missouri's constitution (article I, section 2) that all our citizens "are entitled to equal rights and opportunity under the law." This is one of our most critical challenges.

Much good work already is being done to advance this mission. In Kansas City, for example, the municipal court and city prosecutors run a program through which lawyers provide free legal assistance to homeless veterans who are arrested on municipal violations. Usually the veterans are asked to perform community service in lieu of fines. Lawyers in other Missouri cities also participate each year in a law day when they provide free legal advice to those who need help; lawyers in the Springfield area do this on a monthly basis.

Programs like these have sparked people to suggest that we implement statewide "veterans courts" or dockets overseen by judges who understand the unique problems and needs presented by some former members of the military. Other suggestions involve ways we can streamline procedural requirements in complex civil cases such as major labor and business disputes. Along with business leaders throughout our state, we recognize that the prompt resolution of these cases is essential for Missouri's economic engine to work, let alone to grow. Likewise, we must identify those litigants whose needs we can serve more efficiently in simple civil cases such as foreclosures and even traffic infractions, so that equal access is provided to all litigants, no matter the worth of their case.

I also am proud to tell you that we are seeking to make justice more affordable for all our citizens by expanding the use of teleconferencing and videoconferencing. We already use videoconferencing in some of our juvenile courts to enable parents whose children have been required to be placed far away to see their children and communicate with them on a regular basis. In addition, some courts - such as those in the St. Joseph area - use videoconferencing for criminal arraignments and juvenile dockets as well. The Court believes that expanding this technology could save the state money on staffing and transfer of judges to hear cases in areas where dockets are crowded. At the same time, it would make available to additional litigants quick, direct access to justice while eliminating much of their travel costs.

I have asked a group of knowledgeable judges and clerks to make recommendations - by the end of the current fiscal year - for the best ways to use this technology. Their leader will be a former trial judge with nearly two decades of experience representing all sorts of clients throughout northwest Missouri in all sorts of cases.

I am speaking of my newest colleague, Judge Zel Fischer, whose intelligence, experience and enthusiasm already have made Zel - as he much prefers to be called - an excellent addition to the Supreme Court. He is an extremely devoted family man, and his affable and easy-going manner is obvious to anyone who spends time with him. I am certain that you will come to like him; in fact, I don't know anyone who has met him who doesn't like him. Judge Fischer - Zel - will you please stand?

Public Defender Crisis as an Aspect of Access to Justice

One critical challenge, however, continues to be our ability to deliver equal and affordable access to justice in criminal matters. One measure of a society's justice system is how well it handles the worst of citizens who come before it. Well, I hope there are other measures too, because of all states with statewide public defender systems, Missouri ranks dead last in per capita funding of public defenders. This affects not just the defendant whose trial is delayed. It sometimes means that justice is delayed or denied for the victims of crime, who watch in frustration as evidence or witnesses disappear and stress increases.

There is a serious public safety aspect of the public defender crisis as well. The federal constitution guarantees defendants both speedy trials and competent legal counsel. The inadequate number of public defenders, however, puts in question the state's ability to meet either of these requirements. In short, if not corrected, defendants potentially could be set free without going to trial. The United States Supreme Court has said that it is presumptively prejudicial for a criminal defendant in state courts to have to wait more than eight months for trial where the delay was caused by the prosecutor. But, just two weeks ago the United States Supreme Court heard an appeal suggesting that it is also the state's fault if gross underfunding causes public defenders to ask for continuances. Victims' advocates have expressed very understandable concern this could result in vast numbers of criminals being set free because their public defenders were unable to take them to trial soon enough. Missouri does not want to find itself in the position of other states, such as Indiana, Montana and Washington, that were faced with the possibility of releasing prisoners or lawsuits from the ACLU if they did not fix their public defender crises. It also does not want to be like Louisiana, where the legislature had to seek a bailout from Congress for the public defender program to avoid releasing hundreds of prisoners.

Much work already is being done in Missouri to try to stave off problems like these. In the city of St. Louis, last year - for the first time in recent memory - more criminal cases were disposed of than were filed. How did they do it? Judges, private attorneys, and attorneys from the public defender's and circuit attorney's offices collaborated; our state courts administrator's office offered technical assistance in expediting case handling; and a method allowing for quicker disposition of criminal cases was established.

And in Springfield, the bar spearheaded a cooperative effort within the local legal community to recruit and train private attorneys to handle probation revocation cases where there are no other charges pending. Just six months after the program was born, more than 40 lawyers have volunteered, most of whom have received training and have begun taking cases. The public defender's office says this is making a real difference in caseloads there. We are hoping to draw on Springfield's expertise and replicate its cooperative program elsewhere in Missouri this year. Crista Hogan and Brian Hamburg, who have been intimately involved in that effort, braved the ice and snow to be here today. I ask you both to stand so we all can recognize you for your cooperation, innovation and success.

Even the most drastic of volunteer efforts, however, is not nearly enough. That is why working with you to find creative solutions to remedy the worsening situation in Missouri's public defender system is one of our key priorities this legislative session. We believe a substantial additional state commitment of resources is necessary, but that simply is not possible without the support of those of you in this room. I am confident that together, we can find ways to ease these burdens, comply with federal law, and enhance equal - and affordable - access to justice for all.

Providing fair, unbiased and impartial forums for resolving legal issues

Citizens in civil and criminal cases require more than just equal and affordable access to our legal system, though. They also expect - and deserve - our courts to be fair, unbiased and impartial forums, for the Missouri Constitution (article I, section 14) promises that a "certain remedy [be] afforded for every injury to person, property or character, and that right and justice shall be administered without sale, denial or delay." Fulfilling this promise also is one of the missions of the Missouri Judiciary.

In our focus on providing an unbiased and impartial forum to resolve disputes, we have found that some types of cases simply do not fit well within a traditional court framework. These cases can be handled better by looking for innovative solutions, such as the drug courts and other specialized "problem-solving" approaches now offered in most of our counties. These specialized dockets make the processing of such cases more efficient and best utilize the expertise of those who work on them - they serve as alternatives to imprisonment for generally non-violent offenders whom the judge believes have a real chance of turning their lives around if they receive serious, court-supervised treatment, oversight and mentoring.

I talked with you last year about the success of our drug courts and of the Greene County DWI court in making positive changes in the lives of participants and their families at a fraction of the cost of prison. These programs make our communities safer, because those who graduate from these courts are far less likely to reoffend than are those who are sent to prison.

A new and effective use of the treatment court model involves reintegration dockets, which reduce recidivism by placing offenders released from prison into intensive programs where they are taught the skills they need to readjust to life in their communities. The program requires random drug tests; regular meetings with a probation officer; frequent support group and treatment sessions; and maintaining employment. A judge monitors the participants' behavior and can send them to jail or back to prison if they fail to comply. One reintegration success story is that of Larry Goodman, who, for much of his adult life, did not think he had a drug or alcohol problem despite frequent arrests while intoxicated. In 2007, instead of being released directly into the community to make his own way, he entered Boone County's new reintegration program under the supervision of Judge Christine Carpenter. Now, as Mr. Goodman puts it: "I am living a life like I have never lived before, a life without drugs and alcohol ... Everything is brand new." Mr. Goodman and Judge Carpenter, would you please stand and be recognized?

These innovative approaches are not limited to the criminal field. The courts and local mental hospitals in St. Joseph and the city of St. Louis have developed programs that allow civil commitment hearings to be held by videoconference without the patient or the doctor ever leaving the hospital. This allows cases to move more quickly, saves time and money, is less stressful and more dignified for the patient, and enhances public safety by eliminating the risk of escape during transport. Ron Dittmore of Heartland Health was instrumental in setting up the program in St. Joseph - a decision driven by economic necessity but that has great long-term effects well beyond the financial benefit. Mr. Dittmore, would you please stand and be recognized for your fine work?

I hope you will have other suggestions for helping our courts fit the kinds of cases brought before them, rather than trying to force unique cases into a one-size-fits-all traditional court structure.

Efficiently administering justice

Assuring that our citizens receive an unbiased forum to resolve their disputes dovetails with the third mission of Missouri's judiciary: to administer our courts efficiently and effectively. We view all our efforts to improve the efficiency within the judicial branch as part of the constitutional guarantee to our citizens of "due process of the law."

Many who have participated in our brainstorming exercise have praised our efforts to move cases more expeditiously. Three years ago, based in part on the Commission on Children's Justice's recommendations, we implemented time standards for certain hearings in child abuse and neglect cases. I am proud to announce that, last fall, we honored 25 judicial circuits for conducting at least 95 percent of these hearings within the requisite time frames and another dozen circuits for doing so in 100 percent of their hearings. You should be proud of the judges and staff in all these circuits for this wonderful progress.

Court technology is another area in which we have worked to make our system meet the needs of those we serve. Case.net, which provides public case information to anyone with an Internet connection, is only the tip of the iceberg. We recently completed our statewide case management system, allowing Missouri's courts to work with almost every department in the state - as well as several government entities nationwide - to ensure prompt access to critical judicial information. For instance, transmitting criminal and traffic disposition information in near real time gets licenses of dangerous drivers revoked quickly and helps residential care facilities ensure their employees' backgrounds make them appropriate to work with children or the elderly. In the coming year, we are working to send warrants and full orders of protection electronically to law enforcement, giving them this critical information as quickly as possible. As a next step, we are working with the Office of Administration to solicit bids from vendors for e-filing, which would allow litigants to submit and retrieve court documents from remote locations and after hours, reducing costs, saving time and allowing for greater access to filings.

For us to continue providing these critical services, however, we need continued legislative commitment to court technology. Most importantly, we need you to reauthorize the $7 filing fee paid by those who file cases. Although it funds one-third of the court system's technology needs, this fee is one of the lowest in the nation for this purpose, and it is scheduled to sunset this year. But without it, we literally would go back to pencil and paper in some places and could not sustain the kind of information sharing that public safety and efficiency require.

This also is important to the state's bottom line, for if we could not maintain our statewide case management system, we would not be able to continue our efforts to collect monies owed to the state and her citizens. For example, in the four years since the judiciary and the legislature worked together to create the tax-offset and debt-collection programs, Missouri courts have captured for the state more than $8.4 million. This is just a small part of the tens of millions of dollars the judiciary collects each year that is earmarked for general revenue or other funds the state administers. In fiscal 2008, this amounted to $40.6 million. This money - which goes to schools and state and local governments - can play a small, but key, part in alleviating some of the burden these difficult financial times are placing on all our government institutions.

We look forward to working with you to maintain the positive economic impact on the state that court technology has. We also look forward to your ideas for other ways to increase the courts' efficiency.

Increasing public trust and understanding

I began by emphasizing our roles as constitutional partners. This partnership is established by the Missouri Constitution (article II, section 1), which provides our basic compact with the people: "The powers of government shall be divided into three distinct departments - the legislative, executive and judicial ..." and that no persons in one branch "... shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others"

Over the past few years, those of us in the legal community have been collaborating to explain the checks and balances of these three co-equal yet interdependent branches of government as a part of our fourth mission: enhancing the public's trust and confidence in their whole government. I firmly believe that as our citizens increase their understanding of the role and workings of the judiciary and the other branches of government, their already high level of confidence in the judicial system, and their level of confidence in all parts of their government, only will improve.

This is an important tie that binds us all: a deep-rooted desire to serve the citizens of this great state and to see justice brought to those who need it.

As a part of expanding the public's understanding of the judicial role, judges and lawyers are volunteering to teach in schools on Constitution Day and in government classes. Just last week, I took part in a citizenship video program that will be shown to thousands of middle- and high-school students in which I explained the concepts underlying our constitutional democracy. We also are collaborating with The Missouri Bar and others to enhance the public's understanding of the justice system by expanding the judicial performance evaluations that Judge Mike Wolff suggested two years ago and that the Bar instituted last fall to give voters better information about judges up for retention.

Conclusion

In conclusion, I want to reiterate how important it is that we all continue our joint commitment to a well-run judiciary. Our justice system is one leg of the three-legged stool that represents the system of governance our constitution establishes. I never will forget the difficulties inherent in your role, and I look forward to your input in the coming weeks and months as we in the courts continue to develop strategic initiatives for an even better and stronger justice system. And let us all - regardless of the branch of government in which we serve - be guided by a legal principle enshrined above the door of the red brick Supreme Court building - "The law: It has honored us. May we honor it." The citizens of Missouri deserve - and expect - no less.

Thank you.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Engler.

Speaker Richard resumed the Chair.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 29, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richard in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Blessed are You, Lord, God of mercy! By Your power and Your love, You have created all people equal, and You have an equal love for all — the poor and the weak, the successful and the strong.

Give us a share of Your concern for all the people as we take up the work before us.

Send down Your blessing upon our Governor, the men and women of the Missouri Senate, and all in this House of Representatives, all devoting themselves to helping others. Give them extraordinary ability to work together in this time of extraordinary need. Grant them the holy experience of faithfully serving You as they serve the people of our State.

We praise You and ask these blessings upon our work; for You are our God, forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Let those who are wise understand what is written. Let those with discernment listen carefully. The paths of the Lord are true and right, and righteous people live by walking in them. . . (Hosea 14:9)

All-knowing God, before You all things are laid bare and every detail, whether large or small, is known. All praise and glory goes to You, O mighty God, for Your omniscience and omnipotence before the greatest and least of the leaders of our nation and state.

Lord, we ask You today, to help us to be persons of impeccable integrity. May we not use our authority for inconsequential means or ill-advised intent, but instead to recognize and revere the responsibility that has been given to us. May we recognize this responsibility as a divine trust given by You. Cause us to be wise and proper stewards of our positions, and keep us from the influences that could so easily ensnare us in dishonesty.

Now may You comfort our hearts with all comfort, and help us in every good thing we say and do.

We ask these things, in the name of Your Son. Amen.

(Excerpts from 77 Days of Prayer)

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

We praise and thank You, Almighty God, for the energy and alertness stirred in us by the cold air as we came to work this morning.

We pray for those who did not come to work today because their job has come to an end or because they have been out of work for a long time. Guide us to work effectively to find jobs for all the people in our State.

We pray for those who suffer in the cold this morning, because of their poverty or inability to provide for themselves.

In our work, give us the ability to listen and study until we learn what is truly best for the common good.

We praise You, Almighty God, forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Tom Ostertag and Lauren Kalina.

The Journal of the fourteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SIXTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, we find in the scriptures that You are able to make every grace abound to us, so that in every way, always having everything we need, we may excel in every good work. (2 Corinthians 9:8)

Almighty God, You know all things, and nothing is hidden from You – even the deepest intentions of our hearts. Your knowledge and authority rule over all the affairs of life, and Your ways govern over all our ways.

We thank You for providing more than we are able to provide; giving us more than we ever need. There is no limit to Your provision or to Your ability, so let Your grace blanket us; granting us the ability to legislate well. Generously give us more than we expect and allow us to abound with Your wisdom and direction so that we can make wise choices as we serve.

Now may You, Lord, comfort our hearts and establish us in every good word and work.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

(Portions from 77 Days of Prayer)

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kjia Zuroweste.

The Journal of the fifteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

PERFECTION OF HOUSE BILL

HB 191, with HCS, relating to job development, was taken up by Representative Flook.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt resumed the Chair.

Representative Flook offered House Amendment No. 1.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 191, Section A, Page 1, Line 4, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"99.1090. 1. A municipality shall submit an application to the department of economic development for review and determination as to approval of the disbursement of the project costs of one or more redevelopment projects from the downtown revitalization preservation fund. The department of economic development shall forward the application to the commissioner of the office of administration for approval. In no event shall any approval authorize a disbursement of one or more redevelopment projects from the downtown revitalization preservation fund which exceeds the allowable amount of other net new revenues derived from the redevelopment area. An application submitted to the department of economic development shall contain the following, in addition to the items set forth in section 99.1086:

(1) An estimate that one hundred percent of the local sales tax increment deposited to the special allocation fund must and will be used to pay redevelopment project costs or obligations issued to finance redevelopment project costs to achieve the objectives of the redevelopment plan. Contributions to the development project from any private not-for-profit organization or local contributions from tax abatement or other sources may be substituted on a dollar-for-dollar basis for the local match of one hundred percent of payments in lieu of taxes and economic activity taxes from the fund;

(2) Identification of the existing businesses located within the redevelopment project area and the redevelopment area;

(3) The aggregate baseline year amount of state sales tax revenues reported by existing businesses within the redevelopment project area. Provisions of section 32.057, RSMo, notwithstanding, municipalities will provide this information to the department of revenue for verification. The department of revenue will verify the information provided by the municipalities within forty-five days of receiving a request for such verification from a municipality;

(4) An estimate of the state sales tax increment within the redevelopment project area after redevelopment. The department of economic development shall have the discretion to exempt smaller projects from this requirement;

(5) An affidavit that is signed by the developer or developers attesting that the provision of subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of section 99.1086 has been met;

(6) The amounts and types of other net new revenues sought by the applicant to be disbursed from the downtown revitalization preservation fund over the term of the redevelopment plan;

(7) The methodologies and underlying assumptions used in determining the estimate of the state sales tax increment; and

(8) Any other information reasonably requested by the department of economic development.

2. The department of economic development shall make all reasonable efforts to process applications within a reasonable amount of time.

3. The department of economic development shall make a determination regarding the application for a certificate allowing disbursements from the downtown revitalization preservation fund and shall forward such determination to the commissioner of the office of administration. In no event shall the amount of disbursements from the downtown revitalization preservation fund approved for a project, in addition to any other state economic redevelopment funding or other state incentives, exceed the projected state benefit of the redevelopment project, as determined by the department of economic development through a cost-benefit analysis. Any political subdivision located either wholly or partially within the redevelopment area shall be permitted to submit information to the department of economic development for consideration in its cost-benefit analysis. Upon approval of downtown revitalization preservation financing, a certificate of approval shall be issued by the department of economic development containing the terms and limitations of the disbursement.

4. At no time shall the annual amount of other net new revenues approved for disbursements from the downtown revitalization preservation fund exceed fifteen million dollars.

5. Redevelopment projects receiving disbursements from the downtown revitalization preservation fund shall be limited to receiving such disbursements for twenty-five years. The approved term notwithstanding, downtown revitalization preservation financing shall terminate when redevelopment financing for a redevelopment project is terminated by a municipality.

6. The municipality shall deposit payments received from the downtown revitalization preservation redevelopment fund in a separate segregated account for other net new revenues within the special allocation fund.

7. Redevelopment project costs may include, at the prerogative of the state, the portion of salaries and expenses of the department of economic development and the department of revenue reasonably allocable to each redevelopment project approved for disbursements from the downtown revitalization preservation fund for the ongoing administrative functions associated with such redevelopment project. Such amounts shall be recovered from new state revenues deposited into the downtown revitalization preservation fund created under section 99.1092.

8. A redevelopment project approved for downtown revitalization preservation financing shall not thereafter elect to receive tax increment financing under the real property tax increment allocation redevelopment act, sections 99.800 to 99.865, and continue to receive downtown revitalization financing under sections 99.1080 to 99.1092.

9. The department of economic development may establish the procedures and standards for the determination and approval of applications by the promulgation of rules and publish forms to implement the provisions of this section and section 99.1092.

10. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section and section 99.1092 shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section, section 99.1092, and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly under chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2005, shall be invalid and void."; and

"or within the same municipality"; and

Further amend said bill, Section 620.1892, Page 25, Line 10, by striking the word "tech" from said line and inserting in lieu thereof the word "technology"; and

"Section B. Because immediate action is necessary to create job growth in the state of Missouri section A of this act is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, welfare, peace, and safety, and is hereby declared to be an emergency act within the meaning of the constitution, and section A of this act shall be in full force and effect upon its passage and approval."; and

(7) If the proposed BEST district is not fully contiguous, the proposed district is sufficiently geographically cohesive to ensure that the district will feel and function as a fully contiguous district. Separation of real property by any roadway, whether public or private, or any public right of way, shall not disrupt the contiguous nature of such real property for purposes of this section. Any otherwise non-contiguous real property shall be deemed contiguous with the other real property in the proposed district if the governing body determines that inclusion of the non-contiguous real property would further the municipality's goals in establishing the district, as set forth in the ordinance establishing the district under subsection 1 of this section.

4. Prior to a municipality's establishment of a BEST district and adoption of a BEST plan and one or more BEST projects under subsection 1 of this section, the governing body shall hold a public hearing.

5. (1) Notice of the public hearing required by subsection 4 of this section shall be given by:

(a) Publication. Notice by publication shall be given by publication at least twice, the first publication to be not more than thirty days and the second publication to be not more than ten days prior to the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation in the area of the proposed development;

(b) Mailing.

(2) The notices issued under this section shall include the following:

(c) A statement that all interested persons shall be given an opportunity to be heard at the public hearing;

(d) A description of the proposed BEST plan or BEST project and a location and time where the entire plan or project proposal may be reviewed by any interested party; and

(e) Such other matters as the governing body may deem appropriate.

(3) Notice by mailing shall be given by depositing such notice in the United States mail by certified mail addressed to the person or persons in whose name the general taxes for the last preceding year were paid on each lot, block, tract, or parcel of land lying within the proposed BEST district. Such notice shall be mailed not less than ten days prior to the date set for the public hearing. In the event taxes for the last preceding year were not paid, the notice shall also be sent to the persons last listed on the tax rolls within the preceding three years as the owners of such property.

(4) Notice by mailing shall also be given not less than forty-five days prior to the date set for the public hearing to all taxing districts from which taxable property is included in the BEST district, and in addition to the other requirements under paragraph (a) of subdivision (1) of this subsection, the notice shall include an invitation to each taxing district to submit comments to the municipality's governing body concerning the subject matter of the hearing prior to the date of the hearing.

6. Following a municipality's establishment of a BEST district and adoption of a BEST plan and one or more BEST projects under subsection 1 of this section, the "BEST revenues", as defined in subsection 8 of this section, estimated for the businesses within the BEST district and identified by the municipality in the BEST plan adopted by the municipality, shall be available for appropriation by the general assembly from the general revenue fund to the department of economic development for distribution to the treasurer or other designated financial officer of the municipality.

7. The treasurer or other designated financial officer of the municipality shall deposit BEST revenues received from the department of economic development in a segregated fund known as a "BEST Projects Financing Fund". The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund. In accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180, RSMo, the state treasurer may approve disbursements. Upon appropriation, money in the fund shall be used solely for the administration of this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the biennium shall not revert to the credit of the general revenue fund. The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the fund in the same manner as other funds are invested. Any interest and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the fund.

8. For purposes of this section, "BEST revenues" means:

(1) Half of the incremental increase in the general revenue portion of state sales tax revenues received under section 144.020, RSMo, excluding sales taxes that are constitutionally dedicated, taxes deposited to the school district trust fund in accordance with section 144.701, RSMo, sales and use taxes on motor vehicles, trailers, boats and outboard motors and future sales taxes earmarked by law. In no event shall the incremental increase include any amounts attributable to retail sales unless the municipality or authority has proven to the Missouri development finance board and the department of economic development and such entities have made a finding that the sales tax increment attributable to retail sales is from new sources which did not exist in the state during the baseline year. The incremental increase in the general revenue portion of state sales tax revenues for an existing or relocated facility shall be the amount that current state sales tax revenue exceeds the state sales tax revenue in the base year as stated in the BEST plan; and

(2) The state income tax withheld on behalf of new employees by the employers under section 143.221, RSMo, at the businesses located within the project as identified in the BEST plan. The state income tax withholding allowed by this section shall be the municipality's estimate of the amount of state income tax withheld by the employers within the BEST district for new employees who fill new jobs created in the BEST district.

9. No transfer under subsection 6 of this section from the general revenue fund to the department of economic development shall be made unless an appropriation is made from the general revenue fund for that purpose. No municipality shall commit any BEST revenues prior to an appropriation being made for particular BEST projects.

10. The initial appropriation of BEST revenues authorized under subsections 6 and 7 of this section shall not be made to or distributed by the department of economic development to a municipality until the director of the department of economic development or his or her designee have approved a BEST plan and projects that have been approved by a municipality under subsection 1 of this section, and that call for capture of BEST revenues for the benefit of the BEST plan and projects. The director of economic development or his or her designee shall approve a BEST plan and projects if they find that:

(1) The estimated dates, which shall not be more than twenty-five years from the adoption of the municipal ordinance approving a BEST project within a BEST district, of completion of any BEST project and retirement of obligations incurred to finance BEST project costs have been stated, provided that no ordinance approving a BEST project shall be adopted later than ten years from the adoption of the ordinance approving the BEST plan under which such project is authorized;

(2) BEST revenues do not exceed fifty percent of the total BEST project costs;

(3) Municipal funding, including funding from entities affiliated with the municipality, such as economic development corporations, will provide funds for the BEST project that constitute at least ten percent of the BEST eligible project costs and will be available to the BEST project within ten years following establishment of the BEST district;

(4) At least one higher education institution, including, but not limited to universities, colleges, and community colleges, has committed to having a significant physical presence in the BEST district, and plans to offer educational resources in the BEST district such as classrooms, curriculum, dedicated faculty, graduate students, and defined partnerships with target industry clusters; and

(5) The BEST plan and projects are financially feasible and would result in a net benefit to the state.

11. BEST revenues deposited in the BEST projects financing fund established by the municipality under subsection 7 of this section shall be used to directly pay for BEST eligible project costs or to provide reimbursement for BEST eligible project costs incurred either prior to or after the BEST district is established under this section, and shall include costs related to:

(1) Formation of a BEST district, drafting a BEST plan, and designing BEST projects, including but not limited to reasonable fees of architects, engineers, attorneys, and consultants, and any other reasonably related costs;

(2) Acquisition of land within the boundaries of the BEST district, including but not limited to associated surveyor costs, title related fees, legal fees, brokers' fees, feasibility studies, and other due diligence;

(3) Extension, expansion, and construction of all infrastructure serving the BEST district, including, but not limited to, water services, storm and sanitary sewers, electrical services, roads, sidewalks, and any public amenities;

(4) Developing public buildings and parking, including site preparation and construction; and

(5) Any other costs related to attracting private investment and creating new jobs within the BEST district.

12. Following the initial appropriation of BEST revenues under subsections 6 and 7 of this section and continuing until termination of the BEST district, the municipality shall annually submit a report to the department of economic development which shall provide an update of the BEST projects' timetables, status of municipal funding and other funding sources, including, but not limited to, the number of jobs created, the annual payroll, and the public and private capital investment in the BEST district.

13. This section shall not preclude the implementation of any other type of public incentives, including tax increment financing under sections 99.800 to 99.865, RSMo, community improvement districts under sections 67.1401 to 67.1571, RSMo, and transportation development districts under sections 238.200 to 238.280, RSMo.

14. The development of any BEST project, appropriations of BEST revenues under this section for such BEST project, and the retirement of obligations incurred to finance such BEST project shall not continue more than twenty-five years after a municipality's adoption of such BEST project by ordinance under subsection 1 of this section; provided that, no ordinance approving a BEST project shall be adopted later than ten years from the adoption of the ordinance approving the BEST plan under which such project is authorized.

15. (1) "Qualifying motor vehicle", any new self-propelled vehicle not operated exclusively upon tracks, except farm tractors, that is assembled and sold in this state on or after January 1, 2009;

(2) "Tax credit", a credit against the tax otherwise due under chapter 143, RSMo, excluding withholding tax imposed by sections 143.191 to 143.265, RSMo, or otherwise due under chapter 147, 148, or 153, RSMo;

That portion of earned tax credits which exceeds the taxpayer's tax liability may be carried forward for up to five years. The aggregate of all tax credits authorized under this section shall not exceed [five hundred thousand] one million dollars in any taxable year.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Blessed are You, Almighty God! We thank You for the bright sunshine and for the comfort of this day. May our work today and always honor You by remaining anchored to the foundation of justice.

Justice and judgment are the foundation of your throne;
Kindness and truth go before you.
(Psalm 89:15)

We pray for Your grace and clarity of thought to discern what is just as we go about our work today. We pray for all those in positions of power and authority, that they give as much attention to what is just as to what is legal. In this way, may their work and our work honor You and truly serve the people.

We pray to You, our God forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kelli Douglas, Haley Anderson, Kyle Skinner, Betsy Bouldin, Ariana Calderaro, Macklin Frederick, Donnie Harn, Amanda Lewis, Lance Smith, Nathan Sparks, Jami Stanford, Ryan Thoroman, Brittney Van Winkle, Megan Wellman and Ella Rainier Hollis.

COMMITTEE REPORT

Special Standing Committee on Children and Families, Chairman Davis reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Special Standing Committee on Children and Families, to which was referred HR 294 and HR 212, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass with House Committee Substitute.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE RESOLUTION NOS. 294 & 212

WHEREAS, the 111th United States Congress is considering the Freedom of Choice Act, which purports to classify abortion as a "fundamental right", equal in stature to the right of free speech and the right to vote - rights that, unlike abortion, are specifically enumerated in the United States Constitution; and

WHEREAS, the federal Freedom of Choice Act would invalidate any "statute, ordinance, regulation, administrative order, decision, policy, practice, or other action" of any federal, state, or local government or governmental office, or any person acting under governmental authority that would "deny or interfere with a woman's right to choose" abortion, or that would "discriminate against the exercise of the right...in the regulation or provision of benefits, facilities, services, or information"; and

WHEREAS, the federal Freedom of Choice Act would nullify any federal or state law "enacted, adopted, or implemented before, on, or after the date of its enactment" and would effectively prevent the State of Missouri from enacting similar protective measures in the future; and

WHEREAS, the federal Freedom of Choice Act would invalidate more than 550 federal and state abortion-related laws, laws supported by the majority of the American people; and

WHEREAS, the federal Freedom of Choice Act would specifically invalidate the following commonsense protective laws properly enacted by the State of Missouri:

- (1) A parental consent law for minors seeking an abortion;
- (2) A prohibition on government funding or use of public facilities for abortions;
- (3) Health and safety regulation for abortion facilities;
- (4) A twenty-four-hour waiting period and informed consent law that provides an opportunity to consider the gravity of a decision to abort a child;
- (5) A partial birth abortion ban (Infant's Protection Act);
- (6) A requirement that only physicians can perform or induce abortions and that such physicians maintain medical malpractice insurance;
- (7) Conscience protections for doctors and hospitals not wanting to perform or induce abortions;

(8) A prohibition on performing or inducing abortions in order to use fetal organs or tissue for transplantation or experimentation;

(9) Licensing of most abortion clinics as ambulatory surgical centers to ensure basic health and safety of patients;

(10) Alternatives to abortion programs to encourage and support women who do not want abortions; and

WHEREAS, the federal Freedom of Choice Act will not make abortion safe or rare, but will instead actively promote and subsidize abortion with federal and state tax dollars and will do nothing to ensure its safety; and

WHEREAS, the federal Freedom of Choice Act will protect and promote the abortion industry, endanger women and their health, promote a political ideology of unregulated abortion-on-demand, and silence the voices of Americans who want to engage in a meaningful public discussion and debate over the availability, safety, and even desirability of abortion:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly, hereby strongly oppose the federal Freedom of Choice Act and urge the United States Congress to summarily reject it; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri House of Representatives strongly opposes the federal Freedom of Choice Act because:

(1) It seeks to circumvent the states' general legislative authority as guaranteed by the 10th Amendment of the United States Constitution;

(2) It seeks to undermine the right and responsibility of the states and the people to debate, vote on, and determine abortion policy; and

(3) The protection of women's health through state regulation on abortion is a compelling state interest that should not be nullified by Congress;

(4) Its enactment would nullify laws in the State of Missouri that the Missouri General Assembly and the people of Missouri strongly support; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Barack Obama, President of the United States; the Majority Leader and Minority Leader of the United States Senate; the Majority Leader and Minority Leader of the United States House of Representatives; each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation; and the Clerk of the United States House of Representatives and the Secretary of the United States Senate with a request that the resolution be printed in the Congressional Record.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, scriptures confirm to us this truth: When we call upon You, You'll answer us....(Psalm 91:15)

Sovereign God, You are high and lifted up, yet You invite us to come and speak with You; even to hear You. We praise You for being an approachable and inviting God who makes good on every promise in Your Word. Thank You for extending Your hand to us in our frailties and weaknesses, revealing to us Your power and presence.

As we begin our work today and look to the week ahead, may we honor and acknowledge You in every part of our dealings. There may be many plans in our hearts, but it is only Your purpose that prevails. May we turn to You on calm and troubled days alike, always consulting You and one another concerning important legislative actions.

We thank You for the sufficiency of Your grace and the freshness of Your mercy showering us throughout this week.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventeenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINETEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

We thank You, Almighty God, for the warm air today; it is a preview of spring and a promise of savings in fuel dollars.

We pray for our Nation and for all the people in it, especially for the unemployed and for all who live in fear of losing their livelihood.

We pray for our President. Inspire him to seek the wisdom of the Holy Spirit in his deliberations and his decisions.

May Your Holy Spirit instill in us the gift of wisdom that we might be at our best in our work this day, as we serve the people of our State.

We praise You, Almighty God, for Your concern for all the people. For You are our Father, forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Troy Martin and Reed Hartupee.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTIETH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richard in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Phillip McClendon, Calvary Baptist Church, Joplin, MO.

Our Father, we praise You for Your love that embraces us and gives us security, Your joy that uplifts us and gives us resiliency, Your peace that floods our hearts and gives us calmness, Your Spirit that fills us and gives us strength and fortitude.

Guide us, Lord, so we can maximize the hours of this week. Help us to think clearly without confusion, to speak without resentment, to debate without division and to decide courageously without strife. May our speech honor You and deal with issues and not personalities. Grant these representatives Your grace to work this week as the honorable men and women who love You and count it a high privilege to serve, as leaders of our beloved Nation. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kaylee Marie Scrivner, Wilber Song, Eric Pasewark, Josh Bressler, Oliver Reed, Alyssa Seidel, Kade Franks, Josh Paulson, Louie Edelen and Tucker Dyke.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Representative Nieves in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

*(Today is the two hundredth birthday of Abraham Lincoln.
A prayer attributed to him will be our prayer this morning.
It applied to his day and is appropriate for ours also.)*

God bless our native land;
Firm may she ever stand
Through storm and night;
When the wild tempests rave,
O Ruler of wind and wave,
Thou Who art strong to save,
Be Thou her might!

For her our prayer shall be,
Our father's God, to Thee,
On Whom we wait;
Be her walls, holiness -
Her rulers righteousness,
In all her homes be peace,
God save the State!

Not for this land alone,
But be God's mercies shown
From shore to shore
And may the nations see
That men should brothers be,
And form one family
The wide-world o'er.

(Amen)

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twentieth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, we acknowledge this truth: It is good and more pleasurable when we abide together harmoniously! (Psalms 133:1)

Lord God, You know our hearts and discern our motives in ways we cannot know. You are wise and good and truthful in all things, and You bring together that which can easily be torn apart. You love unity and You are a holy personification of what You desire for all human relationships.

Today we ask that You bring a harmony of purpose to this assembly. Give us unity in all we do, from establishing state policy to respect for each other. Let us experience a pleasure we did not anticipate and a joy we could not experience if we were divided and disagreeable.

Cover us with Your complete protection, not only in our travels, but in our day to day activities.

These petitions are placed before You, in the name of Your Son. Amen.

(Excerpts from 77 Days of Prayer)

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

(We have just considered the education of children, and we will again.)

We praise and thank You, Almighty God! You are Father of all, and You call us to be Your sons and daughters. We pray for our sons and daughters and for the children of all parents across our state.

Guide us to do what is right and what will be effective so that all children might have a good education. We pray that all children receive an education that helps them develop intellectually, morally and physically, allowing them to get good jobs and become responsible citizens.

We pray for their parents. Help them establish homes of love, security and stability, that nurture their children in the virtues and good values intended by You, Almighty God, our God forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-second day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richard in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord, our God, how majestic and glorious is Your name throughout the earth! You have covered the heavens with Your majesty. (Psalms 8:1)

Holy God, I praise You, this day, for Your authority and power which govern the affairs of mankind. Thank You for looking on us with compassion and mercy; calling us to seek what is just and right on behalf of all the citizens of this state.

May we each seek Your will as we decide the causes and concerns to which we will give our time, energy and attention. Guide us to the issues of greatest importance and may we consider and discuss them with wisdom so that Your will can be accomplished in our efforts.

May this prayer of ours be near You, Lord God, day and night, that You may maintain the cause of Your servant and the cause of the people we serve as each day may require.

This prayer is humbly spoken to You, in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Cora Elizabeth Skaggs.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richard in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Gary Shaw, Central Christian Center, Joplin, Missouri.

Heavenly Father,

As I stand in Your presence, in this beautiful hall of honor, my heart is filled with admiration and appreciation for the men and women who have occupied this place throughout history to represent the people of the great State of Missouri.

I pray Your divine wisdom, Your unbiased judgment and Your gracious love into each of these who have chosen to give a portion of their very valuable life to the service of the citizens of our state.

May they draw from Your fountain of knowledge and from Your storehouse of fair play, as they administer and create legislation that governs our state.

Bless those whose families have been separated because of their service and grant them Your loving protection.

Father, instill in all of us respect, honor, and a love for life and liberty that will allow us to serve with pride and dignity at all levels of local, state, and national government.

This day may Your presence fill this room and may this great body set aside personal agendas, pet projects, political bias and handle the affairs of our state in a prudent manner.

In these days of concern for our state and national economic welfare, let us not operate in fear, but help us to put on the shield of faith and to face the challenges before us with a determination that we will succeed and prosper, because we operate not in our strength, but under Your providential and divine order.

In Christ's name I pray, Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Orlando Hodges, Whitney Paul, Kristin Sanocki, Sam Meeks, Cameron Sullivan, Thomas Tobinson and Ellen Matheny.

The Journal of the twenty-fourth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richard in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Awesome God, how great and majestic You are! All You have made reflects Your foresight and complexity. We cannot comprehend the greatness of it all! Glory and honor and praise to You, O Mighty God! You are Lord of all things both large and small.

Heavenly Father, we are grateful for the many blessings You have showered on us as individuals, as a state and as a nation. As we look to You for answers to the questions that plague us, be the sure foundation for our times and provide us a rich store of wisdom and knowledge.

May You guide us by Your knowledge, strengthen us in our convictions, bind us with honesty and integrity, and keep us in Your truth. May all we do be pleasing in Your sight.

Now may You, the God of patience and comfort, grant us to be like-minded toward one another as we tackle the duties and responsibilities of this week.

This prayer is presented to You, in the name of Your Son. Amen.

(Excerpts from 77 days of prayer)

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4

WHEREAS, dogs play an important role in the lives of many Missouri citizens by serving as companions, therapy dogs, and service dogs; and

WHEREAS, it is recognized that dog related problems are most often caused by irresponsible owners; and

WHEREAS, responsible dog ownership is encouraged in Missouri and responsible owners should properly control and provide adequate training for their dogs; and

WHEREAS, Canine Good Citizen programs identify and officially recognize those dogs who behave as members in good standing with the community; and

WHEREAS, the Canine Good Citizen Program which was developed by the American Kennel Club teaches pet owners that dogs should exhibit "good citizen" behaviors in the presence of other people and animals, in both the home and the community; and

WHEREAS, children and adults of all ages participate in Canine Good Citizen classes to learn the skills involved in responsible dog ownership; and

WHEREAS, with dog bites and animal concerns on the rise, there is a real need for dogs to remain well-behaved canine community members:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby encourage dog training programs and kennel clubs to provide training and education for community pet owners that result in dogs being "Canine Good Citizens".

Special Standing Committee on Urban Issues, Chairman Hoskins (80) reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Special Standing Committee on Urban Issues, to which was referred HB 116, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass, and pursuant to Rule 25(32)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 552

WHEREAS, on February 4, 2009, the Governor submitted a Reorganization Plan to the General Assembly which would transfer postsecondary education assistance programs from various state departments to the Department of Higher Education; and

WHEREAS, Sections 26.500 to 26.540, RSMo, enacted in 1967, authorize the Governor to reorganize executive departments without prior approval from the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, as set forth in Section 26.510, RSMo, a reorganization plan submitted to the General Assembly becomes effective 90 days after the final adjournment of the session of the General Assembly which it is submitted, unless it is disapproved within 60 days of its submission by adoption of a resolution by one house of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, unless the proposed Reorganization Plan contained in Executive Order 09-09 is disapproved by the General Assembly by April 5, 2009, the proposed Reorganization Plan will become effective August 28, 2009; and

WHEREAS, Executive Order 09-09 states that the proposal to transfer postsecondary education assistance programs from various state departments to the Department of Higher Education "will improve efficiencies within state government, as the Department of Higher Education already administers the vast majority of state grants and scholarships"; and

WHEREAS, transferring all postsecondary education assistance programs to the Department of Higher Education will not achieve the efficiency improvements within state government as proposed by the Reorganization Plan; and

WHEREAS, a change of this significance should not be undertaken without a full hearing in committee and debate of the full House of Representatives; and

WHEREAS, the postsecondary education assistance programs currently administered by state departments other than the Department of Higher Education are designed to target specialized areas such as the A+ Schools Program, the Missouri Teacher Education Scholarship Program, the Missouri Minority Teaching Scholarship Program, and the Urban Flight and Rural Needs Scholarship Program administered by the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education; the Large Veterinary Student Loan Program administered by the Department of Agriculture; and the Minority and Underrepresented Environmental Literacy Program administered by the Department of Natural Resources; and

WHEREAS, these programs are best served through administration by the state department with the expertise and experience in working within the specialized areas targeted by such programs; and

WHEREAS, the various state departments administering postsecondary education assistance programs have demonstrated success in matching students with the various scholarship and assistance provided by these specialized programs; and

WHEREAS, transfer and centralization of these specialized assistance programs to the Department of Higher Education may actually have the unintended consequence of inefficient administration of the financial assistance provided by these programs which would likely result from the Department of Higher Education's insufficient expertise and experience in the specialized areas needed to successfully and efficiently match and award assistance to students:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, First Regular Session, that the Reorganization Plan issued by Governor Jay Nixon on February 4, 2009, and read in the House on February 4, 2009, be disapproved; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Governor Jay Nixon.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Rules, to which was referred HR 736, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 736

WHEREAS, a new federal law aimed at protecting children from lead in toys has also forced a nationwide halt in sales of off-road motorcycles and recreational vehicles built for young riders, halting a multimillion-dollar industry that was thriving despite the recession; and

WHEREAS, on February 10, 2009, the new Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act (CPSIA) requirements that limit the lead content in all children's products went into effect; and

WHEREAS, under the CPSIA, "children's product" means a consumer product designed or intended primarily for children 12 years of age or younger; and

WHEREAS, youth model all-terrain vehicles (ATVs) and off-highway motorcycles, as well as parts and accessories for youth ATVs and motorcycles are severely impacted by the new lead limits established under the CPSIA; and

WHEREAS, over 50,000 U.S. citizens have requested through www.tomself.com alone that a letter be sent on their behalf to the Consumer Product Safety Commission voicing their concerns on this small powersports issue; and

WHEREAS, there are many other ongoing efforts which are receiving a large volume of responses from citizens similarly concerned with this small powersports issue; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the CPSIA, thousands of powersports dealers were told to halt all sales of vehicles designed for children 12 and younger, new and used; and

WHEREAS, the Motorcycle Industry Council estimates nearly 100,000 youth bikes were sold in the United States in 2008. An industry trade publication estimates the value of inventory at United States dealers which can no longer be sold probably exceeds $100 million; and

WHEREAS, beyond the current inventory, there are millions and millions of dollars worth of parts now in the product pipeline to dealers that cannot be sold; and

WHEREAS, the industry estimates the retail market value for all off-road cycles and ATVs at $14.5 billion a year, including sales, service, parts, accessories, and payroll; and

WHEREAS, consumers have borrowed significant amounts of money on untold hundreds of thousands of youth ATVs and motorcycles; and

WHEREAS, parts for these youth ATVs and motorcycles are now unavailable, which in many cases renders the ATV or motorcycle inoperable or not safely operable; and

WHEREAS, if parts are not readily available, owners and operators may be tempted or forced to go beyond normal maintenance and repair guidelines, resulting in an improperly performing machine; and

WHEREAS, some machines may require some wear parts to be replaced in as little as 10 hours of use and operators may try to operate improperly sized units if properly sized units are not readily available; and

WHEREAS, the Consumer Product Safety Commission needs to take a common sense approach to implementation of the CPSIA's lead provisions in order to avoid major disruptions to youth ATV and motorcycle enthusiasts, owners, manufacturers, and the dealer network of thousands of small, independent businesses which employ tens of thousands of Americans; and

WHEREAS, while protecting children from those products that truly present a lead risk is important, there should be a waiver or exclusion for products that do not present risk to children; and

WHEREAS, while the CPSIA provides for exclusions and authorizes the Consumer Product Safety Commission to grant exclusions under certain conditions, to date the Consumer Product Safety Commission has not granted any exclusions for youth ATVs and motorcycles; and

WHEREAS, any delay in providing a waiver or exclusion for youth ATVs and motorcycles creates an untenable situation for thousands of owners, manufacturers, and dealers, many of whom are small businesses. Huge inventories of products that present no health risk to children are rendered retroactively illegal, and future products are prohibited from sale; and

WHEREAS, a waiver or exclusion for youth ATVs and motorcycles is needed because, in the absence of government action, there likely will not be any new youth ATVs or motorcycles available for purchase in their local dealerships and owners will not be able to obtain parts for youth ATVs and motorcycles already purchased:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, strongly urge the Consumer Product Safety Commission to provide a waiver or exclusion for youth ATVs and motorcycles from the lead limit requirements of the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Consumer Product Safety Commission, the Congressional committees of the United States House and Senate with oversight of the Consumer Product Safety Commission, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richard in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Awesome God, You see all and You know all! You rule over history and time, yet You are neither bound nor governed by them. We praise You because You are sovereign and You know both the beginning and the end and Your will shall be accomplished.

The discernment of Your will, Lord, is a challenging thing for anyone, but is especially necessary for leaders. As we seek You in prayer and through Your Word, make Your will obvious for each and every situation. Give us an unquenchable need to discern and carry out what You desire for our state. Guide us, this day, through sound counsel, open dialog, insightful interaction and composed responses.

We pray that You, Sovereign God, the source of hope, will fill us completely with joy and peace as we put our trust in You.

This prayer is humbly spoken to You, in the name of Your Son. Amen.

(Portions from 77 Days of Prayer)

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Sarah Schumann, Donna Sharpe, Kelsey Brown, Jennifer Carlin, Katie Topel, Kayla McKenzie and Emily DeTienne.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richard in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Dew and rain bless the Lord;
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
(Daniel 3:68)

O Lord, our God, we praise and thank You for the warmer air and the other signs of Spring.

We ask You to help us work together wisely in this Assembly, especially in this year of having to get by with less.

We pray for those whose jobs seemed secure last year, but now find themselves out of work.

We pray for those who are reduced to lining up at food pantries and other "help centers".

We pray for the ability to accomplish the negotiations and make the decisions that help the people make a good living using their talents and that provide support for those so disabled they cannot work.

Help us live up to the great trust the people have placed in us.

We praise You, our God forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Shane Patrick Powers.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTIETH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 2, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Holy God, as we come before You in prayer, we are quick to acknowledge Your power and might. We praise and glorify You for Your extraordinary patience and love and thank You for Your faithfulness to us as a state and nation.

Lord, as we stand in Your presence, we are forced to recognize our shortcomings, but also the great potential You have placed in each of us. Forgive us when we fall short of that and grant us the strength to move forward into each new day with renewed purpose and expectation. May we embrace the challenges before us this week, with wisdom, as You cause us to see clearly Your destiny for us as a state and as a people. Your grace is sufficient for us.

Now may You, the Lord of peace, give us peace always in every way. The Lord be with us all.

I ask these things on behalf of us all, in the name of Your Son. Amen.

(Excerpts from 77 Days of Prayer)

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-ninth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative James Morris.

Gracious Lord, we give You hearty thanks for this new day filled with possibilities.

We thank You for our freedoms, and for the blessings You have heaped upon us. Help us to fulfill the responsibilities that come with these blessings. The responsibility to do all the good we can, by all the means we can, in all the ways we can, in all the places we can, at all the times we can, for all the people we can, as long as ever we can.

Grant, O God, that Your Holy and life-giving spirit may so move every heart, especially the hearts of this General Assembly, that barriers which divide us may crumble, suspicions disappear and hatreds cease; that our divisions be healed. Remind us that You said in Your Word: How good and pleasant it is when we live together in unity.

To this end forgive us for being so focused on partisan issues and ideology that we have become less concerned for others.

So give us wisdom beyond our experiences for the tasks of our office in Your Holy name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Timothy Hummel, Isaac Parker, Clara Parker, Lizzie DeJoie, Emma Gough and Zack Jost.

The Journal of the thirty-first day was approved as corrected.

Further amend said section, Page 7, Line 224, by inserting after all of said section the following:

“13. The physician who is to perform or induce the abortion or a qualified professional shall provide the woman with the opportunity to view an active ultrasound of the unborn child and hear the heartbeat of the unborn child if the heartbeat is audible. The woman shall be provided with a geographically indexed list maintained by the department of health and senior services of health care providers, facilities, and clinics that perform ultrasounds, including those that offer ultrasound services free of charge. Such materials shall provide contact information for each provider, facility, or clinic including telephone numbers and, if available, web site addresses. Should the woman decide to obtain an ultrasound from a provider, facility, or clinic other than the abortion facility, the woman shall be offered a reasonable time to obtain the ultrasound examination before the date and time set for performing or inducing an abortion. The person conducting the ultrasound shall ensure that the active ultrasound image is of a quality consistent with standard medical practice in the community, contains the dimensions of the unborn child, and accurately portrays the presence of external members and internal organs, if present or viewable, of the unborn child. The auscultation of fetal heart tone must also be of a quality consistent with standard medical practice in the community.”; and Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and passed SCR 2.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 2

Relating to recognition of October 3rd as Science Day

WHEREAS, in 2006, more than 100 schools, science learning centers, and city and state leaders made the first ever Science Day in the heartland a big success; and

WHEREAS, governors from Illinois, Tennessee, and Missouri have previously proclaimed October 3rd as "Science Day"; and

WHEREAS, it is absolutely fitting and proper to designate a special day to raise public awareness of the importance of science education; and

WHEREAS, such an important designation could raise enthusiasm for science and technology learning; and

WHEREAS, a solid educational foundation based on the sciences have inspired individuals to develop breakthrough cures for all types of disease, provide awareness about the importance of taking care of our environment, and create modern conveniences which better the lives for each one of us:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby recognize October 3rd of each year as Science Day in Missouri; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate and the House of Representatives encourage citizens throughout Missouri to observe this day by honoring teachers in their community and by recognizing the importance of science in the classroom; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to send properly inscribed copies of this resolution to the Governor for his approval or rejection pursuant to the Missouri Constitution.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 5.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 5

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri contains 553 miles of the Missouri River, which borders 23 Missouri counties and over 50 Missouri communities, making it one of the State's greatest natural resources; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly supports this natural resource as a vital link in the State of Missouri's total transportation system and wishes to maximize this valuable asset in order to move freight and to support our state's economy; and

WHEREAS, barge transport allows for significant economic benefits and cost savings, since one barge can transport the same amount of freight as 15 railcars or 60 trucks; and

WHEREAS, river transportation is the most environmentally friendly form of transporting goods and commodities, creating almost no noise pollution and emitting 35 to 60 percent fewer pollutants than either trucks or trains; and

WHEREAS, barges are also the most fuel efficient method of freight transport, barges can move one ton of cargo 576 miles per gallon of fuel, compared to 413 miles per gallon of fuel for railcars and only 155 miles per gallon of fuel for trucks; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly recognizes that the State of Missouri is investing more of its resources to develop and improve public ports in the state, including those on the Missouri River; and

WHEREAS, the Flood Control Act of 1944, as amended, expresses the United States Congress' intent to support inland waterway navigation and to provide flood control on our nation's rivers; and

WHEREAS, the June 4, 2003, August 16, 2005, and February 8, 2008, decisions of the United States Court of Appeals of the Eighth Circuit held that navigation was a dominant function of the Flood Control Act of 1944; and

WHEREAS, navigation on the Missouri River is operated in accordance with the updated Master Manual, which contains the management plan for the River and was adopted by the United States Army Corps of Engineers in 2004; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly recognizes that the United States Army Corps of Engineers utilized extensive public processes to complete the 2004 Master Manual and worked to balance the needs and desires of many competing stakeholder groups in establishing the Manual's navigation guidelines; and

WHEREAS, the 2004 Master Manual was finalized after 15 years of debate and litigation and after the expenditure of over $35 million in federal funds; and

WHEREAS, the 2004 Missouri River Master Water Control Manual reduced the length of the navigation season, shifting a large amount of water away from navigation and other downstream uses of the Missouri River to benefit upstream uses, such as reservoir recreation; and

WHEREAS, the upstream states have requested that the United States Army Corps of Engineers conduct a study to reexamine the authorized purposes of the Missouri River reservoir system as outlined in the 1944 Flood Control Act; and

WHEREAS, the study requested by the upstream states would be the first of its kind, because it would scrutinize the authorized purposes of the Missouri River reservoir system rather than studying the current Missouri River Master Water Control Manual, thereby undermining the Manual's management plan for the Missouri River; and

WHEREAS, in requesting this study, the upstream states are seeking an additional shift in water to upstream states, despite Congress' authorization of downstream uses of Missouri River water, including navigation; and

WHEREAS, increasing Missouri River water in upstream states will have a significant, negative impact upon Missouri and other downstream states by impacting navigation, power generation, flood control, and drinking water availability; and

WHEREAS, eighteen power plants, which have the capacity to generate over 11,000 megawatts of electricity, draw cooling water from the lower Missouri River basin, and the viability of those power plants would be jeopardized if the authorized purposes of the Missouri River reservoir system were changed; and

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri has constructed infrastructure to support water supply and power generation in the lower Missouri River basin with the understanding that reliable navigation flows would be maintained in the future, and this study could threaten the reliability of those navigation flows; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly believes that all of the congressionally authorized uses of the Missouri River should be promoted, not just those uses benefitting the upstream states:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress to deny any request that would authorize a study of the Missouri River's congressionally authorized purposes; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge Missouri's Congressional delegation to actively oppose the authorization and funding of the Missouri River study proposed by the upstream states; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the United States Army Corps of Engineers and to each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 8.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8

WHEREAS, horse processing is the most tightly regulated of any animal harvest, and the horse is the only animal that has its transportation to processing regulated. If horse processing plants are forced to close and export options are eliminated, the Horse Welfare Coalition estimates that 90,000 to 100,000 unwanted horses annually would be exposed to potential abandonment and neglect; and

WHEREAS, the 90,000 to 100,000 additional unwanted horses each year would compete for adoption with the 32,000 wild horses that United States taxpayers are already paying $40 million to shelter and feed; and

WHEREAS, the nation's inadequate, overburdened, and unregulated horse rescue and adoption facilities cannot handle the influx of the approximately 60,000 or more additional horses each year that would result from a harvesting ban, according to the Congressional Research Service; and

WHEREAS, many zoo animal diets rely on equine protein because it mimics what the animal would receive in the wild. Veterinarians and animal nutritionists say it is the healthiest diet for big cats and rare birds. If legislation shuts down horse processing facilities, the only source for this meat that is inspected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) will be eliminated:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress to strongly support the continuation of horse processing in the United States and to offer incentives that help create horse processing plants throughout the United States, such as state-inspected horse harvest for export; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri General Assembly strongly encourage Congress to support new horse processing facilities and the continuation of existing facilities on both the state and national level; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri General Assembly urge Congress to oppose any legislation introduced in the 111th Congress that would restrict the transportation and processing of horses in the United States and internationally; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri General Assembly support the location of USDA-approved horse processing facilities on state, tribal, or private lands under mutually-acceptable and market-driven land leases and, if necessary, a mutually-acceptable assignment of revenues that meet the needs of all parties involved with the facility; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and the members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 16.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 10, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

(Today is the 133rd anniversary of the invention of the telephone.)

Let us pray, first by listening to one of the Proverbs:

"Listen to counsel and receive instruction, that you may eventually become wise." (Proverbs 19:20)

Almighty God, we thank You for the assistance provided us by the creative genius of the human mind and by the world of technology.

Today, we pray for the ability to listen well and hear with an understanding mind and with an unbiased mind that we might discern what is true, resolve conflict and build harmony, reduce division and increase unity.

Throughout the time we are in session, during committee hearings and as we communicate with others who come into our presence, may we be able to listen well.

We pray to You, O Lord, our God forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ben Reifschneider, Autumn Williams, Amanda Vollmer, Josie Plowman, Michael Kleekamp, Kailee Foster, Mary Parsons, Andrew Baker, Bailey Kitchell, Nikolas Clifton, Paris Kirksey, Brittney Brooks, Xavion Trussell, Janae Bradley, Brady Douglass and Trevor Douglass.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richard in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, You have instructed us in Your Word that in whatever we do, to work at it with all our heart, as working for You, not for men....(Colossians 3:23).

In light of this, Lord God, we acknowledge Your wisdom and kindness and that You have placed in us a desire to govern on behalf of our state. Thank You for blessing the work of our hand and the fruit it brings. Whether we labor with our hands, our hearts or our minds, we labor unto You, to whom, ultimately, all glory is due.

We are a people in need of guidance. We humbly ask You, today, to grant us wisdom, understanding, skills and gifting to serve effectively. We bring to the planning table, all the ideas, intellect, abilities and vision You fashioned in each of us. May the final product provide thoughtful solutions that are pleasing to You and beneficial to the state as a whole.

Now may You, Lord God, show us Your way and direct our path as we finish out this week. Grant us safe passage as we travel home for Spring break, rest and invaluable time with family and friends.

I ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Dalton Schwanke, Madi Tucker and Christiana Argilagos.

The Journal of the thirty-sixth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 95th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 2009

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

O Lord, our God, indeed we give You thanks and praise for all the blessings in our lives.

This morning, we thank You for the approach of Spring Break: a time to reflect upon the themes of our work, a time to listen to those we represent, a time to celebrate life with our families.

We ask Your blessing upon all those who assist us, especially those who must work during much of the break.

We pray for those who are suffering in the economic recession we endure, and for all for whom Spring Break is not a break.

We give You thanks, Almighty God, for the good we have accomplished so far during this 95th General Assembly. We ask for the grace to complete the work of today, and we pray for the safety of all who travel.

We pray to You, our Lord and God forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Margeaux Harris.
